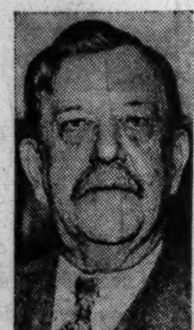
ANGRY HITLER REPLIES TODAY

BILLIONS SPENT TO DECOY VOTES, COTTON ED CRIES

New Deal Assailed; Senate in Uproar.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—[Special.]—The United States senate was thrown into an uproar of protests and screaming personal abuse today when Senator Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.] accused his New Deal colleagues of voting billions of dollars in the guise of relief to buy votes.



Senator E. D. Smith.

The indignant protests of the New Dealers brought no retraction from "Cotton Ed" Smith, an unpurged Democrat of the old school, whose patron saint is John C. Calhoun and not Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I spoke the truth as I saw it, and, God help me, I'll not take it back," Senator Smith shouted. He said he didn't "give a cuss" what the New Dealers thought of him.

Stands By His Charges.

"I would not sacrifice my convictions, I would not sacrifice my feelings, I would not be a mental prostitute for all the gifts of the gods!" he added.

Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.], a vociferous New Dealer, precipitated the riotous scene when he interrupted Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] to attack Senator Smith. Pepper, another New Dealer, was haranguing the senate with propaganda supplied by the Works Progress administration about the hundreds of thousands of WPA workers that would be discharged next week if congress failed to vote the 150 million dollar deficiency appropriation demanded by President Roosevelt.

Minton Starts It All.

Minton interrupted to read some remarks made yesterday by Senator Smith accusing the New Dealers of spending "billions and billions of dollars for no other purpose in the wide world than to make the recipients of their largess remember them on election day."

Senator Smith's mustaches bristled and he chewed vigorously on his tobacco as Minton continued to interrupt with sneering references to the speech he made yesterday. Then Smith emitted the cud, rose slowly, and turned toward Minton.

"I reiterate every word I said in that speech yesterday and in their hearts all men here know that their so called humanitarianism and philanthropy is based on vote getting," Smith said to Minton.

Barkley Rushes to Defense.

Minton's face flushed as he attempted to answer, but Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], the majority leader, already was on his feet bellowing. The suggestion that WPA appropriations are voted with election day in view always infuriates "Dear Alben." Last year he voted against an amendment to prohibit WPA political activity, and in the primary later the WPA in Kentucky was turned into a Barkley political machine, investigation revealed.

"I want to deny that statement and say that so far as I am concerned I have never voted for a dollar to feed and clothe and house the hungry people of this country for the purpose of getting votes," Barkley shouted.

Senators Demand Order.

As Smith and Barkley approached each other, both muttering and waving their arms, a dozen or more senators on the Democratic side shouted for "Order!" Republicans sat back and grinned. The Democrats evidently feared that a free-for-all fight was about to occur. Senator Matthew M. Neely [D., W. Va.], who was in the chair, pounded for order as various senators shouted and rushed to the center of the chamber. When the tumult had subsided, Senator Smith was heard again.

"I knew I would arouse something when I told the truth," he said.

HELPS A FRIEND TO MOVE; ADMITS HE FILCHED CASH

Mrs. Emma Salhanik moved yesterday from 1653 Lowell avenue to 2316 North Western avenue. Three friends helped her. When the job was done she discovered that $30 she had kept in a dresser had disappeared. She notified Cragin police.

Detectives Walter Scully and John Lancaster questioned the three friends. Indeed, they didn't know anything about Mrs. Salhanik's missing $30. The policemen inspected the premises at the old address and discovered some loose dirt in the yard. They found the money buried there.

Policeman Martin Cavanaugh watched the spot. Just before dark last night a man crept to the loose dirt and dug into it hastily. As he scooped out the money Cavanaugh seized him. He was Robert Anderson, 22 years old, 5154 St. Paul avenue, one of the friends who had helped move Mrs. Salhanik. Police said he confessed taking the money.

Green, Kelly Begin Final Vote Drive

PLEAD FOR BIG BALLOT; EACH CLAIMS VICTORY

New Fervor Shown in Last Appeals.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Chicago's mayoral campaign took on new ferver last night. Both political camps opened their final drives to drum out a big vote Tuesday. Both claimed victory is in sight. While precinct workers rang doorbells, batteries of orators dashed from meeting to meeting. Speeches took on new heat.

Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for mayor, renewed his attacks upon the Democratic machine. He said Tuesday's issue is "the people against the payrollers." He spoke at five ward meetings after making a radio talk that gave the signal for Green supporters in every ward to start a two hour drive of telephone and doorbell ringing.

Johnson Goes on Radio.

For Mayor Kelly's camp a nonpolitical radio speech by George E. Q. Johnson, former United States district attorney, was hailed as the outstanding event of the night. Johnson, a Republican, speaking on a crime prevention broadcast, said Chicago is no longer a crime capital and declared that it now leads in crime prevention. For this he gave Mayor Kelly and Police Commissioner Allman much of the credit. Another big Kelly event occurred when Gen. A. F. Lorenzen, manager of State's Attorney Courtney's campaign in the Feb. 28 primaries, took to the air in Kelly's behalf.

Democrats held fourteen rallies for Kelly. Republicans held nineteen meetings for Green in as many wards.

Green accused the Democratic organization of spending huge campaign funds.

Fight Against "Payrollers."

"This is the people's fight against the payrollers," said Green. "Next Tuesday the Kelly pay roll army will be out full force. The machine spent $2,500,000 to get Mr. Kelly nominated. It is spending another $2,500,000 trying to elect him so all the payrollers can go on stuffing taxpayers' money into their pockets.

"The machine is using an age old trick. In its efforts to get out the controled and dominated vote, it is using ruthless force, coercion, regimentation, and intimidation against those on relief, those on WPA and PWA, and even on janitors and other members of the labor union."

Green repeated his charges that the Democrats control the public schools and relief agencies. He blamed the Kelly organization for unemployment as a sequel to high taxes.

Johnson Praises Record.

The speech of former Judge Johnson climaxed a month's Americanization program by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

It was Johnson, who as district attorney, was deemed to have been a big factor in putting Chicago in the lead in crime suppression by directing the successful income tax prosecutions of Al Capone, Ralph Capone, the Guzicks, Terry Druggan, Frankie Lake and other gangsters and politicians. Mr. Green was on the prosecuting staf in these cases, and by some speakers has been given credit for the convictions.

Johnson referred to these prosecutions only once, but that was a clear reference to his own part. Hooked up with it was praise for Mayor Kelly.

No Longer Crime Capital.

"Chicago is no longer a crime capital as charged in the past," Johnson said. "With the prosecutions I directed as your United States district attorney against the Capones and their ilk, the power of the gangs was broken in Chicago. Step by step these predatory forces are being driven back under leadership of an excellent chief of police who has served all the six years Mayor Kelly has been in office.

"Chicago has taken the lead in dealing with the crime problem. What should challenge the interest of every one in Chicago is what is being done to prevent crime. This is vastly important to consider in connection with Youth week.

"It is in crime prevention that Chicago now leads as it once did in crime suppression."

1,259 Doggiest Pooches Pant After Ribbons

BY BOB BECKER.

If you see a grave little poodle in perfectly fitted pants leaving a swank hotel this morning for a waiting taxicab, it's a safe bet that he's going to the 38th annual dog show at the International amphitheater, 42d and Halsted streets.

When the poodle gets to the show he will be one of 1,259 dogs that will be on display there today and tomorrow. By conservative estimate these 1,259 dogs are valued at $500,000—about $400 a dog.

Dog Show Facts.

Unless you are a dog fancier, and well versed in dog shows, it is likely that there are a great many things about this two day show which may surprise you. For instance:

Out of town dogs do not sleep at the amphitheater, but spend the nights in their owners' hotel rooms.

Dogs living in town are taken home to their own kennels each night. Their owners post a bond when they take their own dogs away for the night, to insure that they will bring them back.

Visiting dogs do not drink Chicago water; their owners bring a supply of their home town water.

Use Powder, the Sissies!

White dogs wear powder. It is chalk, put on with a brush or rubbed on with a chalk stick.

Hair cuts for such dogs as poodles are standardized and are not the design of the owners. The long hair left on the upper part of a poodle's leg after the rest is shorn constitutes pants.

Whiskers must be combed forward—never backward.

Haughtiest of the dogs is Pillicoc Rumpelstilskin, a coal black poodle belonging to Mrs. Milton Erlanger of New York. He does not dignify with so much as a bark of affirmation the rumor that Mrs. Erlanger has refused $20,000 for him.

The tiniest dog is the Chihuahua, weight two pounds. The largest is the St. Bernard, weight about 200.

AN M. P. SAYS DEATHS OF FOUR MEN WOULD MAKE EUROPE HAPPY

LONDON, March 31.—(AP) — Maj. Vernon Bartlett, independent member of parliament, expressed belief in a speech tonight that Prime Minister Chamberlain's new foreign policy would "save the world from the idiocy of another world war." Then he added: "We shall not be able to enjoy ourselves until Franco's widow tells Stalin on his deathbed that Hitler has been assassinated at Mussolini's funeral."

MUSIC GOES DOWN AS JOHN BITES INTO OLD RECORD

John Patrick, a junior at the University of Chicago, could not be blamed for humming a few bars from several popular songs last night as he prepared a political science paper. He had just eaten sizable hunks of three phonograph records.

As the music went down and around John said he felt fine. He ate the records, he said, for old Chicago. His feat put the old school back in the scholastic running with Harvard, which has a student who ate 24 goldfish, without tartar sauce, the other morning.

Patrick munched his musical meal in the office of the campus newspaper before a group of gaping coeds. They paled slightly when he nibbled at "Who's Sorry Now?" and gasped as he bit into the meaty strains of "Deep Purple." The third record was "I Get Along Without You Very Well" and everybody except John said they certainly could.

THE FAMILY GOES ON THE AIR WHEN STORK PAYS VISIT

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—(AP)—People for miles around knew today when William Noble, a taxicab driver, became a father.

Noble, an amateur radio operator with a transmitter in his cab, went on the air right away and said: "This is W6JWH. It's a boy!" A lot of amateur operators knew, too, last night when the stork's visit impended. Mrs. Noble, also a radio enthusiast, has a transmitter in her home.

"W6JWH calling W6BPY; Hurry Bill," she broadcast.

Noble sped home and removed his wife to a hospital, where a son weighing 8¾ pounds was born.

Officer Geary Uses His Head; So Does Thief

In the opinion of Policeman Walter Geary, of the Warren avenue station, any burglar can be outsmarted.

"It's as simple as this," he told his fellow policemen several weeks ago. He held up a strange gadget half as large as his fist. It was full of coils and springs, a lever and a small bell.

"A burglar alarm," he explained.

Even Ghosts Would Flee.

As a matter of fact, Policeman Geary had not only one, but seven of the burglar alarms. As his brother officers looked on, he demonstrated how they worked. He attached them to doors and windows in the station. Then he opened the doors and windows. The resulting noise was enough to drive away not only burglars but ghosts.

"With these in a man's home," said Policeman Geary enthusiastically, "he doesn't need a dog or a gun or, indeed, a policeman."

Geary took the seven burglar alarms to his apartment at 1100 Montana street. Two hours later they were installed on front and rear doors and front, side, and rear windows. Geary assured his wife, Arlene, that now their home was burglar proof. That was weeks ago.

Wreckage and Confusion.

Early yesterday morning Policeman Geary and his wife returned home from a party. A scene of wreckage and confusion met their eyes. "Burglars," moaned Geary.

A quick inspection showed that two revolvers, a watch, $10, and other valuables had been taken. Geary rushed from window to door and door to window. He found the seven burglar alarms intact. None had been set off. Then he and Mrs. Geary noticed the transom. It was open and as alarmless as the day it was put in place!

"Smart copper," said Mrs. Geary as she telephoned Police 1313.

Pupils Visit Prison; Send Bad Tidings to Teachers

Bloomingdale, Mich., March 31.—(AP)—Twenty-two Bloomingdale High school seniors who visited southern Michigan prison and mailed postcards to their teachers, were placed on probation today. The cards read: "Having wonderful time; wish you were here."

Court Upsets NLRB Ruling; Asks Fair Play

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday warned the national labor relations board to be fair and reasonable in its rulings. This warning was issued in a decision reversing the board's citation of the Jefferson Electric company of Bellwood for unfair labor practices.

Judge Otto Kerner.

The decision, written by Judge Otto Kerner, also took judicial notice of the controversy between the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor. This, said the opinion, "has brought a distinct cleavage in the American labor movement, dividing labor into warring factions and leaving in its wake unnecessary unrest and strife."

Based on C. I. O. Charges.

The citation against the electric company was entered Feb. 10, 1938. It was based on charges filed by the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, an affiliate of the C. I. O., that the company gave undue assistance to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

The board found that the company had given undue assistance to the A. F. of L. union and directed that a contract with the union be dissolved. It ordered reinstatement of three workers alleged to have been fired because of C. I. O. affiliations.

The company attacked the ruling in the courts as erroneous.

Refutes Board's Case.

The court reviewed the case and said it had found no evidence the company had taken any action to prevent unionization of its employés, to discourage affiliations with the C. I. O. union, or to encourage membership in the A. F. of L. group. On the contrary, the court said, the company had remained strictly neutral.

Turning to the labor board itself, the court reminded it that it should conform to standards of reasonableness and warned that the judiciary is viligant that such bodies adhere to the principle of fair play.

Judges Will H. Sparks and J. Earl Major concurred in the opinion.

Says Wife's Name Calling Raises His Blood Pressure

Milwaukee, Wis., March 31.—[Special.]—When his wife calls him names it raises his blood pressure, Dr. I. Eldred Kress, Wauwatosa dentist, testified in his divorce suit today. Mrs. Kress' counter suit denied this. Her husband stays out nights and tells her he is out studying astrology, she charged. They were married in Chicago in 1926.

NAZIS STORM AT BRITISH PLEDGE TO HELP POLAND

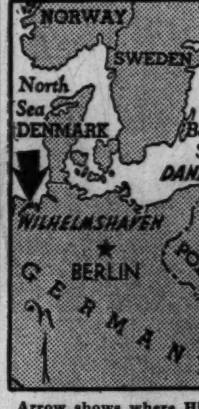
BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 31.—Almost the entire Nazi navy was converging tonight on Wilhelmshaven, Germany's North sea naval base. There the warships will lend an impressive background to Reichsfuehrer Hitler tomorrow when he answers Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech today in the British house of commons. In that speech Chamberlain announced that the British and French governments "would feel themselves bound to lend the Polish government all the support in their power" in event of "any action which clearly threatened Polish independence."



Arrow shows where Hitler will speak today.

Circles close to the German chancellery declare Hitler is infuriated by what he considers "the lack of understanding" shown by the other nations for his plan to "reorganize Europe" according to Nazi wishes and their campaign to save Poland from sharing Czecho-Slovakia's fate.

Predict A "Hot" Speech.

Tonight the Fuehrer summoned Joachim von Ribbentrop, his foreign minister, for a long conference on his reply to Chamberlain and the democracies at large. The reply will be made in a speech following the launching of Germany's new 35,000 ton battleship, the Von Tirpitz. Hitler has assured his colleagues this speech will be the greatest of his career.

Nazi officials declare nothing will prevent them from carrying out their plans to reorganize central Europe. They assert, however, that they feel confident this can be done "by diplomatic means, because we have better nerves and we can wait until the others give in to our demands."

A picture of the map of central Europe, such as the Nazis desire it, was described to me today. My informant declared that what the Nazis call the "former German living space in Poland" must at some not too distant time be turned over to Germany. This space includes the Free City of Danzig, the Polish corridor, and Upper Silesia. A Polish nucleus would be permitted to survive.

Plan Independent Ukraine.

The parts of Poland inhabited by Ukrainians would be cut off and joined with Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia] to which Hungary helped itself during the dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia. Hungary would become much smaller than it was before and a new Ukraine would be born which, at a later date, could include Ukrainians now under soviet Russian rule. This new state would be expected to cooperate with Germany, like Poland, Slovakia, and Hungary.

Rumania is to be induced to agree to these plans by being allowed to take a strip of Hungary which Rumania claims is inhabited by Rumanian groups eager to be under Rumanian rule.

To further encourage King Carol of Rumania to be on friendly terms with them, the Germans are offering to send an ambassador to Bucharest and to raise the status of the Rumanian minister in Berlin to that of an ambassador. Radu Crutzesco, the new Rumanian minister to Germany, presented his credentials to Hitler. Mutual assurances of friendship were exchanged.

Carol Snubbed by Britain.

The Germans know that King Carol was anxious to have an ambassador in London instead of a minister, and that the English turned a deaf ear to his suggestion. The Nazis believe this diplomatic deafness in the British helped them in their negotiation of the recently signed trade agreement with Rumania and now they are urging the speedy appointment of ambas-

BRITISH PLEDGE TO HELP POLAND KEEP FREEDOM

Chamberlain Says France Backs Up Promise.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 31.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today made a brief and carefully qualified declaration of what British policy would be toward Poland in event of aggression against that country by Germany—an event which Chamberlain said he had no official reason to believe to be pending.

Chamberlain's statement was made in the house of commons on the eve of the expected departure from Warsaw for London of Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister. Beck will arrive here Monday for three days of discussion with British politicians of his country's position with regard to Germany.

Diplomats Examine Statement.

The British position as defined by Chamberlain, goes only for an interim period. Diplomats tonight were examining it carefully to see whether in reality it extends any guarantee at all to Poland.

"As the house is aware," Chamberlain said, "certain consultations are now proceeding with other governments. In order to make perfectly clear the position of his majesty's government in the meantime, before those consultations are concluded, I now have to inform the house that during that period, in the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all the support in their power.

"I may add that the French government have authorized me to make it plain that they stand in the same position in this matter as do his majesty's government."

Await Polish Reaction.

Much speculation prevails tonight about whether the Poles will be impressed with this extremely qualified promise of support. It is pointed out that a year ago Chamberlain abstained from making any forthright commitment toward Czecho-Slovakia.

Chamberlain in answer to questions after his statement laid stress on the fact that he was still trying to line up a coalition of powers which would stop the aggressors. He told questioners that he had no ideological objections against Russia being included in such a coalition. He pointed out that Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, had even this morning consulted with Jean Maisky, soviet ambassador to London.

TEXT OF SPEECH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 31.—Here is the text of Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement to parliament:

"I am glad to take this opportunity of stating again the general policy of his majesty's government. They have constantly advocated the adjustment by way of free negotiation between the parties concerned of any differences that may arise between them. They consider that this is the natural and proper course where differences exist. In their opinion there should be no question incapable of solution by peaceful means and they would see no justification for the substitution of force or threats of force for the method of negotiation.

"As the house is aware, certain consultations are now proceeding with other governments.

Poland Assured of Aid.

"In order to make perfectly clear the position of his majesty's government, in the meantime, before those consultations are concluded, I now have to inform the house that during that period, in the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all support in their power.

"They have given the Polish government an assurance to this effect.

"I may add that the French government have authorized me to make it plain that they stand in the same position in this matter as do his majesty's government.

Soviet Envoy Consulted.

"The foreign secretary saw the soviet ambassador this morning and had a very full discussion with him on the subject.

"I have no doubt the principles on which we are acting are fully understood and appreciated by that government.

"The visit of Col. Beck [Josef Beck, Poland's foreign minister] will provide an opportunity of discussing with him the various further measures that may be taken in order to accumulate the maximum amount of cooperation in any efforts that may be made to put an end to aggression, if aggression were intended, and to substitute for it the more reasonable and orderly method of discussion.

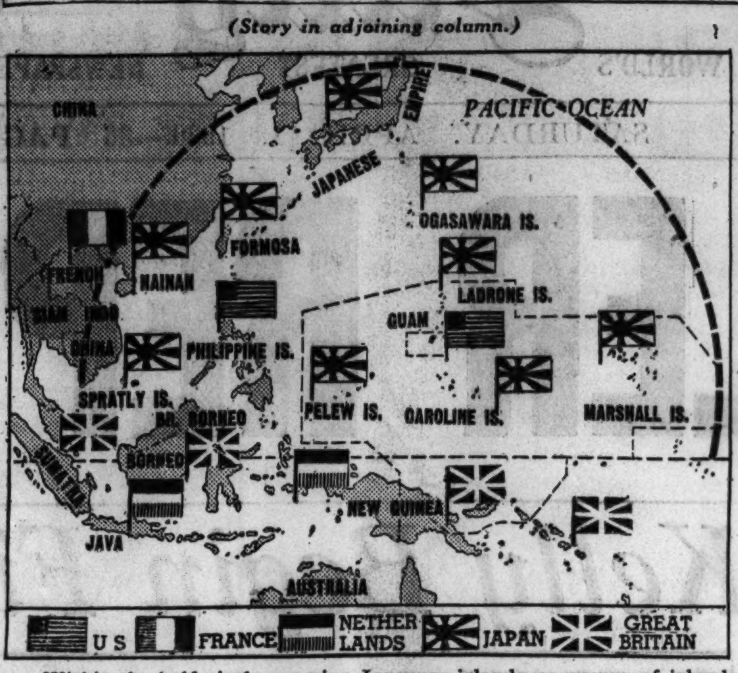
"The question of a conference is simply a matter of expediency. We have no theoretical views about conferences if they prove to be the best way.

"If there are other and more effective ways of achieving our object we might dispense with conferences.

"The dominions are being kept fully informed."

Japan Presses In on Western Powers

(Story in adjoining column.)



Within the half circle are nine Japanese islands or groups of islands which are in close proximity to two American possessions, the Philippines and Guam, and which are on or near routes to several British and Netherlands islands.

POLAND AND RUMANIA READY TO RESIST NAZI PUSH, FRENCH REPORT

PARIS, March 31.—(AP)—Both Poland and Rumania were reported in responsible diplomatic quarters tonight to have agreed to stand, with the pledge of British and French armed support, against any new eastern push by Germany at their expense.

Two developments lent support to this belief:

1. Prime Minister Chamberbain's announcement to the house of commons of the British-French pledge to back Poland's independence with arms.

2. The signing of a French-Rumanian one year trade treaty in Paris today to counter Germany's recent commercial accord with Rumania.

Chamberlain's announcement caused a sensation in Paris, where there was no previous public knowledge that it was coming. Newspapers displayed the statement under huge headlines.

SLOVAKIA AGREES WITH HUNGARY ON A NEW FRONTIER

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 31.—(AP)—The boundary dispute between Hungary and Slovakia, over which the two nations clashed last week, was settled peacefully today through concessions on both sides.

The settlement placed the Ung valley and its railroad—an important link with Poland—securely within Hungary's control, protected by mountain ridges which form a natural frontier.

Hungary agreed to return to Slovakia two villages, one of them Paloc, which Slovak airplanes bombed in the "vestpocket war" that caused heavy casualties along Slovakia's eastern frontier. Hungary's net gain will be 10 villages.

Hungarian and Slovak commissions, a statement said, have agreed on a "general outline" of the new frontier in the disputed remnant of dissolved Czecho-Slovakia. The new line will be fixed in detail by next Monday.

U. S. FRIENDSHIP CANADA'S GOAL, SAYS MINISTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 31.—The keystone of Canada's foreign policy must be friendship with the United States, Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, told parliament today.

Lapointe, leader of French Canada, supported the principle that Canada cannot remain neutral should Britain go to war. For the Dominion authorities to intern and disarm British warships calling at Canadian ports would mean civil war in Canada, he declared.

Lapointe approved the statements of political leaders that there could be no conscription of dominion manpower for war.

NAZI WARPLANE FLIES 463 M. P. H., A WORLD RECORD

BERLIN, March 31.—(AP)—Germany today claimed it has the world's fastest airplane. It is a single engine, one seater Heinkel pursuit ship, which yesterday averaged 746.66 kilometers [463.952 miles] an hour over a three kilometer test course. The Heinkel, equipped with a Mercedes-Benz engine of 1,175 horse power, was flown by Capt. Hans Dieterle. His flight bettered the world record of 440.681 miles an hour established on Oct. 23, 1934, by Francesco Agello of Italy.

JAPS TAKE OVER FRENCH CLAIMED ISLES NEAR ASIA

Important as Possible Air and Naval Base.

TOKIO, March 31.—(AP)—Japan announced today that she had assumed jurisdiction over the Spratly Islands, 247 acres of coral reef strategically situated in the South China sea and claimed by France in 1933.

The islands are important principally as a possible base for seaplanes and submarines. They lie equidistant—about 350 miles—from the Philippines on the northeast, British North Borneo on the east, and French Indo-China on the west. They are about 600 miles from the great British naval base at Singapore. They have little economic value.

Stating the islands previously had been ownerless, the foreign office announced it had assumed jurisdiction over them for "the protection and regulation of lives, property, and enterprise of Japanese nationals there."

Second Such Move.

The move was the second such made by the Japanese this year. On Feb. 10 their troops seized the Chinese island of Hainan. It is 300 miles southwest of Hongkong and close to the empire lifelines of France and Great Britain.

France occupied the seven islands of the Spratly group in 1933, making the first formal claim to their ownership since their discovery in 1867. Japan protested, implying a claim to their sovereignty because Japanese traders had tried to exploit phosphate deposits there in 1925.

Admit Call by Warships.

The Japanese foreign office said today that since 1917 Japanese have been going there and investing "a considerable amount of capital and erecting various permanent establishments," and admitted that Tokio on "several occasions" had sent warships there to assist settlers.

"But," the statement added, "the absence of administrative jurisdiction caused not only inconvenience, but has been liable to cause unnecessary dispute with France.

"Accordingly, the Japanese government, in order to eliminate such disadvantages and inconveniences, has decided to place the reefs under the jurisdiction of the governor general of Taiwan [Formosa]."

Hull Watches Developments.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today he was giving full attention to dispatches relating to Japan's assumption of jurisdiction over the Spratly Islands. Hull said he had not yet received any formal notification from the Japanese government.

MATTOON DOCTOR AND HIS WIFE END LIVES TOGETHER

Shelbyville, Ill., March 31.—[Special.]—Dr. Doran T. Rue and his wife, Mildred, of Mattoon, were found dead today in a resort cottage at Lethia Springs, four miles from here.

Death resulted from an overdose of sleep inducing medicine, taken with suicidal intent, according to Coroner Charles G. Miner. Apparently, he said, the Rues ended their life in a pact. They drove here last night. Dr. Rue had been in poor health. He was released only last Sunday from a Jacksonville sanitarium.

Dr. Rue was 36 years old and his wife 29. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1921. He was a track team captain there. Mrs. Rue was the former Mildred Chambers. She was graduated from the Springfield Hospital Training school in 1930. She later was employed as a nurse at the Albert Merritt Billings hospital in Chicago. At one time she was supervisor of nurses at the Springfield hospital.

GIMP ROSENBAUM IN AGAIN.

Sanford [Gimp] Rosenbaum, former bodyguard of Edward [Spike] O'Donnell during the dry era, was arrested in the loop last night and taken to the detective bureau. The arrest was a routine one. "This is a bum rap," complained the Gimp. "I'm on the straight and narrow path."

HITLER IS ANGRY; REPLIES TODAY TO CHAMBERLAIN

Nazi Scheme to Remake Europe Revealed.

sadors between Germany and Rumania.

Relations between England and Germany are going through the most severe crisis experienced since the end of the world war. Hitler is firmly convinced that the British started the recent rumors of German troop movements along the Polish frontier. These rumors came at a time when Germany was still trying to bring political pressure to bear on the Poles.

By stiffening the back of the Poles, observers declare, England has made it almost impossible for Hitler to use the same tactics he used to wrest power out of the hands of the last Austrian and Czech governments.

See Parallel with Czech Crisis.

Troop movements have taken place in East Prussia and West Prussia, but neutral foreign observers believe that to date they have not been big enough to warant a war scare. The present situation is similar to that on May 21, 1938, when foreign observers reported that vast numbers of German troops were moving in the direction of the Czech border. The Czechs mobilized and were kept under arms almost all summer. When the crisis was reached in September, they had lost their fighting spirit.

Now, after the reports of German troop movements, the Poles have mobilized. Polish officers and men claim they are ready to fight. They claim that should war come they can fight for a few months, "alone, if necessary," and that during this time the Czechs, through sabotage and passive resistance, would be able to weaken Germany tremendously.

The Poles point out that leaders of the Polish opposition, such as Wincenty, Witos, Wojciech Korfanty, Vladislas Kiernik, and Deputy Baginski, have offered their services to their country. Some of the opposition chiefs who were in exile have been arrested upon their return to Poland. It is expected that they will receive amnesties soon.

Attack England for "Lying."

While the German press unanimously attacks England for its "shameless lying" in accusing Germany of planning to attack Poland, the Nazi papers evidently are under orders to belittle the British offer of a military alliance with Poland. The Voelkischer Beobachter brands Chamberlain's declaration as "completely superfluous."

"The declaration," this paper says, "contains nothing new. "The interlocking of theBritish and French military alliances and of the league of nations pact would compel England and France in any event to come to the aid of Poland if she were attacked. The whole London turmoil was staged evidently for the purpose of providing a morsel for the perturbed public opinion in England on which it can chew for a few days."

Declaring that "war agitation is at its worst in America," the Voelkischer Beobachter asks:

"Have we ever interfered with the justified interests of America?"

It is interesting to note that in recent German press campaigns soviet Russia has been attacked much less frequently than the world democracies.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. RUTH LAGONI.

Too much love is as bad as not enough, declared Mrs. Ruth Lagoni, 23 years old, yesterday when she filed suit in Superior court for separate maintenance from Morris Lagoni, 49, Peoria night club owner. For five years after their marriage, her bill states, Mr. Lagoni showered attentions upon her at all times and in all places.

Early this year when she no longer returned his caresses with the ardor he expected, he began beating her, she charges. On Jan. 9 he ordered her from his Peoria home and she came to Chicago to obtain medical attention. She lives at 6724 Stony Island avenue.

Lagoni's income, her bill sets out, is in excess of $150,000 a year. Using the name Earl Thompson, he was international trap shooting champion in 1937.

NEWSPAPER ROW IN LONDON JARRED BY BOMB BLAST

LONDON, April 1 [Saturday].—(AP)—A bomb exploded in Fleet street early today while presses along the famed newspaper row were turning out editions telling of the conviction of seven members of the outlawed Irish Republican army on explosives charges. The blast shattered the front of the News Chronicle advertising office and shook neighboring newspaper offices. No one was injured. Police put a guard over the News Chronicle editorial office in a nearby street.

Scotland Yard detectives searched the house of commons and county hall headquarters of London county council for bombs yesterday, following anonymous telephoned reports that men were seen loitering near the buildings.

Explosions Thursday night in Birmingham, Liverpool, and Coventry, three of Great Britain's principal industrial centers, tore up streets and ripped holes in several stores.

SLAYER OF U. S. DANCER IN PARIS GETS GUILLOTINE

VERSAILLES, France, March 31.—(AP)—Eugene Weidmann and Roger Million, members of a murder for profit ring whose victims included beauteous Jean de Koven, Brooklyn, N. Y., dancer, tonight were sentenced to death on the guillotine.

Jean Blanc, convicted of supplying money for the ring which Weidmann headed, was sentenced to twenty months imprisonment, and Collete Tricot, a woman, charged with receiving the ring's stolen goods, was acquitted.

Weidmann, a former German convict, confessed to six slayings, including that of Miss de Koven, during the operations of the ring in Paris and its suburbs in 1937. The sentences were pronounced after the convictions were returned by a jury following a trial of several days.

POLAND, FRANCE AND ENGLAND LAY DEFENSE PLANS

Warsaw Fears Hitler May Strike at Once.

WARSAW, March 31.—(AP)—Exchange of military information among Britain, Poland and France was reported under way tonight, backing up the British-French guarantee of Poland's independence. Poland warmly greeted the promise given by Prime Minister Chamberlain in London.

Military talks were being carried on by Poland and Britain through the French general staf. These consultations were designed to coördinate the forces of the three nations to oppose any aggression against Poland, which fears German ambitions, particularly in Danzig and the Polish corridor.

[The Polish corridor is Poland's outlet to the Baltic sea. It lies between Germany and East Prussia. At its northern end is the Free City of Danzig, which is mostly German and is ruled by Nazis although the customs are controled by Poles, who have large interests in the city. Nearby is Gdynia, the port city created by Poland.]

Troups Reported on Move.

Dispatches from Danzig state that Polish troops estimated by Germans to number more than 10,000 have taken positions at Gdynia. Polish officials declined to comment.

Danzig reports told also of German troop concentrations on both sides of the Polish corridor. That East Prussia was almost an armed camp was admitted at Berlin, but this is said to be a normal condition. Berlin officials denied there was a concentration of troops.

Poles believed today that British and French warships may be lent to Poland and sent to Gdynia.

Warsaw authorities foresaw several possible moves by Chancellor Hitler of Germany:

[1.] He may act swiftly to achieve his aims before Polish-British-French coöperation has been worked out.

[2.] He may accept peaceful relations with Poland, including a friendly settlement of the Danzig question.

[3.] He may suspend action for the present.

Circles close to the Polish government emphasized that Poland still was seeking an understanding with Germany over Danzig on the basis of respect for each other's interests.

Million Ready to Fight.

Polish armament factories are working twenty-four hours a day and the country's armed forces now number more than 1,000,000 regulars and reserves.

Poland may be strengthened further by financial aid from Britain and raw materials from soviet Russia.

Reports said Britain was likely to grant a large credit, automatically renewable, to the Bank of Poland. Another large credit may be arranged to furnish the country with airplane motors.

Warsaw sources said a formal military alliance with Britain probably would be negotiated when Foreign Minister Joseph Beck reaches London on Monday.

World War Vets' Federation Urges Resistance to Nazis

PARIS, March 31.—(AP)—World war veterans were urged today by the Inter-Allied Federation of Veterans—Fidac—to support any measures their own governments take against German "use of force." American, French, British, Belgian, Greek, Polish, Portuguese, Rumanian, Czecho-Slovak and Jugo-Slav delegates attended the meeting which adopted the resolution.

MADRID REOPENS ITS CHURCHES FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP

Bishop Holds Formal Mass of Reconciliation.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, March 31.—Public worship was formally restored to Madrid by the Roman Catholic church today after thirty-two months' suspension during the war.

Bishop Leopoldo Eijo Garay, after a visit to pray among the ruins of his cathedral, San Isadro, which was burned by a mob during the war, carried out the ceremony of "reconciliation" at the parish church of San Jose, in the heart of Madrid on busy Alcala street.

Today's mass actually was not the first in the city since the surrender, as the chaplain of the temple of the Carmelite fathers held a service on his own initiative yesterday, but it was a formal ceremony restoring the full status of the churches.

Others Join in Mass.

Services were held simultaneously in the churches of Jesus, San Antonio, San Andres, and Santa Barbara. The task of putting the churches into order for the services was a heavy one. The San Jose church had been used as a food warehouse, and others as munitions warehouses, military courts, garages, and other purposes. All of them needed thorough overhauling.

More than 1,200 sets of holy vessels for masses have been recovered from warehouses and hiding places, church authorities revealed. Two thousand priests have communicated with diocesan headquarters—Madrid had 5,000 priests before the war—and it was announced that thirty of the city's 200 churches would be in use again within a week.

While the spiritual needs were being attended to, hunger still was the immediate concern of most persons in Madrid.

Tons of Food Arrive.

The first carload of food arrived from Saragossa today and it was announced that stocks now on hand include 7,700 tons of flour, 500 tons of sugar, 100 tons of chocolate, 600 tons of beans, 500 tons of peas, 44 tons of ham, 1,500 tons of canned fish, and 10,000 cases of canned tomatoes.

There are 800,000 free hot meals and 600,000 cold rations of bread with salt pork, beans, or potatoes being given out daily. Authorities said the food situation should be comparatively normal within two weeks.

Nationalist money is getting into circulation quickly although small change still is lacking.

Spanish Envoy Resigns.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—Fernando de los Rios, Republican Spain's ambassador to the United States, resigned today, bringing to an end the defeated régime's diplomatic representation in this country.

He turned the embassy over to Lopez Pumarejo, ambassador from Colombia, for safekeeping until the United States recognizes the new Spanish government and authorized the Cuban embassy, to handle affairs of the consulates throughout the country.

Indiana Gross Income Tax to Be Applied to U. S. Pay

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—[Special.]—Provisions of the Indiana state gross income tax law will be applied to salaries of all federal employés in Indiana earned since last Jan. 1. This was announced today by Clarence Jackson, director of the gross income tax division. The state tax board is studying a decision of the United States Supreme court to determine whether other state taxes might be applied to federal salaries.

Assessment Map

Assessor John S. Clark (seated) and George Hanson, member of citizens' real estate assessment advisory committee, look at map to be used in fixing valuations.

A new map expected to be of aid in making the 1939 quadrennial real estate assessment was shown yesterday by Assessor John S. Clark to the citizens' advisory committee which is aiding him in the assessment. The committee members are experienced real estate men who specialize in valuations.

The new map shows the limits of each piece of property and the type of physical improvements on the property. The committee, which will do field work during the assessment, was instructed in its use. A similar meeting of experts from country towns will be held soon, Clark said.

Clark said he will send the 1939 personal property assessments to the board of tax appeals on Oct. 1 and the real estate assessment books to the county clerk on Dec. 1. The tax bills, he said, are due to go out next Feb. 1. The first penalty date for 1939 taxes has been set tentatively as March 1.

HIS SHOES DON'T SQUEAK, BUT DO SQUEAL—TO COPS

William Schrader's new shoes didn't squeak, but they were a giveaway just the same. And thus Hudson avenue police yesterday solved a two day crime wave.

The crime wave took place Monday and Tuesday. A dozen merchants were the robbery victims. One, Anton Masek, owner of a shoe store at 164 West Division street, was held up each day for a total of $90.

Yesterday Policemen Mathew Cunningham and Frank Healy saw Schrader standing at Division and Sedgwick streets. Schrader is 18 years old, and lives at 238 Division street. The policemen noted that he was shabbily dressed, but was wearing nice, new shoes. They arrested him.

Not long afterward Masek identified Schrader as the man who had robbed him, and also identified the new shoes. Police said Schrader confessed twelve holdups.

HOLDS GERMAN WAR ON POLES TO BE UNLIKELY

Melchior Wankowicz, author and former official censor for the Polish government, said yesterday that he did not believe there is any likelihood Germany will declare war on Poland. Wankowicz, who is making a lecture tour, is now in Chicago.

"In my opinion," he said, "Poland will not join any 'stop Hitler' campaign without receiving proper guarantees. Poland wants peace. But Germany, as a close neighbor, knows the defensive power of Poland and its willingness to fight."

Wankowicz left Warsaw two weeks ago.

LEGISLATOR'S SISTER DIES.

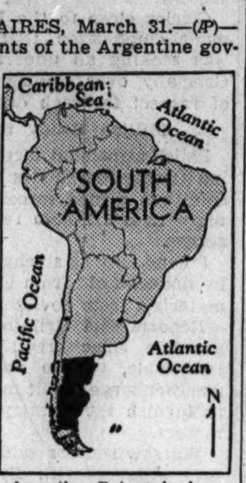
DOCUMENT HINTS NAZIS PLOT GRAB FROM ARGENTINA

Inquiry Into Patagonia Charges Launched.

BUENOS AIRES, March 31.—(AP)—All departments of the Argentine government were ordered today to investigate charges that Nazis have challenged Argentine sovereignty over Patagonia. German officials were reported to have backed the Nazi move.



Argentine Patagonia is shown in black.

[Argentine Patagonia consists of the territories of Rio Negro, Chubut, Santa Cruz and Tierra Del Fuego. It has an area of 267,058 square miles and a population of 77,750].

Press Prints Document.

The newspaper Noticias Graficas yesterday published a document which it said was a facsimile of a report on Patagonia to the German colonial ministry from a German embassy adviser named Von Schubert and Albert Muller, chief of the Argentine Nazi party.

The document stated Patagonia might be considered a no-man's land, even though Argentina considers it hers "on the basis of outdated political ideas."

The report contained a passage saying it was submitted in connection with "the possibilities of colonization in the theoretical supposition that the whole territory should be annexed as a field for settlement and economic activity by Germans."

Regardless of the attitude of the German government a vigorous investigation will be pressed, José Maria Cantillo, Argentine foreign minister, declared after the German chargé d'affaires had called at the foreign office.

The chargé d'affaires declared the published facsimile was not "an authentic official German document."

German Embassy Protests.

The German embassy issued a statement that it had "protested to the foreign ministry of Argentina" against publication of the document. It said it had demanded an official investigation and was considering legal action.

Police took into custody Enrique Jurges, whom they described as a former Nazi.

Jurges was reported to have sent copies of the document to President Roberto M. Ortiz and to the newspaper Noticias Graficas. Ortiz at once ordered a police investigation.

DUCE POSTPONES CLAIMS; READY TO WAIT "DECADES"

Italy Sits Back Until Hitler Speaks Out.

ROME, March 31.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini held his territorial claims on France in abeyance tonight as Italy anxiously watched for Reichsfuehrer Hitler's reaction to British-French promises of aid to Poland.

Il Duce told a crowd of Fascists at Reggio, Calabria, that Italians were "ready to wait" for fulfillment of their territorial ambitions and explained that they were "thinking in terms of decades."

Awaits Action by France.

Foreign observers interpreted Mussolini's speech as meaning he would give France time to consider further his implied invitation, in a speech last Sunday, to negotiate on Italian claims concerning Djibouti, Tunisia, and the Suez canal.

Britain notified Italy through diplomatic channels of British-French determination to aid Poland in case of attack. Sir Noel Charles, the British charge d'affaires, told Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Prime Minister Chamberlain's house of commons speech in a call at the foreign ministry. Later in the evening Sir Noel returned to the Palazzo Chigi for a second conference with Count Ciano, the purpose of which was not disclosed immediately. Count Ciano also received the Polish ambassador.

Denies Italian Dissension.

At Reggio, where Mussolini dedicated a world war monument today, his listeners booed and whistled when he said "some weak minded people beyond the Alps, confusing their desires with reality, have invented the fable of a growing away of the Italian people from the régime. Your whistling in their eardrums will show them exactly the contrary is true."

He declared there was little to add to his Sunday speech.

"We are not forgetting, we are preparing ourselves, we are thinking in terms of decades, and, therefore, we are always ready to wait as a people which has many arms and a very solid heart," he said.

ROOSEVELT GETS UPSETTING NEWS OF HITLER PLAN

Warm Springs, Ga., March 31.—[Special.]—Fear that Hitler is pressing Nazi Germany into European and world conquests of Napoleonic proportions today kept President Roosevelt at his telephone throughout the day and far into the night.

The President, here for a week's sojourn, said he had conferred with the state department and American ambassadors in Europe. Although he would not discuss the European situation, it was learned from White House sources that Mr. Roosevelt shares the world fear that the hope of peace which flowed from the Munich parley by which the Nazis took Sudetenland from Czecho-Slovakia has been destroyed by Hitler's latest aggression and his apparent determination to seize more territory.

The White House source put the United States morally behind France and Great Britain if not with them, in the "stop Hitler" movement.

DR. BENES WARNS BAR: NAZIS SEEK TO RULE WORLD

Dr. Eduard Benes, who was president of the now dismembered republic of Czechoslovakia, spoke last night at a closed meeting of the Chicago Bar association.

Dr. Benes said Naziism is working not only for the regeneration of Germany but also to establish political domination over Europe and the rest of the world. He added that law in Germany is "anything that profits the nation."

"The aim of that law, under National Socialism," he said, "is to preserve and support the purity of the German race and to defend it. The theories on the cultivation of a pure race have led to the laws against the Jews and the suppression of all parties which object to Nazi teachings."

CCC COMMANDER SLAIN IN HOLDUP; 2 SUSPECTS HELD

Posse Seizes Boys After Pay Roll Robbery.

Mount Carroll, Ill., March 31. — [Special.]—Two Chicago Negro boys were captured by a posse tonight and quickly held to the grand jury on a charge of murder in the slaying of Lieut. Paul La Master, commander of a CCC camp near here. The officer was shot to death in a $1,300 pay roll holdup at the camp this afternoon.

The prisoners identified themselves as John Collins, 17 years old, and his brother, Clarence, 15, of 2625 West Lake street, Chicago. John had been an enrollee at the CCC camp, which is a mile and a half north of here, but was dishonorably discharged three months ago.

Identified by Three.

They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Schroeppel and bound over to the Carroll county grand jury without bail after they had been identified by three CCC enrollees as the gunmen who shot La Master.

The youths admitted they had driven to this vicinity in an automobile found abandoned near the camp after the killing. The car, they said, belonged to their brother-in-law, Milton Whitman, of 734 East 43d street, Chicago.

They insisted, however, that they had been accompanied by two older Negroes who must have held up the army officer and shot him. Their companions, they said, forced them out of the car near the camp.

Captured on Farm.

The two boys were seized on a farm two miles east of here by a posse of state police, sherif's deputies, and CCC enrollees.

Lieut. La Master was preparing a pay roll for the CCC camp when two masked gunmen entered his office with leveled pistols. As the officer glanced at his own gun on a desk nearby the robbers opened fire. Four shots struck La Master. The gunmen then gathered up the money and fled. Their victim died while being taken to St. Francis hospital in Freeport.

La Master, 36 years old, was a resident of Carterville, Ill., and also had lived at West Frankfort.

CONFESSES FIRING A RESTAURANT AFTER DISCHARGE

Eugene Eng, 25 years old, a Chinese, told police yesterday that because he was discharged for drinking too much milk while at work he set fire to his former employer's place of business. He had been employed as a food checker in the Chinese Village restaurant at 2447 West 63rd street.

Eng said that last Tuesday morning while the place was closed he entered through a window and set fire to papers which he spread around the restaurant. Damage of $20,000 was caused to the business and the building. Two firemen were slightly injured fighting the fire.

Eng told Acting Capt. Richard Lawler and Sergt. John Kirby that he had been ordered to drink milk every two hours for his health. He said that his employers objected to the interference in his work. He was arrested when he returned to see what damage had been done to the restaurant.

Wages Gun Fight with Two Bandits and Saves $1,456

John Wilczynski, 53 years old, a tavern owner, saved $1,456 yesterday when he fought off two bandits in a gun battle in the 1500 block of Augusta boulevard. Wilczynski, who was driving to his tavern at 2101 North Marmora avenue, was shot twice and slightly wounded. His wife, Anna, riding with him, was not hurt.

Wilczynski had drawn the money from a bank. When the bandits' car overtook him one of them leaped onto the running board of Wilczynski's machine as it pulled to a stop.

The tavern owner seized a pistol from a side pocket of his car, fired three shots, and sped away. The startled bandit jumped for safety while his companion fired six shots.

KONKOWSKI FACES SECOND TRIAL ON JOB SALE CHARGE

The state's attorney's office announced yesterday that Ald. Frank Konkowski will be put on trial a second time on a charge of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the alleged sale of police jobs. The alderman, who was defeated for reëlection, was freed on a similar charge by a Criminal court jury a week ago.

Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, and Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Bugan, who prosecuted the first case, announced plans for the second trial. Crowley said Stephen Idzikowski, former precinct captain in Konkowski's ward, who was acquitted in the first trial, also, would be tried on a second count. A hearing will be held Monday before Judge William J. Lindsay in Criminal court to set a date for the second trial, Crowley said.

The alderman and his aid were acquitted on a charge that they accepted $600 from George Fronskawicz, 2432 North Springfield avenue, for a favored place on the police list. The second trial will be on a complaint made by Charles Rozak, 2018 Ainslie street.

SAYS U. S. MUST START ECONOMIC CURE FOR EUROPE

Canon Charles Earle Raven.

The way to peace in Europe is through economic reconstruction by way of stabilized currency, lowering of tarif barriers and development of safe guards for international credits. This is the suggestion of Canon Charles Earle Raven of Ely cathedral, Regius professor of Divinity at Cambridge university and chaplain to King George VI. of England.

Canon Raven spoke last night at a Methodist rally for world peace in the Chicago Temple. He said that bitterness between many European countries is so deep seated that the initiative for such a move would have to come from America. If this were done, the canon said, he believes Europe would respond.

Canon Raven is chairman of the Fellowship of Reconciliation in Great Britain, an organization for the furtherance of world peace, and has just been elected president of Christ's college, Cambridge. He arrived in Chicago yesterday .

U. S. TO PROTECT WITNESSES FROM N. Y. GANG GUNS

Pledge Given as Convict Tells on Torrio.

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Witnesses against Johnny Torrio, one time boss of Al Capone, are to be given real protection against gang vengeance, the government indicated late today after a former rum runner had testified at the income tax trial of the underworld chieftain.

It was reported that the witness, Bert Erickson, a convicted smuggler, may be allowed to flee to China to escape the penalty frequently imposed by gangland on "squealers." He is now awaiting sentence for rum running, but it is expected his sentence will be mild and that when it is completed he will be helped in getting away.

Assistant United States Attorney Seymour Klein leaped to his feet and shouted an objection when Torrio's counsel asked Erickson where he lived. Klein declared: "I object for a very good reason. This man has a family."

Reveals Promise of Protection.

Federal Judge John W. Clancy would allow no more to be said on the matter until the jury had retired at the end of the day's session. Klein then read into the record the following statement:

"The government has agreed to give this witness its fullest protection. The government felt that the disclosure of his address in public might result in some danger or harm."

Erickson left the courtroom in the custody of two agents from the United States department of justice.

Fails to Shake Story.

Defense Attorney Max Steuer failed to shake the rum runner's story that Torrio was reaping, unobtrusively, a profit of about $35,000 a month during the dying days of prohibition in 1933. He did much to explode the defendant's contention of poverty.

Displaying a remarkable knowledge of the liquor racket, Erickson, a slow speaking Swede, testified that Torrio was a member of a huge association of bootleggers which apportioned quotas to each Atlantic seaboard racketeer and paid its chairman $1,000 a week.

Sets Quota at 5,000 Cases.

Erickson said that Torrio's quota was 5,000 cases a month. Computing the average profit on Scotch, rye, brandy, and cordials brought in from Canada by rum-running ships, the witness figured that at $7 a case, Torrio had an income of $35,000 a month.

An earlier witness was Saul C. Steinthal, a former internal revenue collector who became an accountant in the Torrio enterprises. He told of helping the gangster make out his income tax return for 1933, the first year of a three year period for which the government charged Torrio and four co-defendants evaded payment of a tax of $86,000.

Wedding License Business Gains After Indiana Ban

The ban imposed on Crown Point and other Indiana Gretna Greens and the passage of Indiana's marriage health test law have increased the issuance of wedding licenses in Cook county, County Clerk Michael Flynn reported yesterday. During the first three months of this year 5,284 licenses were issued, against 4,899 in the corresponding period of 1938.

LIBBY HOLMAN, TORCH SINGER, AND AN ACTOR ARE SECRETLY WED

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Libby Holman, Broadway torch singer, whose husband, Smith Reynolds, North Carolina tobacco heir, died in 1932 of a bullet wound, was married Monday to Ralph Holmes, 23 years old, an actor, it was revealed today. The bridegroom is the son of Taylor Holmes, a character actor, last seen in "I'd Rather Be Right."

Ralph Holmes.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The pair, wed secretly in Washington, are on their honeymoon in the country at an undisclosed place. Mrs. Holmes, who is 33, had been singing at a Coral Gables, Fla., night club. Holmes had been working in New York.

Mrs. Holmes was accused of the murder of her first husband, but the case was dropped for lack of evidence. Her son, Christopher Smith, 6, was born several months after Reynolds' death. He is one of the richest children in the country. The boy has an estate of $7,000,000 in trust.

ILLINOIS FLYER WINS REHEARING ON POLISH FLIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—[Special.]—Stanley Kluzek, a flyer of Springfield, Ill., today won a rehearing on his application for permission to fly solo nonstop from New York to Warsaw, Poland. The Civil Aeronautics authority rejected his application last week.

Stanley Kluzek.
[Acme Photo.]

The authority ordered a hearing to be held before Harold Neely, CAA regional supervisor, on April 13 in Chicago. Neely was directed to receive any additional evidence which Kluzek or others cared to present.

In turning down his original application, the authority held that Kluzek did not have sufficient experience in navigation and instrument flying, nor an adequate plane.

TEST NEW GLASS; FIND IT BENDS BUT DOES NOT BREAK

Philadelphia, Pa., March 31.—(AP)—Tests at Franklin Institute, it was announced today, uphold the claims for a new highway safety development—a glass that will stretch but won't shatter.

Ability of the glass to resist severe impact and maintain its elasticity was demonstrated at the institute while officials of the five companies which sponsored its development and other guests looked on.

The new plastic, expected to lessen the possibility of fractures and concussions when a person is thrown against an automobile windshield or window, was developed in six years of research and with an outlay of $6,000,000.

Glass laminated with the plastic—polyvinyl acetal resin — has been found to be about five times more bendable than ordinary types of safety glass. It may be rolled up like a rug. Companies collaborating on the new glass product were E. I. du Pont de Nemours, Libbey-Owens-Ford, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Monstanto Chemical and Carbide, and Carbon Chemicals corporation.

WPA WORKER INJURED.

RID ST. CHARLES OF CRIME, BOYS' TOWN HEAD ASKS

Schools' Neighbors Echo Plea at Final Hearing.

Officials of Kane county cities and Mons. Edward J. Flanagan, founder of the famous Boys' Town, Neb., joined yesterday in an appeal to make the St. Charles Training School for Boys a haven for dependent and underprivileged youths—its original purpose. They urged that boys of the criminal type be sent either to Pontiac reformatory or to a walled institution to be maintained at some location other than St. Charles.

The pleas were made before the joint legislative committee from the senate and the house, which yesterday concluded its hearing, held in town meeting style, at St. Charles. Members of the committee will begin drafting remedial legislation next week at executive sessions in Springfield. Scandals and escapes have been frequent at the school.

Bare Civil Service Scandal.

Senator Thomas P. Gunning, chairman of the committee, started the final open hearing by probing the civil service status of St. Charles' employés. W. T. Harmon, managing officer of the school, admitted that 70 of the 193 employés are not under civil service although such rating is provided for all employés except the directing officers.

Harmon said he has nothing to do with selecting school personnel, merely requisitioning employés from A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare. When Bowen was asked about the matter, he said: "I never interfere with the civil service commission. They know the employés are not under civil service."

Senator Gunning asked Bowen if he would obtain for the committee a complete list of noncivil service employés and those working under temporary permits in all state institutions. Several Democratic members objected that this was beyond the scope of the committee's powers and Gunning's request was defeated by a vote.

J. Paul Kuhn, city attorney of Batavia, appearing on behalf of his municipality, said he thought civil service examinations had been delayed so that Democratic henchmen now on the St. Charles pay roll could "get educated to the jobs" before being required to take the examinations. He also said that the sob-sister type of social worker is responsible for many criminal boys being sent to St. Charles.

Father Flanagan Raps System.

Father Flanagan said he has been hearing of investigations of St. Charles for twenty-five years.

"Why that should be, I do not know," he said. "St. Charles is not a place for criminals or criminally inclined youth. This mixing of dependent and underprivileged boys with criminal boys is bad. It is wasting a lot of the people's money. Unfortunately places like St. Charles are often run to give jobs to politicians rather than to benefit the inmates or rehabilitate them.

"I do not think I would do any better than Mr. Harmon or as good under present conditions. I wouldn't have the job unless I could pick my own personnel."

Among the other witnesses who protested at the present practice of sending hardened young criminals to St. Charles were Mayor Harry Warner of Aurora, Mayor William Wood of Geneva, Mayor I. G. Langum of St. Charles, and Marcus Danish and Lester Norris. Resolutions from surrounding communities condemning conditions at the training school were read into the record.

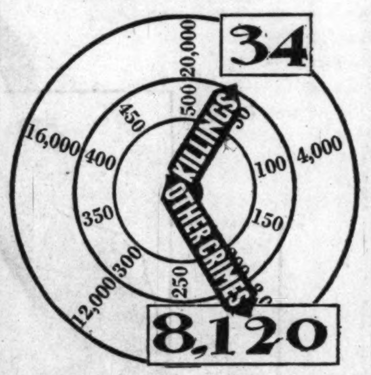
THE CRIME CLOCK

Chicago's Record Since Jan. 1



"Half of all the crimes in Cook county are committed by repeaters."—The Chicago Crime Commission.

2 ARE SUBJECTED TO LIE DETECTOR IN BLAST KILLING

Harrisburg, Ill., March 31.—[Special.]—Two men held in connection with the truck blast slaying of Earl Austin, Cave-in-Rock High school janitor, were subjected to a lie detector test today in the Saline county courthouse.

The men are Ira Scott, 24 years old, a farmhand living near Cave-in-Rock, and Theodore Simmons, 30, a neighbor and friend of the slain man's estranged wife, Mrs. Alice Austin. Simmons and Mrs. Austin are charged with murder in the death, but no formal charge has been made against Scott.

The tests were made by Leonarde Keeler of Northwestern university, inventor of the lie detector, and two agents of the state bureau of criminal investigation. The results of the tests were not announced.

RETURN 8 PAROLE VIOLATORS AFTER CRIMES IN WEST

Crooks Must Complete Illinois Sentences.

Eight convicts who violated their paroles from Illinois penal institutions were brought back from California prisons last night by state parole agents. All have been serving sentences in that state for crimes committed on the west coast since leaving Illinois. All but one violated their Illinois paroles when they left the state.

The prisoners will be taken to Joliet penitentiary today and then sent to the prisons from which they were paroled. They will complete their original sentences at those institutions.

T. P. Sullivan, state supervisor of paroles, said yesterday's group was the largest group returned in the last two years.

"It might seem to taxpayers that bringing these men back to jail to serve their time means a higher jail bill," Sullivan declared. "However, their incarceration means they cannot commit further crimes here or anywhere else now that they have completed their sentences in the California prisons."

Nip Train Robber's Freedom.

Most hardened criminal of the lot is Charles Fields, alias Jimmy Page. It is believed he will spend the rest of his life in jail. His criminal record dates to 1914 when he was sent to Pontiac reformatory to serve a term of one to fourteen years for robbing a farmer outside Chicago. He was paroled May 13, 1916, reported regularly to the parole office for a time and then disappeared.

Five years later, after having successfully evaded arrest on a warant for parole violations, he held up a roadhouse near Chicago. He was arrested and sent to Menard prison, where the rest of his original sentence was added to a ten year to life term.

After serving seven years and three months he was paroled in 1928. He was given permission to visit his parents in Los Angeles. While there he robbed a train and took a $62,000 pay roll, but was seized several days later. He was in the tenth year of a fourteen year term at Folsom prison for the robbery when Illinois authorities located him early last month and obtained his transfer here.

Crime Talents Are Varied.

Among the others brought back are:

WILLIAM WRIGHT, paroled from Pontiac reformatory on July 24, 1933, after serving five years of a one to ten year sentence for larceny. He was sent to Folsom prison in 1935 for a five year robbery term.

HERBERT SMITH, paroled from Pontiac reformatory on Dec. 15, 1931, after four years of a one to fourteen year sentence for robbery. He also was an inmate of Folsom prison and led the prison band.

FRANK SMITH, paroled from Chester prison Dec. 2, 1934, after serving five years on a robbery sentence of from one to fourteen years; inmate of Folsom prison on a five year robbery sentence.

MARION WHEATLEY, sent to Pontiac reformatory for larceny in 1928, paroled in 1933, rearrested in California in 1937 for burglary; serving a five year to life term in San Quentin prison when located.

WILLIS HILLIARD, paroled Dec. 15, 1930, from Chester prison after serving one year on a one year to life sentence for burglary. When found was in Sacramento city jail for sex offense.

WALTER LASKEY, paroled from Pontiac on Aug. 8, 1931, after serving two years for burglary; serving a ten year sentence in Folsom prison for burglary.

FRED RAND, colored, sent to Pontiac reformatory on Nov. 14, 1928, for burglary, paroled Dec. 15, 1930; serving sentence in Hanford county, Cal., jail for drunken driving.

The agents who accompanied the convicts back to Chicago were Samuel Bonafedi, Ralph Lewis, and Ross Randolph.

IDENTIFY MAN SLAIN IN Y. M. C. A. AS HEIR TO CHOCOLATE FORTUNE

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 31.—(AP)—The victim of a Y. M. C. A. dormitory slaying mystery was identified by friends tonight as Louis Marshall Baker, 47 years old, scion of the Baker chocolate family of Winchester, Va. He had spent a fortune and ended up on a WPA pay roll.

Baker died in Shadyside hospital, refusing to name the assailant who beat him fatally early Sunday in his Y. M. C. A. room. Sandy Baker, a brother, who is city treasurer of Winchester, was notified by telephone and ordered the body returned to Winchester.

Detectives said the janitor of the South Hills Y. M. C. A. saw Baker go to his room late Saturday night with a stranger who had been with him in a saloon.

EX-POLICE CHIEF DIES AT 89.

Holland, Mich., March 31.—[Special.]—Henry J. Dykuis, 89 years old, former city marshall and chief of police, and one time sherif of Ottawa county, died here today. He was born in the Netherlands, coming to America as an infant. He leaves six sons, three daughters, and a brother.

INDICT EX-POSTMISTRESS.

Mrs. Maude Olney, 50 years old, former postmistress at South Elgin, was indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday on a charge of embezzling $635 in postal funds.

$20,500 AWARDED TO DAIRY IN SUIT AGAINST UNIONS

Stockton, Cal., March 31.—(AP)—A Superior court jury awarded $20,500 libel damages today to George Emde and Lois Marshall, operators of the Happyholme dairy at Lodi. The damages were assessed against the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the local teamsters union, the San Joaquin Central Labor council, the Stockton Labor Journal and officers of the labor groups.

The dairy operators, who sued for $41,883, charged that an article in the Stockton Labor Journal caused patrons to discriminate against their products, endangering their business.

Union attorneys argued that the article was solely an announcement of a boycott.

HOUSE APPROVES 100 MILLION FOR WPA, 290 TO 110

Attempt to Restore Slash Voted Down.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—[Special.]—Registering a protest against extravagance in the Works Progress administration, the house today by a vote of 290 to 110 approved an appropriation of 100 million dollars for the work-relief agency. This amount was $50,000,000 less than the sum which President Roosevelt had insisted was necessary.

Two hundred and eighteen Democrats, sixty-eight Republicans, two Progressives, one Farmer-Laborite, and one American Laborite voted for the 100 million. Eighty-nine Republicans and twenty-one Democrats voted against the appropriation.

Upon hearing of the vote, Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, ordered 200,000 persons removed from the rolls by April 8 to reduce the total to 2,800,000. If the 150 million had been voted, a WPA statement said, the rolls would have been reduced 100,000 in April.

Bill Sent to Senate.

The bill was sent to the senate where administration leaders will attempt to restore the $50,000,000 slashed from the President's request. Their efforts were futile in the house today. An amendment appropriating the full 150 million dollars, sponsored by Representative James M. Fitzpatrick [D., N. Y.], was defeated by a vote of 205 to 156.

The farm bloc in the senate, according to reports, will try to tack 250 million dollars in farm parity payments to the WPA bill. Under a house rule, it was impossible to make such an attempt in the house.

Amendments seeking to lower the 100 million dollar appropriation were beaten by margins as decisive as those attempting to raise it. Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.] proposed an appropriation of approximately $54,000,000 which he contended was sufficient for the WPA. It was defeated by a vote of 161 to 111.

Proposes 95 Million Cut.

Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.] offered a motion to return the bill to the appropriations committee for the purpose of cutting the amount to $55,000,000.

It was beaten on a roll call vote, 277 to 130.

The 100 million added to the more than 2 billion dollars already appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, gives the agency a total of $2,163,868,000 for the year. This is approximately a quarter of a billion dollars more than congress ever appropriated before for the WPA in one year.

Admiral Dewey's Civil War Sword Is Given to Museum

Washington, D. C., March 31.—(AP)—The sword Admiral George Dewey wore in the civil war has been presented to the Naval Academy museum by the admiral's son, George S. Dewey of Chicago. Dewey, the victor in the 1898 battle of Manila bay, wore the sword as a youthful lieutenant in the civil war.

Charles Schavone, referee in the Municipal court, was presented with an oil painting of himself yesterday by the Cardinal Bonzana society, an affiliate of the Italian-American National union. Ald. James J. McDermott [14th] made the presentation. Referee Schavone became a deputy clerk of the Municipal court 20 years ago. He was appointed referee by Chief Justice John Sonsteby in 1936.

15 DEMOCRATS FROM ILLINOIS BACK WPA FUND

Washington, D. C., March 31.—[Special.]—Fifteen Illinois Democrats voted for the 100 million dollar WPA appropriation bill in the house today. Nine Republicans voted against it.

The Democrats in favor of the measure were John C. Martin, Arthur W. Mitchell, Raymond S. McKeough, Edward A. Kelly, Adolph J. Sabath, Anton F. Maciejewski, Leonard W. Schuetz, Leo Kocialkowski, James McAndrews, James M. Barnes, Frank W. Fries, Edwin M. Schaefer, Laurence F. Arnold, Claude V. Parsons, and Kent E. Keller.

Republicans voting against the bill were Ralph E. Church, Chauncey W. Reed, Noah M. Mason, Leo E. Allen, Anton J. Johnson, Robert B. Clipperfield, Everett M. Dirksen, Leslie C. Arends, and William H. Wheat.

Representative Jessie Sumner was paired for the bill. Harry P. Beam was paired against it. Representative T. V. Smith did not vote.

3 City Workers Hurt When Pick Strikes Dynamite Cap

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations intended to be of value to those it seeks to serve.

THIS WAY TO SPRING!

By CALEB

DAFFODIL and delphinium—lily and lilac and larkspur—moonflower and morning-glory—dogwood, cyclamen, hydrangea and cardinal climber—such are the names that leap instinctively to one's lips! For a whole Spring-inspired sisterhood of blooms, now on view in the thirteenth annual Chicago Flower Show at Navy Pier, is represented by displays that, to one observer's mind, have never been equaled previously.

The secret, perhaps, lies in those indefatigable labors of love performed by its sponsors long before the formal preview of Friday evening, March 24th . . . when thousands of guests found themselves delightedly inspecting some three acres of varied entries and exhibits. The public sees only the perfection of the completed spectacle—seldom does it pause to think of the toilsome hours that have made such a spectacle possible.

Notable as any of the Show's fine features is the combination of the beautiful with the historic effected in the carefully worked out presentations of Chicagoland's many progressive garden clubs. One such—awarded a silver medal—is the forest approach and log-cabin replica prepared by the Cook County Forest Preserve—the garden being the work of the Western Springs Garden Club, and the cabin interior that of the Woman's Garden Club of Villa Park.

One finds here charming homes of a long earlier time in Illinois . . . such as a classic Grecian affair of 1840—a pair of brick houses from 1865 Galena—Aldine Square, in South Chicago of 1885—then modern residence types, as well as present-day concepts of what the future holds in store; windowless houses of glass, for example, with colored gravel backgrounds for shrubbery.

As an inspiring idea-source for amateur and professional gardeners, decorators, and all flower lovers, this latest show certainly climaxes any former occasions of the kind. Alluring arrangements of tables and blooms that interpret current preferences likewise suggest interesting possibilities for the innovator; and against such intriguing Springtime backgrounds our own Fashion Show offers the visitor timely illustrations of smart, modern women's wear that admirably "belong" in the company of Mother Nature dressed at her best.

Running through to April second, this Navy Pier show attracts to its colorful vistas scores of thousands of patrons . . . and not to have shared its spiritual refreshment is to have missed a priceless rendezvous for all who joy in the Great Outdoors.

LAY RED BARKER AMBUSH SLAYING TO TOUHYS' MOB

3 Fingered White Saved by Jammed Gun.

The ambush murder of George [Red] Barker and the bombing of the home of former Mayor Joseph G. Cerny of Cicero were blamed upon the Touhy gang yesterday. The accusations came from the same convict revealed on Thursday to have told Police Capt. Michael Naughton that the Touhy gang bombed Judge John P. McGoorty's home.

Prosecutors said that no criminal action can be taken against the criminals for the bombing of Judge McGoorty's home, since it occurred in 1932 and the statute of limitations has run. This is also the case with the Cerny bombing, in the same year.

But there is no statute of limitations on murder. And all those involved can be prosecuted if the evidence warrants, according to Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney.

Shot from Gun Nest.

Barker, a Capone killer seeking to seize Al Capone's vacant gangland throne and place labor under gangland rule, was ambushed on June 17, 1932, from a machine gun nest that police said was in a room at 1502 North Pulaski road.

Naughton said the convict told him that the shooting was done by Roger Touhy, who is now serving a ninety-nine year term at Joliet penitentiary for the kidnaping of John Factor. Albert [Polly Nose] Kator was in the machine gun nest with Touhy, according to the convict, but his gun jammed. Kator's assignment was to kill William [Three Fingered Jack] White, who was with Barker. White, another Capone leader, was finally assassinated in 1934.

The motive for the assassination, as explained by the convict, was this: Timothy J. Lynch, czar of the General Teamsters and Chauffeurs' union, was ambushed and slain on Nov. 9, 1931, behind his home at 416 North 4th avenue, Maywood. This murder was laid at the door of the Capone mob, and it was understood to have been directed by Barker.

Friends of Lynch appealed to the Touhys for vengeance, holding out the lure of an entrance into the labor field as a reward.

Indirect Attacks at Enemies.

The motive of the bombing at former Mayor Cerny's home was the same as that at Judge McGoorty's residence, the convict said: To turn pressure of public opinion on enemies.

Cerny had just been elected mayor of Cicero, the Capone stronghold. And he was closing Capone gambling resorts. The Touhy strategists thought that a bomb at the mayor's home would be interpreted as an outrage committed by the Capone mob. For that reason on June 19, 1932, a bomb was hurled at the mayor's Cicero home at 1832 South 50th court. No one was injured.

Precinct Judges Will Mark Ballots for St. Louis Jews

St. Louis, Mo., March 31.—(AP)—The board of election commissioners ruled today orthodox Jews voting in the city election next Tuesday, the first day of Passover, may have their ballots marked by the precinct judges. Members of the board said they had received many requests to make this ruling, because writing is among the activities forbidden orthodox Jews on the holiday. Previous requests by orthodox Jewish leaders to change the date of the election had to be refused because the time is set by law.

ASSESSOR WEBB SAYS HE HAS A BUSY YEAR AHEAD

Charles M. Webb, assessor of Lyons township, said yesterday that he wants to assure his constituents that he has plenty of work ahead of him. Assessor Webb was quoted in an item saying that the township won't have to make a tax levy for the 1939 fiscal year because of savings during the two preceding years and income from other sources. The headline on the item inferred that Webb would thus have nothing to do. He fears his constituents may make the same error. He wishes every one to know the work of assessing township property must go on. There are other tax bodies that will make levies and this is a quadrennial year when all real estate must be reassessed. In short, Webb said rather sternly, he will be very busy indeed.

13 CO-EDS SELECT CAREERS: THEY'LL MARRY THE GUYS

Romance Is Blossoming at N. U. and U. of C.

Thirteen co-eds at the University of Chicago and Northwestern university are willing to admit they have solved the modern problem of career versus marriage. They've decided on marriage. A survey at the two educational institutions last night found eight Northwestern girls and five Midway girls ready to listen to the chimes of wedding bells this summer.

Most of the co-eds are being graduated this June. In several cases their life partners to be are school sweethearts.

This Bachelor Is Ineligible.

One of the most interesting romances—according to campus gossip last night—is that between Miss Dorothy Raymond, 1015 Hinman avenue, in her junior year, who is understood to be the intended bride of Robert Voigts, all-conference football tackle and basketball star. Voights, a senior, recently was nominated a candidate for the title of "the most eligible bachelor" by an honorary sorority. He and Miss Raymond were high school sweethearts.

Other Northwestern marriages scheduled are between:

Miss Maud Eichmann, 830 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, a June graduate, who will be married to Robert Johnston of Detroit, Mich.; Miss Doris Wise of Flossmoor, a June graduate, to Warren Calvin Wheeler of Chicago; Miss Katharine May Whitaker, 1213 Michigan avenue, Evanston, a June graduate, daughter of Capt. Reginald Whitaker, U. S. A., who is engaged to William C. Banning, a West Pointer; Miss Elizabeth Neeves, 2014 Orrington avenue, a June graduate, to William F. Taylor, a New York accountant. [He's a Northwestern alumnus.]

Miss Nancy Powell of Wichita, Kas., a June graduate, to Charles Garretson of Ashland, O., also a June graduate [they're a campus dance team]; Miss Betsy Alden Weeks, 131 Kedzie street, Evanston, a sophomore, to Bevan Jones, a young Chicago cartoonist, and Miss Jane Dorset Lee, 801 Hinman avenue, Evanston, a June graduate, to George E. Home Jr. of Indianapolis.

And on the Midway.

The five University of Chicago brides-to-be are Miss Helen Thomson, 336 North Normal parkway, a June graduate, who will be married to Gordon A. Ziviseler of Pittsburgh; Miss Shirley Ann Sondel, 3006 Logan boulevard, to Joseph D. Kreuger; Miss Betty Beard, 5714 Blackstone avenue, to Alan B. Johnstone; Miss Judith Cunningham, 1321 East 56th street, to Robert Barr, and Miss Betty Mitchell, 8348 Dante avenue, to Ivan Niven.

Johnstone is a former Midway student, Kreuger and Barr are graduates there, and Niven is a doctor of philosophy. Ziviseler is a graduate of Armour institute.

RELIEF PADDING IN KANKAKEE UP TO PROSECUTOR

Kankakee, Ill., March 31.—[Special.]—State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro today asked the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to give him the detailed records of the commission's investigation of Kankakee relief rolls. IERC investigators found 44 per cent of the 550 cases on the rolls were not entitled to relief.

"I want to look at the records to see whether there is evidence of fraud that should be brought before the grand jury," Shapiro said.

William H. Maitland, who is the overseer of the poor, having been elected to a four year term as township supervisor two years ago, has discharged three members of his relief staf at the request of the IERC. The three are C. H. Edison, a former justice of the peace; James Cluck, a Republican precinct committeeman, and Mrs. Rebecca Du Bois.

U. S. DEBT TOTAL OVER 40 BILLION FOR FIRST TIME

Almost Doubled Under New Deal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—[Special.]—The New Deal will observe April Fool's day tomorrow by handing the nation a federal public debt of more than 40 billion dollars.

A simple bookkeeping transaction will remove between 40 and 50 million dollars from the treasury general fund and invest it in special treasury certificates, or I O U's, for the benefit of the old age pension reserve fund, thereby pushing the debt above the 40 billion mark for the first time in American history.

The latest debt figure, as of March 29, showed a total of 39 billion 983 million dollars, so the new record will be between 40 billion 23 million and 40 billion 33 millions.

Over $307 Per Capita.

On the basis of a 40 billion dollar debt and a population of 130 millions, it would require a contribution of $307.69 from every man, woman, and child in the nation to pay it off.

In contrast to promises of economy and budget balancing during the earlier years of his administration, the new debt record will be nearly double that when President Roosevelt took office on March 3, 1933. On that date, the government owed 20 billion, 937 millions dollars, or $130.20 per capita. Three months later it reached 22 billion 538 millions.

Interest alone on the present debt nearly equals the pre-war debt of 1 billion 282 million dollars on March 31, 1917. That was equal to $12.36 per person. At the end of last month the treasury figured that it was paying annual interest charges of 1 billion 17 million dollars on an indebtedness at that time of 39 billion 325 millions. Interest on the debt is now the third largest spending item in the budget, being exceeded only by relief and national defense expenditures.

How Debt Grew.

Here are some other significant comparisons on the growth of federal debt:

Civil war high	$ 2,776,000,000
1913	866,000,000
World war peak	26,597,000,000
Lowest post-war [Dec. 31, 1930]	16,026,000,000
1931 [June 30]	16,801,000,000
1932	19,487,000,000
1933	22,539,000,000
1934	27,053,000,000
1935	28,701,000,000
1936	33,779,000,000
1937	36,425,000,000
1938	37,165,000,000
1939 [estimated]	41,132,000,000
1940 [estimated]	44,458,000,000

In addition to the direct obligations which comprise the gross public debt of 40 billion must be added approximately 5 billions in obligations of various administration agencies, such as the RFC, HOLC, TVA, etc., which are guaranteed by the government.

Seeks to Raise Limitation.

In addition to this exclusively federal debt there is a public debt burden of approximately 20 billion dollars in obligations of state and local governments. The actual governmental debt, therefore, is in the neighborhood of 65 billion dollars.

The 40 billion in direct obligations of the federal government may be broken down into the following approximate debt classifications: 26 billion in bonds, 8 billion in notes, 2 billion in bills and certificates, and 4 billion in special issues.

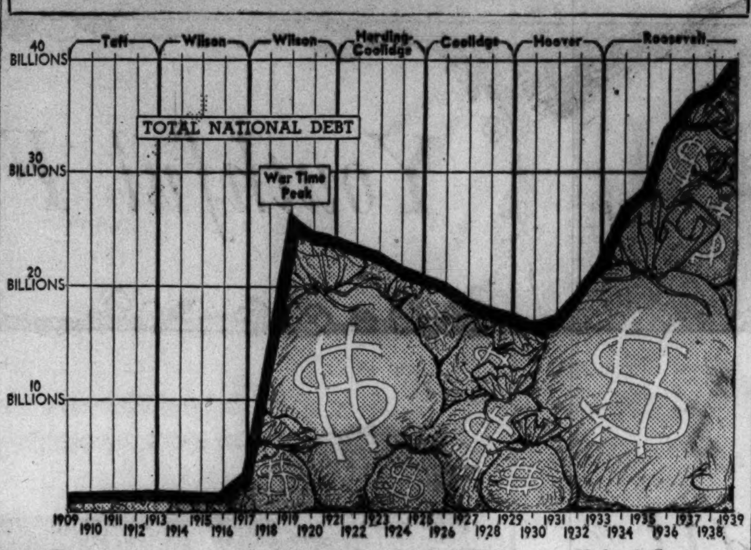
Just recently Mr. Roosevelt asked congress, upon the recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, to remove the present limit of 30 billion dollars on the amount of bonds that may be issued. Unless this was done, Morgenthau had said, the treasury would be unable to issue any bonds after Sept. 1.

Postpone Day of Reckoning.

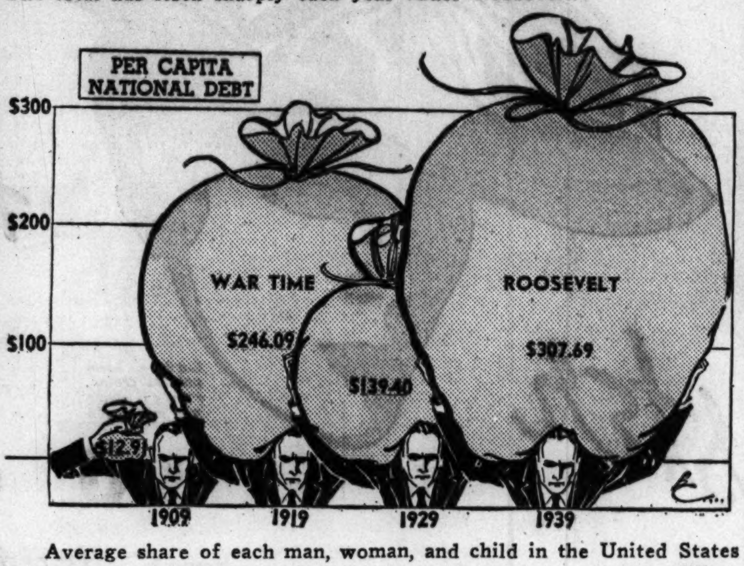
The move to remove the bond limit followed defeat on an attempt to boost the total legal debt limit from 45 to 50 billion dollars. The new proposal would enable the treasury to put a greater portion of its debt in long term obligations and postpone to another administration the day of settling for its deficit spending program.

Mr. Roosevelt in his budget message in January attempted to justify the huge federal debt by saying that a large part of it represented permanent public improvements and suggested a change in budgetary procedure whereby such expenditures should be written off as permanent additions to the national wealth.

Rise in the National Debt



The status of the national debt since 1909 in the United States as the total rises today above forty billion under the Roosevelt New Deal. The total has risen sharply each year under Roosevelt.



Average share of each man, woman, and child in the United States in the national debt, on the basis of a total population of 130 million, compared with that of ten years ago, twenty years ago, and thirty years ago.

ZOO DIRECTOR SCENTS AN APRIL FOOL JOKE IN ANONYMOUS DONATION

Director Floyd Young of the Lincoln park zoo was feeling contrite yesterday afternoon about the way he had welcomed Viola when she arrived earlier in the day. Viola is a little black animal with a white stripe that came, all crated up, from an anonymous sender.

"An April Fool's joke," zoo attendants said wryly. "Be careful," and for a long time they were stubbornly indifferent about uncrating her.

But Viola peered innocently through her crate and finally won them over. From now on she will be on exhibition with the rest of the zoo's skunks.

The telephone company made an April Fool announcement yesterday regarding the wags who call up the zoo and ask for "Mr. Bear," or the aquarium and ask for "Mr. Fish," or the dog pound and ask for "Mr. Barker." The company said there had been enough of such foolishness and that today its operators will intercept such calls and return the nickels to those pranksters who think that kind of thing is funny.

NAB CHLOROFORM BURGLAR AS HE ENTERS SCHOOL

Clifton Wright, 17 years old, was held by Woodlawn police last night as a school burglar. Police said they are particularly interested in a quantity of chloroform and cotton which he was carrying at the time of his arrest. According to police, young Wright was seized by Policeman Curtis Minogue as he broke into the Sexton school, 60th street and Langley avenue. Police said he is now on probation on a burglary charge. He is to be questioned today as to the reason he carried the chloroform. Wright lives at 550 East 62d street.

U. S. Informer Vanishes; Indicted as Embezzler

United States deputy marshals were searching last night for Harold S. Chapman, 537 South Clark street, a government informer who disappeared Sept. 23. He had been given $40 with which to buy narcotics from a suspected dealer. Early in the day he was indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of embezzling public money of the United States.

2 CHECK KITERS FLOAT $909,000 IN FREE LOANS

Indicted When a Bad Deal Brings Them to Earth.

An ingenious scheme by which two cattle buyers "borrowed" a total of $909,000 from the Aurora National bank without knowledge of the bank officials was disclosed yesterday in the United States District court.

The buyers, Robert D. Gulick, 35 years old, of Aurora, and Lester M. Harter, 33, of Naperville, and Nicholas P. Lies, assistant cashier of the bank, a trusted employé for twenty-one years, were indicted on charges of misapplication of the funds of a national bank. The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

According to Assistant United States District Attorney Martin Gerber, the men wrote, cashed, and cleared 862 checks by a method known as 'kiting" over a period from Nov. 1, 1936, to Feb. 10, 1938. The only money of their own they used was $200 which Harter originally had deposited in the Naperville National bank.

Accused Men Skip Out.

All three of the accused men are fugitives. Police were hunting them last night. Gulick lived at 1218 New York street, Aurora. He is a friend of Lies, who lived at 728 Grove street in the suburb. Harter lives in Naperville.

The plot was launched, said Gerber, when Harter began writing checks to Gulick on the Naperville bank. They averaged from $2,000 to $3,500. Gulick took them to the Aurora National bank, where Lies cashed them. Then Harter and Gulick used the money to buy cattle, which they quickly sold at a profit. They then deposited sufficient funds in the Naperville bank to cover the checks they had written.

Use Cash; Pay No Interest.

It required about four days for the checks to clear, so Harter and Gulick had the use of the money without interest for that period. Their "take" was the profit on the cattle business and out of this they paid Lies.

If the men lost on a transaction, they would not be able to cover the checks and the scheme would break down, with the bank sustaining the losses. After a long period of remarkably good luck they did lose on a deal and exposure followed.

Officials of the Aurora bank first learned of the plot when four checks, totaling $11,960, were returned marked "insufficient funds." Then they discovered that the checks had been clearing through their bank daily for nearly a year and a half.

BEATRICE LILLIE GETS SURPRISE; A 6 FOOT 2 SON WITH MUSTACHE

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Beatrice Lillie got a surprise today when she went down to the dock to greet her son, Sir Robert Peel, whom she hadn't seen for a year.

The young baronet—he is not quite 18—had grown several inches to a height of 6 feet 2, nearly a foot taller than his mother.

Moreover, he had grown a mustache recently. When she recovered from the first shock, Miss Lillie said with a characteristic gesture at the mustache: "That must go!"

FIGHT OVER REDS BLOWS OFF LID IN UAW CONVENTION

C. I. O. Leaders Strive to Put Down Revolt.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., March 31.—[Special.]—C. I. O. leaders tonight were using desperate last-ditch measures to prevent the fight between communists and more conservative elements in the United Automobile Workers' union [C. I. O. branch] from causing a complete breakdown of this convention, now in its fifth day.

Throughout the day and tonight secret meetings were being held in two downtown hotels as Sidney Hillman, a vice president of the C. I. O., and a corps of veteran labor organizers attempted to sooth the rising tempers of the U. A. W. leaders from both sides. Open battle on the convention floor was narrowly averted today despite the C. I. O. intervention.

Frankensteen Gains Floor.

Although most of the U. A. W. officers were occupied throughout the day with the conferences, Richard T. Frankensteen, a U. A. W. vice president, slipped into the convention hall just before the close of the day. Gaining the floor during a lull, he said:

"I want to refer the convention to two reports in Cleveland newspapers that say certain groups in this caucus are out to purge it of communists.

"These stories were inspired by persons on the pay rolls of this union. I charge and say that there is a group in the convention using tactics we've learned are not beneficial to the union. They are giving great comfort to Homer Martin and to every group in the United States that said the U. A. W. was communist controled.

"I say that power caucuses and meetings are detrimental to the union. You as the leaders of the union know that statements concerning communistic leadership here are damnable lies and vicious falsehoods."

Thomas Asks Explanation.

R. J. Thomas, president of the union who was presiding, replied that he personally had not taken part in any report spreading and said he did not understand the reason for Frankensteen's anger.

"Furthermore, if there are any other officers of this convention that want to make campaign speeches," said Thomas, "I suggest that we set aside a special time and place for that purpose."

Frankensteen, who is known as the communist candidate to replace Thomas, a conservative, jumped to his feet again and said:

"I didn't mention the president's name. I wish he would explain whether he is defending power caucuses or the capitalistic press in his remarks."

From throughout the gathering of 450 delegates there swelled a loud booing.

"That's your explanation," Thomas told Frankensteen.

Showdown Draws Near.

This clash, with other signs of trouble indicated the closeness of the breaking point among the delegates. Tomorrow is expected to bring a definite showdown on the revolt against the Reds when the convention must consider the report of the constitution committee.

The committee, headed by Walter Reuther, leader of the rank and file revolt, now intends to recommend that only three executive officials—a president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer—be chosen. In the past there have been five vice presidential jobs, usually given as political plums.

Originally the communists planned to put up their own complete slate of U. A. W. officers, but they were halted by C. I. O. organizers. Then a deal was arranged by which the union would get a conservative president, but four of the five vice presidencies would go to the communists. However, the rank and file members have bolted this deal and now favor the one vice president plan.

If this plan is adopted the men who are now union officers but are known to be influenced and directed by the communists will be out of jobs. These men are Frankensteen, Ed Hall, and Wyndham Mortimer, all currently vice presidents.

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

HIGHWAY POLICE TO WARN DRIVERS TO GET NEW TAGS

State highway police have been ordered to give warning tickets to motorists still driving with 1938 license plates, it was announced yesterday in Springfield. Officers at state police stations at Blue Island and at Harlem avenue and Irving Park boulevard said they had been issuing such warning tickets at the rate of about thirty a day.

State officials said about 250,000 to 300,000 car owners are without 1939 tags.

AUTO FATALITIES IN FIRST QUARTER EXCEED 1938 MARK

Two more persons were killed by automobiles in Cook county during the first three months of 1939 than in the same period last year, the coroner's office reported yesterday. From Jan. 1 to April 1 last year 233 persons were killed. Up to 4 p. m. yesterday the 1939 total was 235.

This year 102 persons were killed in January, 48 in February, and 85 in March. Last year 113 were killed in January, 58 in February, and 62 in March. Of the 235 total for 1939, 173 were killed in Chicago, where 4,468 were injured in the same period.

Samuel Johnson, colored, 11 years old, of 2656 Warren boulevard, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by an automobile at Fulton street and California avenue. James F. Kenny, 3048 Franklin boulevard, was the driver.

VETERAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK.

Thomas S. Grady, 63 years old, 5123 Dakin street, a Spanish-American war veteran, died of a heart attack yesterday in his home. His widow, Emma, survives.

STOLEN CAR RUNS WILD; PERILS 20 SCHOOL CHILDREN

More than twenty small boys and girls, returning from school, were forced to scatter pell mell yesterday when a stolen automobile ran onto the sidewalk and crashed into a building at 3722 Altgeld street. The car's two youthful occupants fled unhurt. One, Frank Wolf, 16 years old, 2903 North Lawndale avenue, was captured by a police squad. His alleged companion, Edward Matuszek, 17, of 2934 North Ridgeway avenue, was seized later.

According to Policemen Walter Banach, George Schneider, and Anthony McMahon of the Shakespeare avenue station, Wolf and Matuszek stole the car Friday night. As they were rounding a corner yesterday the steering wheel locked and the car crashed into the building. Judson Gregg, 8209 Michigan avenue, a bakery driver, who saw the accident, told police he was amazed that the children escaped being hit. They attend Our Lady of Grace school.

COTTON AND WAR.

Mr. Roosevelt has improvised an export subsidy scheme to dispose of the enormous cotton surplus of 11 million bales now in government hands, and Senator Bankhead has concocted a producer-subsidy scheme which he and the senate committee on agriculture think is preferable.

There is little to choose between the two proposals. Both are thoroughly bad and the adoption of either of them will be followed by a chain of disastrous consequences. The betrayal of the cotton growers began under the Hoover farm board, whose mistakes Mr. Roosevelt was at great pains to denounce. He refused, however, to profit from this demonstration of the menacing futility of price rigging and instead repeated the mistake on a grander scale. The consequences were predictable and predicted, but with characteristic self-assurance Mr. Roosevelt plunged ahead.

All he succeeded in doing was to price American cotton out of the world's markets. Substantially half the normal American crop must be sold in export if it is to be sold at all. Accordingly, the unsold surplus in warehouses in this country grew with great rapidity while foreign competitors were encouraged to increase their cotton acreage and take our customers.

The administration seems to have had some notion that it could avoid the catastrophe which now confronts it by bribing the planters to reduce their acreage. Here, too, the record is one of dismal failure. The farmers spent their bonuses on fertilizers and concentrated their efforts on their best land, with the result that in 1937 one of the biggest crops on record was gathered and in other years the production has been little reduced. The most striking as well as the most infamous result of acreage limitation was to throw hundreds of thousands of families of tenants and share-croppers off the land and on relief.

The trick remedies which are now being proposed will only make matters worse. Mr. Roosevelt's export subsidy not only will impose a heavy additional burden on the taxpayers but also will give foreign manufacturers a subsidy at the expense of domestic manufacturers. In addition, it will make a mockery of Secretary Hull's international trade policies and, in particular, will make this country a laughing stock for its recent denunciation of German dumping practices.

Mr. Bankhead's scheme will impose an even heavier burden on the taxpayers than Mr. Roosevelt's and will encourage the planters to throw additional hundreds of thousands of their dependents on relief.

The situation of the cotton farmers was not a happy one when Mr. Roosevelt and his brain trusters concocted their plans, but today the outlook for the industry and the men engaged in it in all its branches is far worse than it has ever been.

The administration today is indulging in warlike gestures. Cotton is one of the most important raw materials of war, for it is used in the manufacture of ammunition as well as for soldiers' clothing, tires, and many other military essentials. Another great war would pretty well solve the problem of the cotton surplus, to say nothing of the collateral problems raised by all the other New Deal agricultural surpluses. At the same time war would save Mr. Roosevelt the necessity of explaining the continuance of unemployment in the country long after he had promised to abolish it. To men who are as indifferent to consequences and as eager to adopt quack remedies as the New Dealers showed themselves to be in the adoption of their cotton program, the immediate advantages of war might seem to outweigh any objections raised to it on the ground of its ultimate cost in blood and money.

A LESSON IN LAW MAKING.

Old fashioned Americans who have always cherished, and rather proudly, the belief that Americans, given a chance to think things out, are always fair-minded and devoted to the American principle of equity before law, will not enjoy reading a recent decision of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia. This decision deals with the Wagner act and holds that it establishes "an inequality as between an employer and employés," declaring that while the employer has a substantive right to carry on business, he lacks a legal remedy for protecting the same against injury through the struggle of competing unions, even though he be indifferent as to the choice of his employés between them, whereas the employés in respect of their substantive rights of self-organization and collective bargaining are afforded a protective remedy under the elective and certificative power of the board.

There isn't any news in this declaration of the inequity of the National Labor Relations act, but it is to be hoped it will help to energize congress in dealing with that example of the New Deal's pretense to "social justice." Both the Wagner act and its administration by the NLRB have given the fair-minded American a look-in on the ethics of the New Deal and its real intentions, which were not, as alleged, to aid industrial peace but to aid a faction of organized labor that had bought the favor of the administration in office. The condoning of the lawlessness and violence which resulted from this conspiracy is the outstanding product of the Wagner act administration, and a lesson to labor and to all American citizens in unfair government. There is no duty now before congress more plain than to set this un-American wrong right.

IF ORGANIZED THEY COULD STOP IT.

During the last six years business taxes have become so heavy that a large number of companies which formerly paid dividends without interruption over a long period of years are not now able to do so. The annual reports which have recently become available show to what extent the government is taking what would otherwise be available for payments to stock and bond holders. The tax bill of the General Motors corporation in 1938 was equivalent to 72 per cent of earnings, leaving 28 per cent for dividends and the company's needs. The Inland Steel company reported earnings of $5.18 per share, but taxes took $2.06 of it. Continental Oil company earned over 19 million dollars, but 13 million 948 thousand of the amount which would have been available for stockholders went for taxes.

These are examples of which duplicates can be found daily on the financial pages. The earnings of corporations made possible by the capital contributed by stockholders and bondholders are being hogged by the burocrats. Among the 35 million families of the country are to be found 20 million corporate security holders. Thus security ownership is nearly as common as automobile ownership. The pity of it is that this bleeding of the corporation owners is proceeding with hardly a protest from stockholders, whose numbers are such that if aroused to action they could protect their interests.

ISLAND AIRPORT SAFETY.

The recent plane tragedy at the Oklahoma City airport was a result of motor failure. The plane had left the field. The pilot, after the failure, turned and tried to get back for a safe landing. The crash occurred at the edge of the airport.

Engine failures during a takeoff are by no means uncommon, and when they occur the pilot usually must be blessed by luck as well as skill to turn back safely. The island airport which Chicago needs would greatly reduce this hazard, particularly the hazard of fire that was responsible for the Oklahoma City deaths.

The island airport will have no boundary barriers of any sort on three of its sides. There will be no necessity of turning back. In an emergency a plane can be set down in the water, where its buoyancy will sustain it long enough to permit rescue of the passengers and crew.

MR. GREEN VIEWS WITH ALARM.

Representative Leroy M. Green of Rockford made some remarkable statements the other day in the state legislature when the lower house killed a bill to alter the boundaries of a downstate judicial circuit.

"This bill would set a precedent," said Mr. Green. "If upheld by the state Supreme court, it would open the door to senatorial as well as judicial redistricting over all Illinois. There would be such gerrymandering as has never been seen before."

Mr. Green will find, on consulting the state constitution, that the door to senatorial redistricting has been open for quite a few years. Downstate members of the legislature have been consistently faithless to their oath of office for the last twenty-eight years by their refusal to comply with the constitutional provision for redistricting.

And as to gerrymandering, the 1901 apportionment of senatorial districts which Mr. Green seems anxious to defend has by now become one of the most notorious gerrymanders in the nation through its denial of proper representation to Cook county and other counties that have increased their population in the last thirty years.

Editorial of the Day

ECCLES WAKES UP.

[Indianapolis News.]

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, has, it seems, been reading the November election returns and the Congressional Record. He has discovered that the November vote reflected discontent over the New Deal spending policy. The great manufacturing and farm states of the middle west and the northeast voted against it. They not only voted against it but they overcame administration spending to make their views known. This stunned the New Dealers in both houses of congress. They were on the firing line and felt the blast of opposition. They are now trying to do something about it in congress. Their eyes are on 1940. They want to keep their jobs and their patronage.

The consistency with which Chairman Eccles has advocated recklessness, improvidence and sheer waste in public spending has been disheartening to business. His reasons have never been impressive. But the country has been impressed by the fact that the administration kept a spending champion in as head of the important federal reserve board. The close connection of this board with the general banking structure and the federal fiscal policy imposes upon it an obligation of prudence and conservatism. Chairman Eccles is neither prudent nor conservative.

The Eccles conversion to retrenchment was brought about by popular opinion. He is, however, not converted at heart. In making his statement of submission to the popular will, he said: "While I am convinced that such a policy of retrenchment under present conditions would have disastrous results, we live in a democracy and, therefore, I believe that the viewpoint of the majority should be promptly made effective. The country is entitled to clear-cut and prompt determination of policy on this vital issue. Uncertainty and hesitation do not contribute to recovery." Whether he had his fingers crossed when he said this remains to be seen. The country has reason to wait and see. But to wring from him an admission that the people should have something to say about what is done with their money is, at least, to get ahead a little.

CHICAGO'S "QUALITY STREET."

"Rosalie court!" exclaims Contributor Fred J. Charles. "What, you never heard of it?" Then he runs on for several hundred words, saying little but this:

"You've read 'Quality Street,' by Sir James Matthew Barrie, haven't you? Well, Rosalie court was as near as Chicago could come to Quality Street."

Indeed it was, when young, in its two blocks from 57th street to the Midway, just west of the Illinois Central tracks. We never lived there, but—"O, don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?" She lived there.

At the 57th street beginning of this leafy lane of happy houses, southwest corner, there was Rosalie hall, where our generation of high school and college students waltzed and two stepped. And in this same Rosalie hall an opera singer of world renown made her first public appearance. She was Mary Garden.

Rosalie court has lost its lovely name and has been annexed to Harper avenue.

Contributors Are Like Flowers.

Your Line o' Type adds just that pleasing touch to the morning newspaper which a garden fresh bouquet on the breakfast table brings. There is the sweet fragrance of poesy; the spicy aroma of humor, the clear tang of odd Chicagoland facts, all deftly arranged in the tall slender vase of the column.

Scholasticuss and Tom Chekouras have added themselves to my list of favorites. Tom makes me think of royal purple and gold "flags" [iris, to you, mayhap], rioting on either side of a doorstep; while Scholasticuss reminds me of the rubber plant which stood on our high school auditorium stage year after year, the ever ready butt of would-be jokesters.

How about some more all-poetry days?

APRIL'S WILES.

Golden April is here again;
I knew her by her smile.
She begged to take me walking
Down a moss-covered aisle.

She proudly showed her handiwork,
Pale, yellow daffodils,
A nest of sky-blue robin's eggs,
And violets on the hills.

She pointed to white lilac buds,
And a basking yellow cat,
Then slyly beckoned silver rain
To ruin my new spring hat.

The Old Skyscraper Man.

Chicago, birthplace of the skyscraper, fittingly may mourn the recent passing of William Bryce Mundie, the architect. Although he was only a draftsman in the office of William Le Baron Jenney when the world's first true type skyscraper, the old Home Insurance building that stood at La Salle and Adams streets, was under way, Mr. Mundie's subsequent services to his employer, to architecture, and to Chicago merit lasting remembrance.

More than any other one man, he battled to defend Chicago's claim to priority as the scene of the first skyscraper. He risked his life, climbing on ledges, at an advanced age to make his own photographs revealing the actual construction employed in a building [not the Home Insurance] that was being publicized as the first skyscraper. This was done when the rival structure was being razed. He wrote a history of building, tracing the evolution of the skyscraper. It is an ironical fact that this significant manuscript has never yet been published.

Loyal to his city, his profession, and his associates, Mr. Mundie continued to toil in his offices, at his book and at other matters even after a severe accident which severely injured his back. He was a builder, a fighter, a champion of truth. One occasionally wonders if the present generation of leaners, whiners, and destructionists will ever produce a man one-half as sturdy and as strong in character!

A Star Gazer in Portage Park.

Regarding the dome on the house at 5149 Agatite avenue, which has agitated Horatio Octavius Quintillian [3-29-'39]: It houses an old but excellent 5½ inch telescope, used for many years by Harvard university and now the property of Dr. William B. White, a research engineer and amateur astronomer. Through it I have often seen the terrifying furnaces of the sun spots, the cold mountains and blue shadowed valleys of the moon, the beauty of Jupiter and four of its nine satellites, and the majesty of Saturn's rings.

LOCATE THE ORIGIN OF DIARRHEA.

DIARRHEA is not a disease but a symptom of abnormal behavior along the alimentary tract. We are not especially surprised when the condition arises after eating spoiled food. But occasionally there is no obvious cause—whereupon a careful search must be made for the "starter."

If the stools are frequent one may argue that nature is trying to rid the body of noxious material. True enough, but perhaps there is an infection along the canal that should receive attention. Furthermore, the constant loss of water will be followed by a serious upset in the fluid balance within the tissues. In Asiatic cholera, for example, which is characterized by numerous and extensive bowel movements, we would not sit idly by and console ourselves with the thought that everything is for the best.

In many instances, then, it becomes necessary to make a microscopic study of the excreta, as sometimes a causative organism may be located. A special type of ameba [endameba histolytica], the dysentery bacillus, or even the typhoid germ may be identified. It is important to know just what microbe is responsible as often a vaccine or a serum may be administered with great benefit.

Many seemingly normal persons will complain of from two to eight watery discharges daily. No small percentage will be found to lack hydrochloric acid—which should be present in the gastric juice. This situation may persist for quite some time with no apparent influence upon general health, but sooner or later anemia will develop. These individuals tire easily and gaseous rumblings within the intestine are habitual. Taking the acid by mouth in proper doses will relieve the trouble completely. While there is no infection, there is enough disturbance of digestion to account for a constant sense of fatigue. If the stools are examined a substantial quantity of undigested food—particularly starch—may be observed.

The difficulty may also be associated with a nervous habit or constitution. The patient exists in a delicate adjustment which is thrown out of gear readily. An improper diet, a toxic goiter, or some failure on the part of the kidneys—may be sufficient to disorganize the whole digestive machinery. The physician will direct his efforts toward modifying the menu, adjusting the thyroid, or aiding the kidneys to function.

Again, we must look to some possible food deficiency, such as the absence of vitamin B. Here the discharges may be profuse with a sizable deprivation not only of fluid but of minerals. It is generally agreed that there are many pellagralike manifestations which will not go so far as pigmentation of the skin or the exhibition of other signs. But if the food test—the addition of yeast—brings respite, we may know that shortage of this vitamin is to blame.

For the purpose of controlling diarrhea of undetermined origin—where no method of diagnosis seems to yield the slightest clew—physicians have come to rely upon kaolin [clay], charcoal, various forms of bismuth, even paregoric.

After the number of movements has begun to decrease, the question of feeding should be considered. Dry toast, covered with boiled milk thickened with wheat flour, is well borne. If cramps accompany the taking of food hot applications to the abdomen will be of assistance. Many of these chronic victims will feel more comfortable if hot wet packs are applied to this area for an hour daily. This plan is useful even in colitis with an excessive secretion of mucus. If there are ulcers or fissures about the anus these will need to be treated locally.

The use of vaccines is successful in many instances. Bargen has discovered a strain of streptococcus occurring in tiny ulcers about the rectal orifice, which can be grown on suitable culture media and vaccines prepared therefrom. More recently, a preparation of sulfanilamide [neo-prontosil] has been employed.

A word of warning should be sounded against colonic irrigations, as they may cause irritation, increasing the severity of the malady.

THE DOCTOR DISAGREES.

H. E. P. writes: Recently you answered an inquiry about a boy who shakes his head continuously. I have seen a few cases of similar nature, in which the symptoms were traced to lateral nystagmus. The patient, in order to obtain relief from the apparent movement of objects, will learn sometimes to hold the eyes still and fixed, and to make rapid to and fro motions of the head in order to keep the image of the object centered on the fovea. In all cases of head shaking a careful eye examination is indicated. I know of several diagnosed as torticollis which were found to have as the main causative factor a high degree of muscular imbalance. The patient would learn to ease the resultant strain on eye muscles by tilting and carrying the head slightly on one side.

REPLY.

The lad in question probably has not only nystagmus [involuntary, rapid movements of the eyeball], but some nervous lesion which is responsible for the head motions. I know of no well authenticated case of nystagmus accompanied by shaking of the head, unless associated with disease of the central nervous system. A different sort of muscle imbalance is involved from that which is combined with torticollis. Help to the eye muscles will exert little, if any, influence. An examination by an ophthalmologist, as well as by an expert neurologist, may be required.

AVOID THE IRRITANT.

A. B. writes: What is dermatitis venenata? Will diet help? What home treatment may be employed?

REPLY.

An irritation of the skin brought on by something in the environment. The cause may be plants [such as ivy] or chemicals [soap, acid, etc.]. Diet is not a factor. Treatment calls for avoidance of the irritant and the application of some soothing ointment.

HE CARRIES ON AS USUAL.

J. M. writes:

1. What happens if a person has 4,500,000 red blood cells and 9,350 white cells per cu. mm.?

2. What can be done to increase the red cells and decrease the white?

REPLY.

1. He continues to live a normal life.
2. Keep up the resistance, eat a well balanced diet, obtain adequate rest, and follow a hygienic program.

LONGER AND REDDER TAPE.

Chicago, March 29.—This is a true story and has provided me with so many good laughs I'm passing it along to others who need a laugh now and then.

I represent an account which is the sole source of supply in this country of copies of an original book written during the civil war for instruction to beginners in drum and fife music.

Evidently the band master at the navy yard in Washington got wind that such a book could be had. He sent out inquiries and such reached a firm in Boston with whom we had been doing business along this line. The letter was forwarded to me. I wrote across the bottom of the letter the price of the book—total $2.00 and sent it back to the band master. Yesterday I got eight different forms, four of them printed on both sides, making 12 1-3 feet of forms to fill out. I replied as follows:

"Dear Government:

"I wrote you and said that the books would be $1.00 each—total $2.00. I get back 8 sheets of forms to fill out that would take me at least 6 hours to find out what it is all about and out of that $2.00 my commission would be 20 cents. It would be cheaper for me to donate the books to you.

"Anyhow here's your forms back for I refuse to do the necessary skull work.

"Yours for bigger and better government."

STARE DECISIS.

Chicago, March 28.—After the death of the doctrin of stare decisis, which occurred in the chambers of the Supreme court of the United States yesterday, permit me to offer my lamentations.

This time honored doctrin of precedents in the courts has been the very pedestal of common law justice for over ten centuries, and in it is inured the very roots of democracy. Under this principle of justice the courts administer the law in accordance with the decisions of their predecessors and thus insure to the posterity of each generation the heritage of the wisdom and integrity of their ancestors. The entire merit of stare decisis is well contained in the words of the then Justice Holmes when he said, "one page of experience is worth a volume of prediction." Applying the doctrin of precedence is nothing more than availing the courts of the experiences of their predecessors on the bench.

With its passing can come only courts of men rather than laws. To what then may men look for the determination of their constitutional rights; the mere whims or political beliefs of the justices rather than laws established by the preceding decisions of the courts?

ROBERT C. KELSO.

DID F. D. R. SCARE MUSSOLINI?

Chicago, March 28.—Your editorial in today's TRIBUNE, "Il Duce's Demands," exhibits the same brand of logic that you consistently employ in trying to discredit every move this government takes.

You cite the mildness of Il Duce's demands as evidence of groundless fears that this country has anything to dread from the dictator states against the democracies. THE TRIBUNE knows, as every thinking person knows, that Il Duce's mildness was induced by this country's strong stand and its willingness to assist France and England with arms to stop wanton aggression. However, as a molder of public opinion, THE TRIBNUE is pitifully ineffective. H. W.

IT'S SPRING IN BENTON.

Benton, Ill., March 29.—In Monday's paper a contributor wrote a beautiful article on the romance of a trip through Michigan, its flowers, scenery, and pines. I received great joy from the article because I am not acquainted with Michigan. Just having arrived home from a very short stay in Chicago, I wondered if the same person might not get the same joy from southern Illinois.

Upon arriving from the cold, windy Chicago and stepping from the automobile I had to step over a small violet bed in bloom to keep from crushing the blossoms. The crocus and jonquils spread a rare perfume over the entire neighborhood.

My bedroom window was a picture. The branches of a plum tree were a mass of white fragrant blossoms.

In a few weeks the peach and apple orchards from Carbondale, winding in all directions south, southeast and southwest, will be miles of rare beauty that even Corot or his present followers can not do justice. MRS. B. L. TAYLOR.

FOR AN AAA PROBE.

Grundy Center, Ia., March 29.—Since congress is going to investigate the WPA why not take in the farmers' setup also.

WILLIAM G. KERR.

WIDOWS, BEWARE.

Chicago, March 18.—It has come to my attention recently that there is a new racket and THE TRIBUNE will do a good service to expose the crooks. A man sees the death notice and names in the paper.

He comes to the widow and tells her her husband had a paid up policy or a lapsed policy with value in a certain life insurance company.

He says it will require a small sum to prove her claim.

He secures from her a sum ranging from $10 to $20, giving her a receipt and promising to bring her the money. This is the last she sees of him.

No company or its agents ever makes any charge to a beneficiary for helping her make proof to establish the claim.

GEO. R. JARVIS.

THE ANARCHISTS.

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 16.—Apropos your premature editorial postmortem on anarchism, I would call attention to two facts:

Spain is the only country in Europe where anarchists are numerically important.

And Spain is the only country in Europe which has offered real resistance to the onsweeping Fascist horror.

OLD AGE PENSION.

Chicago, March 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Will you please print something about the old age pension plan?

2. Have been told that the government is just loaning them the money and that when the old folks pass away the government is going to try in every way to get it back.

3. For instance, they now place a lien on an old home even if there is a mortgage ahead of them, and [4] expect to recover part of their money.

5. They put claims in against the sons and daughters of these old people even if they have their own families.

6. They also try to get what they can through insurance, real estate, or other things inherited. A. N.

1. This is rather a vague order.

2. The accumulated pension payments are a charge against any estate that the recipients leave at the time of their death, if that is what you mean.

3. The statute makes no provision for a lien.

4. Correct.

5 and 6. They would not be personally liable, but see 2.

The old age assistance act provides in section 2 that in order to be eligible the applicant must not have "sufficient income to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health." We find no similarly express requirement as to the assets or insurance policies that will disqualify, but amendments in sections 7½ and 13 require information as to insurance policies and newly acquired assets. These and section 3 imply that the determination of need is not to depend entirely on income. Clearly it would not be reasonable for a person who had large but unproductive property holdings to refuse to sell his holdings before applying for the assistance.

As we understand it, the administrative officials are taking the position that the necessary burial expenses are taken care of by the $100 allowance under section 14½ of the act, and that if the applicant continues to carry burial insurance he will be in substance using the pension money to provide for an unnecessarily ostentatious funeral. If the insurance is not related to burial expenses then it could be construed as channeling the pension money into the hands of the beneficiaries after the death of the pensioner. The purpose of the old age assistance act is to take care of the present needs of the pensioner and we consider it to be within the spirit of the act for the officials to insist that the applicant's available resources shall be used for his living expenses before he claims the assistance.

BOOKS

Lives, Works, and Times of Rebels in Art

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

"Rebels of Art, Manet to Matisse," by George Slocombe. [McBride, $3.50.] Published recently.

George Slocombe has gathered together most of the notables of "rebel" art in this book, which contains interesting and informative biographies of Manet, Monet, Pissaro, Cezanne, Toulouse-Lautrec, Renoir, Sisley, Degas, Gauguin, Van Gogh, Modigliani, Utrillo, and Matisse. Although not all of these men were French, it is explained that they painted in French, as it were. They all belonged to the modern French movement and were influenced by French culture and the French scene and character.

Conservative as some of them [Manet, Monet, Degas, and Renoir] now seem to our eyes, in their day they were storm centers and were called iconoclasts, innovators, and rebels.

The chapter on the life and work of Renoir is particularly interesting. Fate played a large part in his career. Had it not been for a new invention which permitted the printing of designs on china and threw hundreds of artisans out of work, Renoir probably would have continued as a porcelain painter. Out of a job, he took to painting screens, and then, because of a friend, became a student in the studio of Gleyre. There he first applied himself to the art that later was to make him famous.

Besides the accounts of the lives and works of these "rebels of art," Mr. Slocombe devotes three chapters to their background, to re-creating the social scene of Paris under the second empire and in the nineties.

The book is illustrated with thirty-two representative pictures, printed in gravure, and makes an excellent addition to any library.

Katharine Cornell's Life

"I Wanted to Be an Actress, the Autobiography of Katharine Cornell." [Random House, $3.] Published Wednesday.

This is the story of the life of Katharine Cornell as told to Ruth Woodbury Sedgwick, who explains that she didn't want "to wait for the definitive biography which inevitably accompanies the twilight of every important stage career," but wished to hear now of the day to day happenings of the first part of the actress' life.

As they were told her she recorded them, and this autobiography is the result. It is entertaining reading, being spiced with humor and many amusing anecdotes. Miss Cornell got her dramatic training in stock, as have so many other fine artists, and she credits Jessie Bonstelle, in whose Detroit company she worked for a number of years, with starting her on the road to Broadway success.

All the plays in which she has acted are discussed in order. The dream of being her own producer was realized in the staging of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," her first drama produced by the Cornell-McClintic corporation.

Miss Cornell's story is that of a busy, active, hard working actress. Not so much what she thought, but what she did, fills the pages. There is nothing of her philosophy of life, but everything of her accomplishments. Perhaps the philosophy will come later.

Tallulah Bankhead's Play

"The Little Foxes," by Lillian Hellman. [Random House, $2.] Published yesterday.

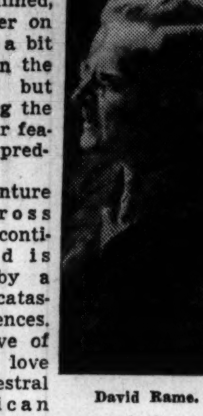
This is the drama in which Tallulah Bankhead is now playing in New York. "The little foxes" are two brothers and a sister who try to destroy one another. Each one, utterly ruthless, seeks to outwit the other in a business deal which is to bring them millions.

One brother, Oscar, is married to a timid, gentle woman, a true aristocrat of the old south. The sister's husband also is an honorable person, and her daughter is beginning to find out how miserable her father's life has been for years. Complications heighten an already tense situation, and suspense mounts rapidly until the dénouement of the last act.

"The Little Foxes" is a play you can't lay aside until you have finished.

Novel Chronicles a Vivid Adventure in the Pattern of 'Anthony Adverse'

"Wine of Good Hope," by David Rame. [Macmillan, $2.50.]



David Rame.

"Wine of Good Hope" is the 1939 model of the perennially popular "Anthony Adverse," more streamlined, a little faster on the uptake, a bit swifter on the open road, but incorporating the most popular features of its predecessor.

Its adventure flashes across seas and continents and is motivated by a series of catastrophic violences. There is love of woman and love of the ancestral South African vineyards to work romantic havoc in the lives of the characters.

The first part of the book [also like "Anthony Adverse"] has a rich beauty. The author, a South African, writes of his native land with rare skill and stanch power. Lanquedoc lives in his pages down to its last poinsettia outdoors and its last tulipwood chest indoors.

The traditional curse of the Lemaires broods in the story. There is bitterness between Tony and Tonia over possessing Lanquedoc, and Tonia uses subtle means to make her brother roam. Her first attempt—sending him as a schoolboy on an oxen trek—ends tragically in his firmer passion for his silver trees.

Fate then begins knocking Tony about. Fire destroys his favorite vineyards. In an attempt to earn money to repair them, the smuggling boat in which he has shipped with two friends is wrecked in a storm and they are picked up by a freighter bound for Brazil. For eight years Tony swashbuckles over the earth, has a hand in revolutions in South America, in a murderous brawl in Malay, nearly loses his reckless life time and again on land and at sea, learns from Singapore, London, and New York that cities are not for him.

The record of Tony's adventures is melodrama shot through—at times—with really beautiful description. It will take many a fettered reader on an exciting literary junket. F. B.

Burgoyne's Ill Fated March

"Guns of Burgoyne," by Bruce Lancaster. [Stokes, $2.50.]

The story of "Gentleman Johnny" Burgoyne's march toward the Hudson has become a classic of military stupidity. His troops, in their brilliant, unwieldy uniforms, were easy prey for the American woodsmen who fought and ran away to fight another day—until Burgoyne's English and mercenary troops couldn't fight any more.

Burgoyne's troops had been trained for the formalized fighting of European battlefields. Thus speaks one of Burgoyne's officers in Mr. Lancaster's book: "Young man, troops are for battle, not crawling through woods on their bellies. Battles are fought when two lines of infantry, advancing on each other in perfect order, arrive within mutual range. That, sir, is a battle."

One may presume that all of this happened long enough ago to be funny now. Mr. Lancaster doesn't think the story is a funny one. The novel he has written around Burgoyne's troops, and more particularly his German mercenaries, is first rate reading.

The story begins with the impressment of a gang of men, later to become some of the hated Hessian mercenaries, at the village of Hanau in March, 1777. It ends, more than a year later, with the "convention troops" penned up in Cambridge. There is scarcely a dull spot to be found in the whole weary march of these men. W. D. O.

A Youth, 18, Sees Africa

"I Found Africa," by Van Nes Allen. [Bobbs Merrill, $3.]

Africa is huge and colorful and variegated, but it is in the jungles of the central regions that most of us find the heart and soul of the dark continent. No different was Van Nes Allen, 18 year old Ohio boy, and when he heard a missionary tell of Liberia, young Mr. Allen decided he was going to Africa.

That he did is a credit to his understanding parents, who knew there was a lot of mature thinking in the mind of their wanderlust-bitten son. That we have a fascinating account of his experiences and a sympathetic, simply told story of the African bush peoples is a credit to Mr. Allen's youthful maturity and his instinct for the art of reporting.

The book starts out like "Tom Slade and the Tiger Men," but by the time Allen shakes the spray of the Liberian surf off his traveling suit, he has shaken off also the temptation to force dramatics into his narrative. From then on the book is a straightforward, swift moving journal. W. D.

A Strange Tropical Island

"Feudal Island," by Desmond Holdridge. [Harcourt-Brace, $2.50.] Published Thursday.

Readers who were enthralled by Desmond Holdridge's book about his life on one of the English islands, Tortola, in the West Indies group, called "Escape to the Tropics," will want to read about this new escape land, also an island, but a rarely visited one, lying in the mouth of the Amazon off the coast of South America. Marajo is one of the few remaining feudal states still in existence in this modern world.

As large as Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island put together, its vast acres of grazing land encourage the raising of cattle in enormous herds, its lakes boast of game fish among the greatest to be found anywhere, and its swamps are haunts of wild fowl, water buffalo, and alligators. This tropical Eden is presided over by a few families who own big ranches and rule over them like kings over their subjects. The natives are simple people, content to live, work, and die on Marajo.

Because the land is privately owned, strangers are not permitted to visit the ranches. But, once the bars are let down as they were for the author and his wife, guests are made to feel that the place is theirs.

"Feudal Island" is lively, entertaining, and unusual. It is recommended to any one who enjoys hearing about strange places.

Behind Scenes Views of Navy Given Readers

BY AL CHASE.

"Navy Men," by James B. Connolly. [John Day, $3.50.]

James B. Connolly has covered every branch of American naval activity, from submarines to airplanes, from destroyers to battleships. He knows his subject as thoroughly as he does the rugged Gloucester fishermen he has written about for so many years. So if you're fond of the sea, of the navy, and of your country, you'll find in "Navy Men" a bookful of spirited, authentic, and colorful views of life on, over, and under the sea, both in war and peace time.

Mr. Connolly, who was a friend of Theodore Roosevelt, was enabled by that enthusiastic advocate of a big and efficient navy to see the inside workings of naval strategy by personal experience in a way no civilian writer had ever done. The author at one time enlisted in order to see the navy from the gob's point of view. But, knowing the peculiarities of federal red tape, he got his discharge before he enlisted so he was able to return to civilian life when he wished.

He was in the fleet Theodore Roosevelt sent on a 46,000 mile world cruise; he was on Yankee destroyers hunting U-boats during the world war; he made several plunges under surface in submarines, and he went aloft in dirigibles and airplanes.

"Navy Men" is one of the most entertaining and instructive books of the sea ever written.

Marine Corps History

"A History of the United States Marine Corps," by Clyde H. Metcalf. [Putnam, $4.50.]

Clyde H. Metcalf, who has been with the marine corps as an officer for twenty-six years, has written the first comprehensive history of that famous branch of America's fighting forces. The marines have seen more fighting in more places than either the army or navy, and Mr. Metcalf's story of their activities from colonial days down to modern times is exciting reading.

It was prepared almost entirely from original source material contained in the headquarters of the organization and in the navy department. The author has been able to bring to light a number of heroic deeds long lost sight of or never heretofore presented. Also he adds many facts regarding foreign relations printed for the first time. The book is well illustrated and mapped.

A billion dollars worth of it lies at the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico

The man whose brilliant reportorial pen has made him the leading authority on the Latin Americas, now turns to a biography of our own land, from the days of the first settlers to the present time. In typical, straight-from-the-shoulder Beals fashion, he dramatically presents the whole colorful pageant of the building of America—over 300 years of pulling out wealth from the good, rich American earth, while a billion dollars worth of top soil flowed carelessly into the tributaries of the Mississippi River until it eventually lay at the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico. A masterful, thought-provoking, informative picture of our land all Americans should read. 500 pages, $3.00.

Retain MAYOR KELLY!

Everyone says: "He has made a GOOD MAYOR!"

Mayor Kelly is and has been a part of Chicago's development . . . For warm-hearted leadership . . . for Chicago's continued progress . . . Let's retain Mayor Kelly's experience and efficiency.

MAYOR KELLY LAUNCHED into actuality Chicago's forty-year dream—a subway system—now under construction.

★

NEW CENTURY SALE
SEPT. 19

MAYOR KELLY STIMULATED Chicago's commerce by initiating outstanding civic enterprises for all neighborhoods.

★

MAYOR KELLY RESTORED Chicago's reputation as a progressive, law-abiding city with crime at an all-time low.

★

MAYOR KELLY STEPPED UP police efficiency and morale with no politics in the department — added fifty emergency police ambulances—ended "fixing" of traffic tickets.

★

MAYOR KELLY IMPROVED fire, police, health, and other city services so that Chicago today has the nation's finest.

★

MAYOR KELLY ENLARGED the facilities of Chicago's world-famous Health Department to prevent disease—inaugurated breast milk feeding stations — reduced infant death rate.

★

MAYOR KELLY ACTED to reduce traffic deaths and injuries—started the successful "Keep Chicago Safe" drive.

★

MAYOR KELLY INITIATED city's greatest program of street repairs, paving, traffic lights and new sewer construction.

Let's show Chicago's young people that success isn't just the ability to "get by" with a temporary, artificial "front" . . . Let's prove to the citizens of tomorrow that hard work, honest purpose and sincere service in public life are recognized, appreciated and rewarded . . . Let's retain Chicago's First Citizen—the man who surmounted difficulties and rose to the top the "hard" way—Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

Read what the U. S. Dept. of Commerce says about Chicago's business!

Official U. S. figures show that since 1933, in the Chicago industrial area, there has been an increase of 703 businesses; an increase of 205,913 wage earners; an increase of $398,596,400 in wages; an increase of $1,545,795,006 in cost of materials; an increase of $2,525,197,970 in value of products; an increase of $981,402,964 in value added by manufacture! Those figures tell the truth—Chicago is marching on under Mayor Kelly.

Read what the Detroit Free Press said in a recent editorial

"Chicago has reduced serious crime within its gates by more than 50 per cent in the last six years, according to a former chief justice of its Criminal Court . . . Chicago is to be congratulated on the marked improvement in its crime record. And its success in this direction may give other cities, where crime is rampant, courage to go and do likewise."

Read what Clifford W. Barnes
President and Founder of Chicago's Sunday Evening Club has said

"Because of your own helpful attitude and the vigorous action of Commissioner Allman our statistics show that commercialized vice in Chicago is more nearly under control than it has been for years.

We have had ten times more cooperation from Mayor Kelly and his great Police Commissioner than we received from any previous administration."

LOOK about you . . . at a new Chicago, a vibrant, confident, more beautiful, more healthful Chicago . . . a Chicago that's safer, cleaner . . . a Chicago that has progressed fifty years in the last six years . . . that's your Chicago under Mayor Edward J. Kelly!

Work and wages . . . greater cultural, educational and recreational opportunities for all . . . new wide highways and new transportation facilities for North Side, Northwest Side, South Side, Southwest Side and West Side including the subway . . . additional recreation centers . . . filtered water for all . . . organized stimulation for industry . . . that's the Chicago of the next four years under Mayor Kelly!

Read what the Chicago Crime Commission said March 28

"The Chicago police department is better administered today, under the present Commissioner, than ever before in the past twenty years. The department has younger men, more intelligent personnel. The testimony of policemen in the Criminal Courts shows considerable improvement from the point of view of clarity of expression, intelligence and quickness of thought. The morale of the department is at a much higher level, and courtesy has been made the watchword."

Read what the New York Times said editorially on March 2

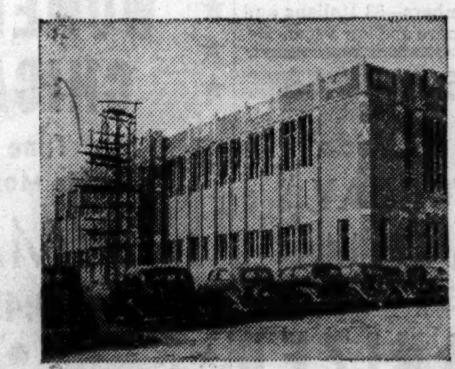
"Edward Joseph Kelly, appointed Mayor of Chicago in 1933 to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Cermak, was elected Mayor in 1935 by a record vote. Tuesday he was renominated in the Democratic Primary by another record vote . . . Why shouldn't he be? . . . Parks, playgrounds, water supply, every department has felt his active and improving hand; and he pulled the city out of bankruptcy."

Read what Chicago's Committee of Fifteen reported

"It has been a source of great satisfaction to the Committee to receive the unqualified cooperation we have secured from your office through Commissioner Allman. We feel that because of the cooperation effort between the Committee and various Public Authorities that the situation as it exists in Chicago at the present time is under better control than at any previous period."

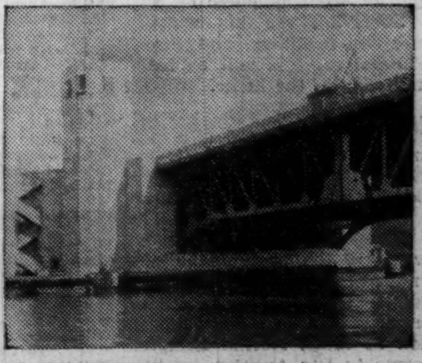
ALL CHICAGO COMMITTEE for the RE-ELECTION of MAYOR EDWARD J. KELLY, Ninth Floor, Conway Building, 111 W. Washington Street

Remember, April 4th, MAYOR KELLY IS IN THE DEMOCRATIC COLUMN



MAYOR KELLY COMPLETED Chicago's outer drive link bridge and Chicago's Lake Front developments—Soldiers' Field, the Rosenwald Museum, the Shedd Aquarium and Buckingham Fountain are monuments to his vision and cooperation.

MAYOR KELLY SAVED more than $44,000,000 in the corporate fund alone through reduced city costs since 1933. Total savings exceed $80,000,000!

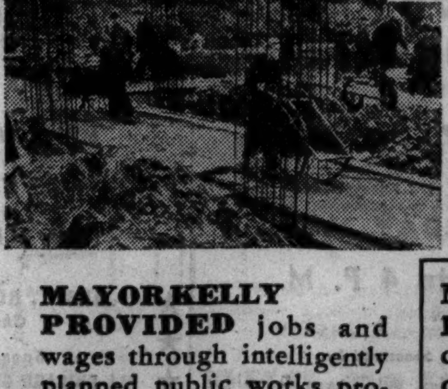


MAYOR KELLY COOPERATED in assuring Chicago America's finest and most beneficial schools with 75 new buildings and additions. He ended payless paydays.

MAYOR KELLY LOWERED city automobile license fees and fire insurance rates with consequent big money savings for Chicagoans.

MADISON ST
HALSTED

MAYOR KELLY BUILT AND IMPROVED bridges for every section of Chicago including the new Outer Drive Link Bridge.



MAYOR KELLY DEVELOPED and improved the city's beaches, playgrounds and recreational facilities.

MAYOR KELLY ERECTED new street signs all over Chicago, designed for easy legibility and accurate information.

MAYOR KELLY PROVIDED jobs and wages through intelligently planned public works programs.

MAYOR KELLY REDEEMED Chicago's credit, making a "bankrupt" city now solvent, with interest charges now way down.

MAYOR KELLY CLOTHED through Chicago's Own Xmas Benefit, more than 300,000 underprivileged children.

MAYOR KELLY RESISTED increases in taxes on homes and other realty, opposed special assessments and other taxes.

MAYOR KELLY ADDED more miles of new paving and street resurfacing than in Chicago's 25 previous years.

HAPPY'S FAINT HEART WINS HIM 2 EXTRA LADIES

Fighters to Bear Island Lose Even Their Liberty.

On Bear Island in Brookfield zoo live six Kodiak bears. Their names are Happy, Sam, and Erskine, and Gleaner, Sally, and Lulu. For a long time they have been happy there, in their grumpy, bearish way.

Then spring came and the three male bears began to look fondly at Gleaner, Sally, and Lulu.

Happy is a soft-tempered, dreamy fellow and his eyes were on Gleaner. Sam and Erskine, the gay Lotharios, had no particular preferences. Any little girl was the right little girl for them.

No Peanut Is Safe.

Gleaner got her name because of her penchant for peanuts. No peanut is safe with her. She even gets up and goes out scavenging for peanuts by night, hoping there might be one somebody missed. Naturally a bear like that picks up pounds, and Gleaner's feminine charms now tip the scales at 800 pounds. But Happy loved each and every ounce and Gleaner, in her mild way, reciprocated. Zoo officials breathed easily. Problem No. 1 was solved.

Sam and Erskine are active and pugnacious. In the winter they get sleepy, but come spring, with the buds bursting, something stirs within them. They sought to woo sprightly Sally and Lulu. But these fickle dames wouldn't woo. Instead of loving there was scrapping.

The fighting began a week ago and it had been going on ever since, until yesterday. Sam and Erskine fought with Sally and Lulu. And when they tired of fighting females the two jilted males fought their keepers and fought each other.

Comes Now the Law.

Yesterday the zoo officials took a determined stand. They banished Sam and Erskine to the island's lower regions and locked them in—of all places!—the maternity ward. There they'll stay, in moping humiliation, until they change their tactics.

Meanwhile, Happy, the dreamy one, has two new sweethearts, and Gleaner, with extra peanuts, doesn't seem to care that she's not his only love.

ENGINEER DIES IN HEAD-ON CRASH OF TWO FREIGHTS

An engineer was killed and a conductor slightly injured early today in a head-on collision between two Baltimore and Ohio line freight trains on the Chicago and Alton railway tracks in Summit. The accident occurred near what would be 55th street and the old drainage canal.

The man killed was Frank V. Barbellenn, 55 years old, of Garrett, Ind. He was piloting a single engine train of seventeen cars when it crashed into an oncoming two engine train hauling twenty-seven cars. Conductor Charles Rolesta and Fireman Charles Dane, both of Garrett, leaped to safety but Rolesta was hurt and also scalded by steam.

The three locomotives were telescoped. More than a dozen of the cars, loaded with merchandise and perishables, were derailed. Police said they were informed that the single engine train had been ordered to detour.

Norma Knupfel Lutge, came to Los Angeles in her early girlhood and for many years was actively associated with the development of musical and theatrical activities here and in San Francisco. After an absence of thirty years she returned here in 1926.

James H. Barnard.

News of the death of James H. Barnard, veteran Chicago attorney, in New Orleans on Thursday was received by Chicago friends yesterday. Mr. Barnard, who was 70 years old, had been in poor health for some time. He studied law at Cornell university, was admitted to the bar in 1890, and engaged in general practice. His first wife, Louise, died in 1920. In 1924 he married Mrs. Lotta Lacey Thrane. She was with him at the time of his death.

Mrs. Frank Parry.

Mrs. Frank Parry, who was a musical comedy star for many years under her maiden name of Zoa Matthews, died yesterday in the Augustana hospital after a six weeks' illness. Mrs. Parry was 58 years old and lived at 440 Barry avenue. She retired from the stage in 1927. Her husband died three years ago.

Dr. M. S. Holt.

3 GUNMEN BEAT VICTIM, TORTURE HIM WITH TORCH

Morris Shraiberg, 55 years old, owner of a butter and egg house at 846 Randolph street, was tortured and beaten for 25 minutes last night by three young gunmen. The three walked into his office as he was talking with a salesman. They pushed the salesman aside and took $350 from Shraiberg.

"We want more," said one of the robbers, hitting Shraiberg on the head with his gun. The merchant protested he had no more. He was struck again. The bandits' demanded that he open the safe and hit him again when he said he did not know the combination.

Then one of them wrapped newspapers into a torch, lighted it, and played the flames across Shraiberg's left hand. In pain, Shraiberg gave the bandits the combination, but they were unable to work the lock. They fled after beating him again, Shraiberg told Policemen Earl Gorman and David Weber of the Des Plaines street station.

RETIRED FARMER AND SON HELD IN EXTORTION PLOTS

Belvidere, Ill., March 31.—[Special.]—Ernest Marske, a retired farmer, and his son, Malcolm, 17 years old, a high school pupil, were held in the county jail here tonight in connection with an investigation into four recent extortion attempts in this vicinity.

Suspicion was directed to them by instructions to the latest intended victim to leave $1,000 at an abandoned farm house owned by the elder Marske. The retired farmer and his son were arrested by Sherif Perry Bennett last night at their home in Capron, fifteen miles from here.

The first extortion note was sent to Seymour Winne, prosperous Caledonia farmer, six weeks ago. It directed him to leave $15,000 near the St. James cemetery in Belvidere. Similar notes were received subsequently by George McIntyre, a farmer living near Poplar Grove; Mrs. Ralph Smith, a rural mail carrier at Capron; and Mrs. John Robinson, a farm wife living near Capron.

Infantry, cavalry, field, and coast artillery units will demonstrate their methods of war.

Private First Class Richard Gieras of the 2d infantry and Private John Gimson of the 24th cavalry will be awarded the Soldier's medal for heroism in saving the lives of two civilians near the fort last fall.

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Two radio controled experimental airplanes for use as targets for anti-aircraft batteries and combat planes were ordered today by the W. L. Maxson corporation from the Brewster Aeronautical corporation it was announced by James Work, president of the Brewster company.

The planes can be controled entirely by radio and operated without pilots aboard, eliminating the danger of having targets towed by ordinary planes.

According to announcement by the two companies, the radio control will reduce the cost of target practice operations greatly and will permit a far greater variety of experiments.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Caveat Emptor

Hollywood, Cal., March 31.—Despite the dateline, this is not an April fool column, because the subject is entirely serious to the studios who invested heavily in expensive foreign talent only to find it not all that it was cracked up to be. The law has a phrase to cover it—caveat emptor—which means, literally, let the buyer beware. . . . It appears that the Hollywood buyers were deficient in their Latin.

At the moment, this, tersely, is the situation that prevails in respect to the foreign born stars: M.-G.-M., after investing $850,000 in Hedy La Marr's "I Take This Woman," finds that the film is safer on the shelf. . . . Luise Rainer is discontent with M.-G.-M. and M.-G.-M. is discontent with Luise Rainer. . . . Universal's ambitious plans for Danielle Darrieux have been stymied by the disclosure that French contracts hold priority, meaning that Universal will have to pay about $250,000 to get her released. . . . Marlene Dietrich has been unsuccessful in landing a new job since she and Paramount came to a parting of the ways. . . . Ilona Massey has not progressed as well as expected with her English lessons. . . . Milija Korjus must be exploited as a vocal Mae West type. . . . Of the rest, Franciscka Gaal, Olympe Bradna and a few others are cute, but none is boxoffice. . . . Vivien Leigh has yet to reach jury focus.

You wonder idly what thoughts pass through the Nordic mind of Greta Garbo as, one after another, foreign stars parade to the starting line in an attempt to take over her spot and falter as they hit the far turn. Dietrich came closest, but the lissome Marlene skidded out of contention. Merle Oberon and Madeleine Carroll have waged a respectable fight, but they never figured to overhaul the tragic Swede. Wendy Hiller is entirely a different type.

In direct proportion to the unsuccessful foreign femmes is the list of male stars from abroad who have rung the bell, not only once but repeatedly. Charles Boyer, David Niven, Basil Rathbone, Robert Morley, Raymond Massey, Charles Laughton, Ronald Colman, Leslie Howard and Richard Greene are just a few who come to mind. The female of the species may be more deadly, but certainly they seem to be less effective in this Hands-Across-the-Sea setup.

The case of Luise Rainer is without parallel in this town, conditioned as the Hollywood colonists are to bizarre conclusions. Miss Rainer, two years running, won the Academy award, once for her rôle in "The Great Ziegfeld" and again for her rôle in "The Good Earth." So strongly individualistic is Miss Rainer's style of acting that so long as she was framed in huge productions, her approach to a scene did not dominate the picture or overbalance it. The minute she was cast in pictures not so pretentious, her style developed a monotone effect. On top of all this, Miss Rainer's marital unhappiness was hardly the proper inspiration for a girl so sensitive and high strung. It was reflected in her work, and the entire situation was not a happy one.

Equally spectacular has been the situation in regard to Hedy La Marr. After "Algiers," she was the hottest thing in the industry. No newcomer ever has won the publicity that was showered upon her darkly effective beauty. Not so shrewd as Walter Wanger, who gave her little to say, M.-G.-M. rushed her into a story that demanded plenty of talking and acting and the result was not highly successful. In the midst of all this, Miss La Marr spiked the romantic legends that were being woven around her by expert publicists of Leo the Lion by getting married to Gene Markey. On the Metro lot they admit that she presents a bewildering problem, but let me assure them that there is nothing wrong with this eyeful that a good picture can't cure.

Urbanely, the foreign star nobody wanted, Sonja Henie, continues to skate along to new boxoffice records. . . . Miss Henie, lacking Luise Rainer's dramatic equipment, minus Dietrich's legs and offering no contentions whatsoever to Miss La Marr's fascination, tops all of them by an Olympic mile when it comes to attracting customers to theater boxoffices. There is a certain wholesomeness to La Henie that found popular favor from the first and there has been no cessation.

The problem of foreign stars has been accented by the present international mess, which has limited the foreign market radically. Major companies, concentrating on the American and South American markets, have veered away from the old line reasoning. . . . Once upon a time, and that not so distant, a foreign star, who even was unpopular here, could justify his or her salary by boxoffice strength in England, France, Germany, Japan, Italy and the Scandinavian countries. All of this has been altered with the growth of the dictator nations.

I think that you will hear more of American discoveries being brought out here because the trend has changed, just as it changed in 1917, when America's entry into the world war made theater audiences acutely conscious of, and sensitive to, the nationalities of those in the public eye. Caveat emptor—let the buyer beware—I think you've got something there.

Smart Slickers Will Welcome April Showers

BY RHEA SEEGER.

April showers, day or night, are reasons for rejoicing if you own any of the decorative spring slickers that have come to town. Daytime outfits make gray skies and dreary streets look like something off the gaudiest posters. The umbrellas that match are animated fish bowls. And all the hazards of getting about in a downpour without losing an eye are past history.

The brightest colors defy the dullest day . . . and the coats themselves are made with all the swank of a tweed topper from London town. Deep pockets, a collarline that hugs the neck snugly, long sleeves with a strap to hold them securely around the waist, and extra inches to lap in front promise complete protection wherever you go.

One of the best waterproof materials is the stuff called mello-sheen. It does not crack, does not wrinkle, and will clean with a damp cloth and a little bit of soap. This mello-sheen has been so popular for daytime rain costumes that the newest arrival — the evening coat — should make the same spectacular record. Long cut in the same streamline as your evening clothes, the evening raincoat is fitted with puffed sleeves so that the most complicated puffed dress sleeves slip under with ease and speed. The colors are particularly interesting—a dull white, flattering pink, yellow, green, and the usual dark tones of black and blue with the white probably the future winner.

Such a smooth long cover for evening clothes provides snug comfort and proper dress parade effectiveness. All this can be had for a modest sum around twelve dollars. The coats are decorated with a flower of the same material high on the shoulder.

Plan American Welcome for Danish Prince

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE musical and reception that the consul of Denmark and Iceland and Mrs. Reimund Baumann will give for their crown prince and his princess while the royal couple is in Chicago will be a typical American party, so Mrs. Baumann said yesterday. The affair will be given on Monday night, April 24, at the Woman's Athletic club.

Prince Frederik and Princess Ingrid will be in Racine all that day, and because they will not be returning to Chicago until late that afternoon Mrs. Baumann is not inviting any one to dine with them. The Baumanns, the royal guests and the members of their party will have dinner at the fairly small but charming private dining room that the club calls the Silver room.

The musical will be given in the ballroom at 9:30 o'clock. The artists whom the Baumanns have selected to give the program are all Americans. They are Rudolph Reuter, internationally known pianist; Lois Johnston, beautiful young soprano; Robert Speaker, youthful baritone, and Jeanne Boyd, accompanist. Miss Johnston will sing a group of songs composed by Miss Boyd, who, by the way, plays for Mr. Speaker sometimes when he sings a song written by Mrs. Baumann. She wrote the music, too, but modestly she refuses to have it sung for her prince and princess.

After the music the hosts and their royal guests will receive the 200 other guests in the attractive lounge of the club. Mrs. Baumann is making up her list now, for the invitations will be sent out the first of next week. This party will be the only entertainment of a purely social nature given for the visitors during their brief Chicago visit. The visitors arrive on Sunday evening, April 23, and that night will attend a reception for Danish congregations in the Danish Trinity church.

Arrange for Stop at Old People's Home.

Monday will be spent in Racine with a visit to the Danish Old People's Home in Norwood Park in the late afternoon. Mrs. A. K. Sorensen is arranging this visit. On Tuesday the guests will take a sightseeing trip around Chicago, probably stopping at the Field and the Rosenwald museums, the Adler Planetarium, and the mayor's office. From 3 until 5 that afternoon the Dania society will give a reception, and that night there will be a banquet at the Stevens hotel, where the royal party will stay.

The Danish minister to Washington, Otto Wadsted; Johan Vest, master of the royal household; Countess Reventlow, lady-in-waiting to the princess; the prince's naval aid, Lieutenant Commander P. C. Weilbach; Karl Eskelund of the Danish foreign office, and a member of our state department will accompany the prince and the princess to Chicago.

Some of those who will be invited to the Baumanns' party remember with pleasure the delightful tea they gave at the old Woman's Athletic club about thirteen years ago for Prince Aage, first cousin of the present King of Norway. The Baumanns' children, Vilma, Remor and Harold, were so young then that they just were able to be on the side lines, but they are old enough now to be attractive assisting host and hostesses. Harold is at the University of Chicago but the girls are finished with school.

Bruch's Story of Bell Is Sung by Singverein

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The men and women of the Chicago Singverein, an outstanding German-American chorus, massed their 125 selves in tier upon tier at Orchestra hall last night. What stage room was left went to a respectably large orchestra, four soloists, and conductor Walter H. Steindel. Walter Flandorf officiated at the organ.

The business of the evening was the performance of Max Bruch's "Lay of the Bell," a large scale choral work based on Schiller's like named poem. Since bells play their obbligato to so many important human experiences—marriage, conflagration, war, and death, for example—it follows that the philosophically minded, when desperate for an idea, can find in the casting of a bell food for reflection on the whole of life.

Bruch's highly romantic music helps make the thesis emotionally potent. The performance last night was in the great German tradition, with huge masses of sturdily textured tone giving an air of honest fervor to the poem's pronouncements. The chorus's delivery of the music was marked by an earnestness and simplicity which resulted again and again in moments of quite breath taking eloquence.

Mark Love carried the bulk of the solo parts, singing with dignity of style and remarkable richness of tone. Mary Ann Kaufman and Freda Draper handled the soprano and contralto assignments in capable fashion. The same is true of Henry Thompson and his tenor solos, although he opened himself to criticism once or twice by not focusing his tone as accurately as he might.

Pianist Iturbi Buys Plane in Chicago for Use on Concert Tour

José Iturbi, the publicity wise Spanish pianist who has created teapot tempests through his pronouncements on American music, on hamburger eating at outdoor concerts and the like, was in Chicago yesterday. Proudly he displayed his new Howard high wing monoplane in which he plans to make a concert tour of some 15,000 miles.

Carrying complete airline transport equipment in the way of radio and flying instruments, the new plane is powered with a 450 horsepower Wasp Junior engine capable of maintaining a cruising speed of 200 miles per hour. The craft was purchased in Chicago Thursday and was flown east yesterday on the first leg of an easy trip to New York City, where the pianist has an engagement tonight.

Mr. Iturbi is capable of flying solo now, but has a co-pilot.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Bodenheimer of 5466 Hyde Park boulevard announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Regine, to Arthur Frederic Kohn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frederic Kohn of 1162 East 54th place. Miss Bodenheimer was graduated from the University of Chicago. Mr. Kuhn was graduated from the University of Michigan.

Good Morning!

Those rare old book fanciers—or, I suppose I SHOULD say, those fanciers of rare old books, Garda and Joel Sloane, who do sleuthing on the side to bring in extra cash, were once represented by Melvyn Douglas and Florence Rice. . . . Now they make a bow in the engaging personalities of Rosalind Russell and Robert Montgomery, who interpret them amusingly and well.

The Sloanes sell and buy first editions, old manuscripts, and such. Through these activities they meet most interesting and peculiar people and become involved in no end of adventure.

This trip, while negotiating the sale of an original manuscript by William Shakespeare, no less, they find themselves button-button-ing in a first class murder case.

The mystery surrounding same they solve to the tune of merriment, crisp dialog, considerable excitement, and lots of fast action.

Miss Russell and Mr. Montgomery work together beautifully and seem to enjoy their partnership. A fine cast supports them and an able man directed the show—which is, really, a lot of fun.

See you tomorrow.

Current Story.

Perhaps you've heard the tale of Ferdinand the Bull's mother? As Milly Anderson relates it, she was jealous of Ferdie's popularity and finally cajoled her owner into sending her across the ocean. Hollywood, where she was first sent, did not agree with her, so she was put in a boxcar and sent to Kentucky to feed on the blue grass. . . . In two weeks she mood indigo.

Handsomest Men.

Three women dining at the Pearson were discussing the Easter bonnet parade breakfast at the Drake Easter Sunday, being given by the women's board of the Salvation Army. An eavesdropper reports that their conversation switched. After solemn discussion of the matter they decided that the best dressed and best looking man in the Easter parade would be Fletcher Durbin, John Jay Abbott, or I. Newton Perry. This disposed of, they turned their attention to their dessert order.

"Men, Too, Wear Clothes."

Speaking of men and the Easter parade, a new book about men's clothes and the way they wear them is Dorothy Stote's Men, Too, Wear Clothes.

Have you ever seen a man put on his hat? Miss Stote inquires. By sheer process of instinct he gets it on top of his head and then, turning around, says, "Let's go."

Every wife probably will smile reminiscently at this.

Gallery Incident.

The most amusing gallery incident of the week, aside from the little yellow shutters painted on the glass of Ivan Albright's When Fall Winds Blow at the Art institute water color show that conceals from view a nude in a second story window, concerns the woman who entered the Quest galleries, where Burnett Shryock's paintings are on exhibit. It happened that the subject of a portrait, Robert Faner of Carbondale, Ill., was standing beside his portrait chatting with a friend as she entered. She looked at the portrait, stared at the man, then turned and left the gallery looking as if she had seen a ghost.

Seasonal Note.

The radio equipped baby carriage formerly seen on Astor street has been replaced by a stroller, also wired for sound.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Getting set for the Easter parade? You'll want your face to look as fresh as your Easter bonnet, so we suggest you budget your spending money to include at least one face treatment. There are few spring tonics as effective for your looks or your spirits.

Every face needs a professional kind of cleansing on occasion. No matter how fastidious you are or how careful you are about keeping your skin immaculate, you'll notice that your complexion is clearer and cleaner after the leisurely, lengthy cleansing that is part of a skillful face treatment.

The generous creaming, the stimulating massage, and the extra touches that vary with individual requirements combine to give the skin a far more thorough cleansing than it usually rates.

In some treatments cream cleansing is supplemented by soap and water and a gentle scrubbing with a complexion brush. This last does a great deal to remove the shadowy tinge skins take on when there are blackheads.

The stimulation achieved by massage, or perhaps another kind of manipulation, is good for your complexion, too. It needs an occasional bit of "exercise" to keep it firm and healthy looking. The sallow complexion, in particular, benefits from a rousing circulatory treatment now and then.

The lubrication that always follows this part of the treatment is worth its weight in gold, especially if your skin is dry and looks it. It will lap up the soothing oils and will be ever so much softer when the deft operator has finished.

No doubt about it, a face treatment isn't an extravagance. Every woman approaching 30 ought to have one as often as the pocketbook permits. They help you to maintain a healthy, youthful complexion. And you look a lot better after one than you did before. ELEANOR NANGLE.

SYNOPSIS.

Ross Craddock's father turned Craddock house into flats and installed his old maid cousins, Mary and Lucy Craddock, in a flat apiece, on either side of the one occupied by Ross. After Mary's death Lucy prepares to take a trip. Their cousin, Peter Renshaw, is staying in Mary's flat while he settles her estate. Ross orders Lucy to vacate her flat because she objects to his attentions to her foolish young niece, Mavis Grey. Lucy gives her cousin, Lee Fenton, permission to use her flat while she is away. Lee, who is in love with Peter, has just escaped an unpleasant experience with a married man. Rush, the porter, mutters belligerently to Lee against Ross. Mrs. Green, the charwoman, says she is ill and asks Lee for a drink of brandy. That evening Peter prevents Bobby Foster, Mavis' suitor, from making a scene in a night club where Mavis is with Ross. Peter is awakened in the night by a crash. He sees Mavis running from Ross' flat and Ross cut and bleeding. Mavis had thrown a decanter at him. Peter lets Mavis stay the rest of the night in his flat. Later he is again awakened and sees Mavis again coming from Ross' flat. She says she went to retrieve her purse. Lee awakens from a nightmare to find herself covered with blood. Her bloody footprints lead from Ross' door. Lee knows she walks in her sleep. In terror she washes away the blood stains and goes to tell Peter. Ross' valet arrives and finds Ross has been shot and killed. He summons the police. An old maid tenant tells how she saw Mavis coming from Ross' flat twice. Peter refuses to lie for Mavis. Miss Challoner, friend of Lucy's, brings word that Lucy did not go on her trip and that she arrived at her home at 3 in the morning. The charwoman adds Rush to the list of suspects. Rush turns over to the police a cigaret case he found belonging to Bobby Foster. Peter takes Detective Abbott to get Lucy's statement. She admits coming to Craddock house after 2 a. m., and seeing a figure hurrying out the door, and going up to find Ross murdered. She fled after finding Mavis' compact. Lee, thinking Peter has been arrested, confesses that she may have killed Ross in her sleep. Lucy tells that Ross was married years before to an actress, that he was never divorced, and had lately stopped paying her.

INSTALMENT XXX.

WEDDING BARRIERS.

The inspector hung up and turned a satisfied face on Abbott.

"That was Lintott. He rang up while you were out to say he'd got a lot of stuff about Foster, and a number of good finger prints from his brushes and shaving tackle. Foster wasn't there, but he'd got a search warant. I told him to rush the finger print business through and let me know the result. That was it, and it's good enough to put Mr. Bobby Foster in the dock. His prints correspond exactly with the ones we couldn't place on the bannisters and the sitting room door. He was here that night, and he made those marks and he dropped his cigaret case.

"His landlady says he came back in a taxi about midnight and made a lot of noise on the stairs. She says he didn't go to bed, but walked up and down in his room talking to himself and kicking the furniture. Her husband went in to him at half past one and told him he was disturbing the whole house. The man says Mr. Foster was in an awful state—told him his girl had thrown him over, and he was going to buy a revolver and shoot himself, but he was going to shoot the other man first.

"He says there was a bottle of whisky on the table and Mr. Foster kept pouring himself out another drink. He says he tried to calm him down but it was no good, and all of a sudden Mr. Foster shouted out that he wasn't going to stand it any longer. 'I'll have it out with him,' he said, 'if I have to blow his head off!' and with that he was down the stairs and out of the house and no stopping him—and by all accounts they were glad enough to be rid of him.

"They went to bed again but they didn't bolt the street door. Round about three in the morning the man heard something fall. He opened the bedroom door, and there was Mr. Foster on the stairs in his stocking feet with one shoe in his hand and the other where he'd dropped it on the half-landing. He didn't look drunk any more, but he looked worse. The man says he looked as if he had seen a ghost. And he went back and picked up his shoe and on up to his room, all without making a sound. I'll say we've got our man all right, or will have as soon as I get that warant.

"There's no doubt what happened, to my mind. He got round here somewhere about two o'clock, quarreled with Mr. Craddock, and threatened him. Mr. Craddock had had a bang over the head already and he wasn't feeling too grand. He gets scared, or wants to scare the other man, opens this drawer, and pulls out his revolver. Mr. Foster gets it from him—he's a very powerful young man—and, either in a struggle or deliberately, Mr. Craddock is shot. Mr. Foster throws down the pistol and gets away just as Miss Craddock comes along. It fits in well enough with what she says she saw."

"She says she saw the pistol in Ross Craddock's hand."

"Well, isn't that where Foster would put it if he'd any sense in him at all?"

"He might. There's one thing though—Miss Craddock had a key to the front door of Craddock House, but Bobby Foster hadn't."

The inspector looked at him, frowning.

"You mean?"

"How did he get in, sir?"

. . . .

"When will you marry me, Lee?"

Peter stood on the hearth rug and surveyed her with frowning intensity. His hands were thrust deep into his pockets. His tone was businesslike and his manner abrupt.

Lee said, "I haven't said I'm going to marry you at all."

His frown deepened.

"Of course you're going to marry me. And I think it had better be as soon as possible. You need looking after, I want to look after you, and——"

She shook her head.

"Peter, it won't do—not till this is all cleared up. Don't you see that if you marry me the police will think I knew something and that you'd done it to make sure I couldn't be called as a witness against you?"

Peter let go of her rather suddenly.

"What a perfectly horrible mind you've got!"

"Well, isn't that just what they would think?"

"I don't know—I suppose they might."

He took her by the elbow and began to walk her up and down the room.

"Look here, my dear, you say put off getting married until the mess is cleared up. But suppose it isn't cleared up—suppose it's never cleared up. Do you realize that we are all under suspicion and we shall go on being suspected till kingdom come unless they really do find out who murdered Ross, and, what is more, prove it up to the hilt? Do you think Mavis did it? I don't. I don't suppose she's ever handled a revolver in her life. Besides, look at what she did earlier on when he got fresh with her. She upped with the decanter and hit him over the head. Very nice, natural, womanly reaction. If she'd had a revolver handy she'd have hit him over the head with it or heaved it at him, but I'll go bail she would'nt have fired it."

Lee nodded.

"Yes, I think so, too."

"Always agree with me, darling. You'll find it a splendid foundation for our married life. We now come to me. Do you think I did it?"

"No."

"I suppose there are circumstances in which I might have done it—I don't know. But whoever shot Ross shot him sitting. That's the medical evidence—the shot traveled downwards. He was shot sitting, probably while he was still dazed after the clip on the head Mavis gave him with the decanter. I don't see myself doing that, somehow."

Lee said "No" again.

"Then there's Lucinda. I don't know if they believe her statement, but I do. Of course, the wish is probably father to the thought, because if she really did see some one coming out of Craddock House at a quarter past two in the morning, it spreads quite a lot of whitewash over the Craddock family. And that's the snag—they may think the whitewash altogether too convenient."

"I suppose so. I—I've been awfully frightened about Lucy, Peter. She was most frightfully worked up about Ross, and she doesn't really seem to have known what she was doing on Tuesday night. The thing that frightens me is that as far as I can see she was the only person who could have got in from outside after Rush locked up. She says she found the door open, but who opened it? Some one did, if Lucy's story is true. O, Peter, it frightens me."

"I know, but you're not going to make me believe that Lucinda shot Ross. What about Miss Bingham? There's a really bright idea!"

Lee's laugh was half a catch of the breath.

"Peter, I had her here for an hour after the inspector had gone, and it was the very last straw. Talk about third degree!"

Peter sat forward with his elbows on his knees and his chin in his hand.

"Lee, did you know Ross was married?"

Declares Graduates in New York Seek to Evade Problems

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Instead of making virile citizens fit for democracy, the schools are turning out graduates who shrug their shoulders at life and adopt the philosophy of "letting George do it."

Such are the conclusions drawn in a pamphlet published today by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York City. The booklet, prepared by Maxwell S. Stewart, editor of the Public Affairs pamphlet series, summarizes the findings of an inquiry into the character and cost of public education in New York state.

The report contends that the average student leaving school knows little of the political and economic problems which face America today, particularly of international affairs. Nor will they shoulder any responsibility for civic coöperation, becoming less willing to take on such duties the longer they stay in school.

The inquiry also revealed that the schools are not really designed to meet the needs of the majority of today's young people. High school studies, in particular, are fitted for the one out of five who goes on to college rather than the four who do not.

Perfume Allied to Music, Says A. Kostelanetz

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Interesting are the comments of Andre Kostelanetz, celebrated orchestra conductor and husband of the diminutive diva, Lily Pons, on women, music, and perfume.

"There is a direct and inescapable connection between the compelling appeal of perfume and the imperative one of music.

"The poetry inherent in perfume is more closely allied to the poetry of music than most people realize. Both appeal primarily to the senses and the emotions. Both are subject to moods. Music can be tremendously sad or overwhelmingly gay. It can be calm or impetuous, vital or delicate.

"Perfume can be all of those things, too. There is only one mental attitude that music reflects that perfume cannot hope to attain. That is objectivity—as exemplified by Bach. Perfume is never objective."

In the opinion or Mr. Kastelanetz certain delicate flowers suggest Chopin. The musk and sandalwood odors parallel the rich exoticism of Rimsky-Korsakoff. The grace of Debussy is echoed in some of the lighter bouquets. And the abandon and gayety, mingled with wistful yearning which distinguishes the gypsy music of Brahms and Liszt, are richly present in a certain new, warmly vivid Romany scent.

"It is because perfume mirrors the moods of music that it seems so necessary a part of the feminine ensemble," says the maestro. "Women, after all, belong primarily to the world of emotion, which is the world of music and perfume. A woman without moods is as unthinkable as a woman without perfume, or as sadly lacking as a world without music."

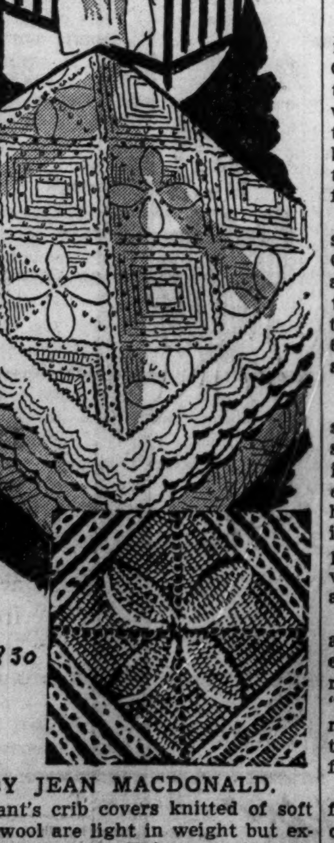
Infant's Knitted Crib Cover Uses Daintiest Wool

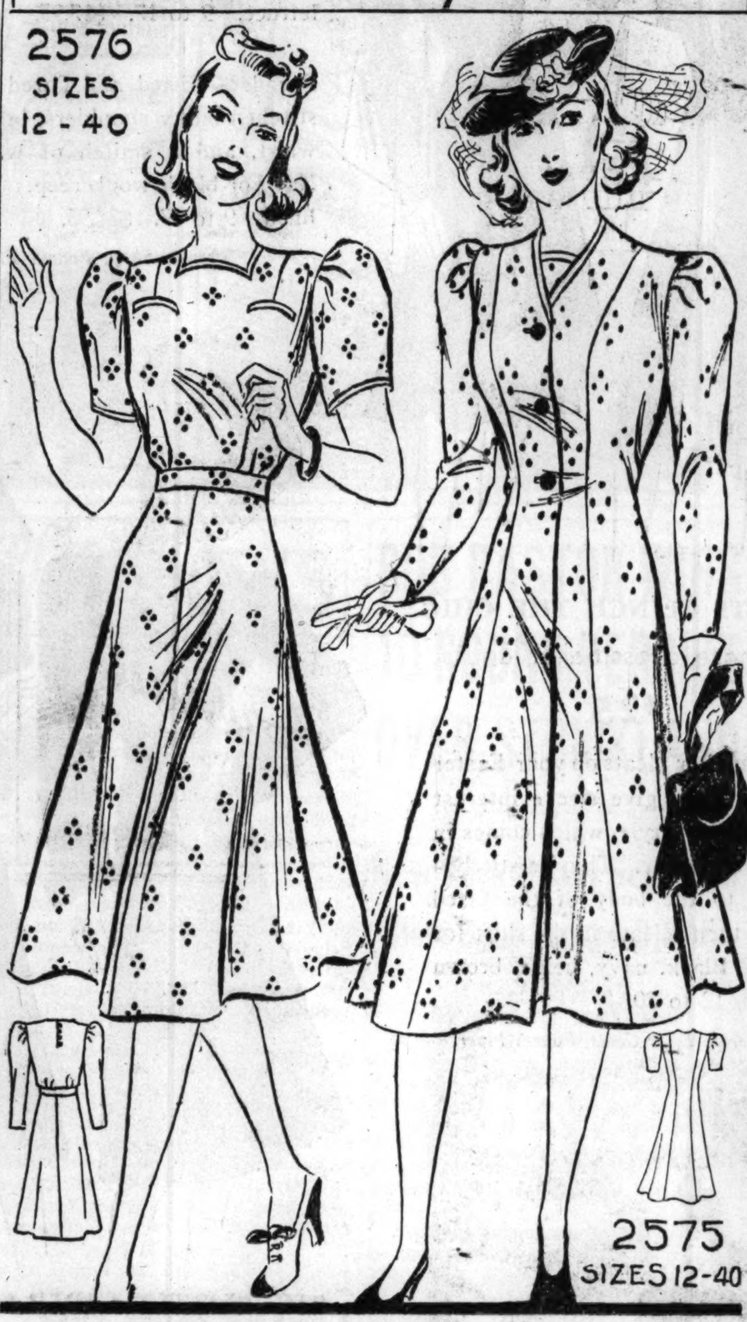


BY JEAN MACDONALD.

Infant's crib covers knitted of soft pink wool are light in weight but exceedingly warm. This cover is composed of a series of knitted squares set together and edged with a lacy border. It is an ideal cover to be carried around as a shawl or protection for the baby when he is awake or being fed.

For instructions for knitting the baby's crib cover, No. X-230, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Ensemble Lovely in Prints



WOMAN'S AND MISS' SPRING OUTFITS.

One of the big things for spring is prints and the other is ensembles. We're presenting some late news in both by offering two patterns today.

At the left is a simple frock with square neckline, slit pockets, puffed sleeves, and slightly flared skirt. It is a beauty alone, but doubles its value if it is teamed with the coat. This model has a V neckline, long puffed sleeves, princess lines, and flared skirt. If you've been noticing your fashion news you know that such ensembles are the very latest things for spring. Make both dress and coat of the same print or make one or the other in a harmonizing plain color.

The lines of these models flatter both slim and heavier figures, so whether you're miss or matron we wish you wonderful spring chic and offer these two patterns to assure it for you.

Style No. 2576 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38, and 40 inches bust measurement.

Style No. 2575 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Avers Outlook on Life Is Fixed by 5th Birthday

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Preparation for a successful marriage begins at birth, Dr. LeMon Clark, a Chicago physician, said yesterday. A child's basic outlook toward such things as coöperation in the home, a sense of loyalty, responsibility, and a normal attitude toward the expression of affection are well fixed by the time he is 5 years old.

Dr. Clark spoke at the opening session of the two-day conference of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education and the National Conference on Family Relations at the Morrison hotel. More than 600 educators from the middle west attended.

"Young people must be taught that sex impulses are entirely normal," he said. "To make them feel that there is something indecent about such emotional experiences does serious harm to their own personality. What is done to control and direct this important instinct determines the development of the individual's personality."

Affection between boys and girls after the middle adolescent period is entirely normal and should be favored rather than condemned, he declared. "However," he added, "heavy petting may in the end result in moving the two sexes farther apart, making the finest type of marriages impossible."

Unhappy marriages often result from poor food and mismanaged incomes, Mrs. Mary Koll Heiner, director of the School for Domestic Arts and Sciences, told the conference. She urged parents to teach boys and girls household techniques and homemaking skills.

"There is a stage when housework is of absorbing interest to both boys and girls, when they yern to achieve the sense of power that comes from imitating adults," she said. "Many mothers harm their children by their own high standards of job perfection and their impatience with the child's inability to meet it."

FOR THE YOUNGEST IN THE FAMILY: Strained and seedless jams packed in small jars especially for the tiny tot are something new on the market. They come in six flavors: Prune, fig, grape, apricot, black raspberry, and currant-raspberry. Mother can put a spoonful on baby's cereal or spread it on the cracker or toast he chews. These jams have the approval of pediatricians and physicians, and I can personally vouch for their good flavor and quality, for I've tried them all.

NO, WE DON'T BUY RECIPES. Somebody must have started a false rumor, for the cooking department has received many contributions and letters about proposed contributions within the last two weeks. We don't buy recipes and we don't buy articles on cookery. Sorry!

And, by the way, shall I be forgiven for stealing a little space to remind readers of a few do's and don'ts about writing in? First, do inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our reply. Don't, we beg of you, send those measly little greeting card envelopes. They are fine for their purpose, but they won't hold many recipes. Standard business size envelopes, 6½ by 3½ inches, or even larger than that, are better.

Do, please, be specific about what information you'd like. Don't just ask for "information on cakes, salads, etc. Tell us what particular recipes you want and ask about the problems that bother you most in cooking.

Please don't expect a letter "by return mail." We can't be quite that speedy, due to the volume of mail. And please do put your full name and address on the letter as well as on the envelope you inclose.

Don't request answers in this column to your questions.

That's all, thank you. We hope you'll continue to write often when we can help with menus and recipes.

A reader with an allergy toward eggs asks plaintively for cake and cookie recipes which are eggless. This reminds me of a good cream cheese cookie which is a favorite in my family and which requires no eggs.

Cream Cheese Cookies.

[Three dozen]

⅓ cup butter or margarine
3 3-ounce packages cream cheese
½ cup sugar
1⅓ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream cheese with butter. Add sugar and vanilla. Gradually work in the sifted dry ingredients. Press the mixture through a cookie press onto an ungreased baking sheet, or form into a roll and chill overnight in the refrigerator. Slice thinly to bake. Bake at 425 degrees for about ten minutes.

Many oatmeal, molasses, and ginger cookies are eggless. We're sending some of these recipes to this correspondent, along with several for eggless cakes.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

On many occasions I have pointed out that slams in no trump often are safer than at a suit denomination. Naturally this applies only when all four suits are securely stopped and, in addition, when there is a very long and solid suit available to produce the bulk of the tricks. The following letter backs up this theory with a vengeance:

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: This interesting hand showed up last night in our team-of-four contest and almost broke up the party:

"North, dealer.

"Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 7 4
♥ A K J 4 3
♦ K 10 7 4
♣ A 3

WEST	EAST
♠ 10 3 2	♠ 9 5
♥ 6 5 2	♥ Q 10 9 8 7
♦ None	♦ Q J 9 6 3 2
♣ K Q 10 9 8 7 6	♣ None

SOUTH
♠ A K Q J 8 6
♥ None
♦ A 8 5
♣ J 5 4 2

"At one table South landed at six spades. West opened the club king and, when North covered, East ruffed. South now started to pray for a heart return, but East [not unnaturally] picked a diamond. West ruffed in a gleeful and highly ungentlemanly fashion and returned the club queen, followed by the club six. East overruffed dummy's seven spot and returned another diamond. When North regained consciousness he chalked up a four trick set.

"At the other table South arrived at a six no trump contract. As before, the club king was opened, but this time the ace won. Six spades were run off. Now South had to stop and think. He recalled that East had discarded three diamonds and two hearts on the four leads to which he had been unable to follow, and the mystery was solved. With only three diamonds still outstanding declarer led the ace and king and a third round. East won and had to return a heart from his Q 10 9 up to dummy's A K J. Six no trump, bid and made, vs. six spades down four. Some swing!

"H. D. H., Boston."

While reiterating the remark that a six no trump contract often is safer than a suit contract, I must confess that I am baffled when I attempt to reconstruct the bidding that landed South at six no trump. It would seem that, after South bids the spades strongly, it is only North who can mention no trump, since it is he who has the quick club stopper. Of course, I can visualize some such bidding as this:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	2 spades	3 clubs
3 hearts	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 no trump	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

By using the 4-5 no trump convention as a slam try South can make himself declarer. But this does not explain how he dare risk a six no trump contract when he does not hold a single heart in his hand for communication and solidifying purposes. I must confess that in this particular case I would have met the fate meted out to the unfortunate gentleman at table No. 1!

Nail Biting Is Best Cured by Finding Cause

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Your advice of several months ago, when I wrote to you about my little girl's biting her fingernails, has worked like a charm, and I am very grateful to you."

It was not only the letter, but a recent incident that made me realize that this subject always is timely.

I was in a drug store yesterday when two women came in, talking earnestly. As the clerk appeared one of the women held out a slip of paper she had been showing her friend.

"Do you keep this product?" she asked. "It is new and highly recommended to stop nail biting if applied to the ends of a child's fingers." The clerk departed and was gone long enough for me to eavesdrop brazenly, especially as my prescription was being filled as I waited.

And the story I heard of the little girl who bit her nails so badly was that she seemed very nervous, had had her tonsils removed recently, had changed schools, had been presented with a baby sister, and had been watched within an inch of her life ever since she had been born.

The mother seemed to me to be an earnest but very nervous woman.

The advice I had sent to the writer of the letter which I quoted at the beginning of this article had nothing in it about bitter tasting substances being put on her child's finger tips, nor about any other restraining device.

It went deeper than that. But more specific advice on the subject of nail biting will be given next week.

We have a leaflet called "Biting the Finger Nails—How to Check the Habit." Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Teachers Meet Today to Consider Pension Changes

Proposed changes in the Chicago teachers' pension law are expected to attract several thousand teachers to a meeting of the Illinois Education association this morning on the 14th floor at 32 West Randolph street. The proposed alterations in the law were drawn up by trustees of the association, but they cannot be submitted to the legislature pending action on them by the association members.

The Housewife

A short while ago I wrote about some new and charming place mats for the dining table that were made of a laminated nainsook and that could be wiped off with a damp cloth when they were soiled. The same company is also making an attractive bridge table set. In one package, and most inexpensive, are two card table covers. One is like a net, but is laminated so that it is waterproof and is easy to keep clean. This is for your bridge game.

When it's time for refreshments simply slip over it, or over the bridge table, the second cloth, which is made of the same material as the place mats and is decorated in a colored bias tape. It has tapes at the four edges which slip down over the edges of the table.

Girl Is Usually Happier with Contemporary

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"I am 18 and my problem centers around an older group of people, including the man who says he wants to marry me.

"He is 33 and is a professional man. It so happens that he does not enjoy going out with young people my age, so all of our social life in the half year I have been going around with him has centered around his friends. They are professional people, musicians and people like that.

"Because of their ages they naturally have had more experience than I. The boys I went around with before this man came into my life were college boys, so it makes quite a difference to be injected into this older group.

"The chief trouble is that every time we do go out with the older people my friend makes it more unpleasant for me by telling me that I should read more so I could keep up with the conversation.

"J— tells me he loves me, but I am wondering, because lately he has been talking a good deal about needing money. A man in his profession, he thinks, would make faster strides if he married a moneyed girl. He knows my people have money and that they are indulgent toward me. But he says rich parents often make no settlement and it is best to thresh this out before marriage. I have a feeling that he is trying to tell me he wants it all down in black and white before we marry. What is your judgment?"

Your hunch is right, we venture, young lady, and, all things considered, we feel you'd be in for an unpleasant experience with that man. Give one of your contemporaries a chance, why don't you? That type of union is more promising.

LILLARD HOLDS WHITE SOX TO 4 HITS; CUBS WIN, 2-0

ROOKIE HURLER STRIKES OUT 5 IN GOING ROUTE

Leiber and Mancuso Account for Runs.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Gene Lillard.

Yuma, Ariz., March 31—Yuma, the United States weather bureau's most torrid station, was sizzling hot today and so was Gene Lillard, Cub pitcher, as he pitched nine innings to slap down the White Sox, 2 to 0, in a four hit performance that made the Cub entourage gaga.

Lillard set out to be the first Cub pitcher to go more than five innings. He was to pitch seven innings. But, to use Manager Leo Hartnett's favorite expression, Gene found himself hotter than a depot stove. He asked to go all the way and seemed stronger at the finish than most Cub pitchers have been after three or four innings.

Of the four hits allowed by Lillard, a third baseman rookie with the Cubs two springs ago, one was an infield scratch in the first inning by Gerry Walker. The second hit was a single by Eric McNair, who, like Walker, was blotted out by a double play. The other hits were successive singles by Joe Kuhel and Eric McNair with two out in the fifth inning. These were canceled by the second strikeout of the inning, one of five executed by Lillard.

Only 29 Face Lillard.

Lillard faced only twenty-nine batsmen, two over the minimum, walked none, and cast no wild pitches. He faced only three men in each inning in the first, second, third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth innings. The two extra batters were those two hitters after those two were out in the fifth.

The Sox had some great pitching themselves. Johnny Rigney yielded only three hits and no runs in five innings. Ex-Giants Hank Leiber and Gus Mancuso produced the essential run off John Whitehead in the sixth and added a cheap run in the eighth. The Cubs made only five hits but drew five passes.

Lillard Tough from Start.

Only nine Sox faced Lillard in the first three innings. After Bejma had fanned to start the game Walker beat out an infield bouncer, but Steinbacher hit into a double play started by Mesner. Appling, Kreevich, and Kuhel supplied infield outs in the second inning. McNair opened the third with a single to center, but Schleuter hit into a double play and Rigney bounced to Herman. The Cubs developed more threats than the Sox in the first three innings, but that was all.

Hack opened the Cub offensive with a single, but Herman fanned, Galan fouled out and after Leiber had walked Marty bounced to Bejma. Cavarretta doubled to get the Cub second under way, but Mancuso fanned. Mesner grounded to Appling, who threw late to third in an attempt to get Cavarretta, Phil reaching third and Steve first. Lillard flied to Steinbacher and Mesner was out Remembrance.

We met once in the dawning, you and I,
And then the busy world swept in between,
As wave on wave the weary months went by
To blot out every hope that might have been;
Yet through the haze of yesterday your eyes
Still haunt the silent nooks of memory,
Like silver stars that from the darkness rise
Casting a solemn splendor over me.
Sometime perchance our paths may meet again,
And though our steps be leaden with the years,
And we be branded with the scars of pain,
And wasted by the heavy toll of tears—
Though time has left your cheeks furrowed and wan
I think that I shall know your eyes at dawn. —T. E. B.

PACIFIC COAST NINES TO OPEN SEASONS TODAY

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—(AP)—With Los Angeles, Seattle, and Sacramento as the favorites, Pacific Coast league baseball gets under way tomorrow in four California cities.

Los Angeles, 1938 pennant winner, opens at home against Hollywood before an anticipated crowd of 12,000.

Seattle and San Francisco open here with 10,000 expected to turn out.

Portland, meeting Sacramento on the latter's home lot, is expected to draw 6,000, while some 8,000 are looked for at San Diego, where the Padres meet Oakland.

BOB PASTOR WINS 10 ROUND VERDICT OVER STRICKLAND

New York Heavy Scores in Slow Bout Before 3,845.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, defeated Maurice Strickland of New Zealand in a spiritless ten round bout in the Chicago Stadium last night.

Referee Phil Collins and Judges William Battye and Ed Klein awarded Pastor an unanimous decision. Pastor weighed 185¾ pounds and Strickland 190½.

The bout headed the first show held in the big west side arena in a year. The card also commemorated the tenth anniversary of boxing in the building.

The crowd of 3,845 grossed only $7,198, or $3,000 short of the sum needed to break even. The paid attendance was 2,853 and the net receipts $5,567.

Pastor Guaranteed $5,000.

Pastor was guaranteed $5,000 by Strickland, the purse to be paid out of Strickland's 45 per cent of the receipts. James D. Norris Jr., Chicago sportsman, who is said to have a financial interest in Strickland, will pay the shortage to Pastor, it was reported.

Lem Franklin, 1937 International Golden Gloves heavyweight winner, whipped Big Abe Simon in the ten round secondary feature. It was Franklin's second conquest in eleven days. Lem carried 196½ pounds, Simon 250.

Strickland was soundly beaten, but Pastor's performance was far from impressive. The first round was the most exciting point in the encounter, if there were any. In that session Pastor scored with a right to the jaw which almost floored his rangy opponent.

Crowd Boos in Late Rounds.

A right to the heart made Strickland wince in the second, and in the third Maurice suffered a cut on his left eye. The fourth round went to Pastor when he landed a series of rights and lefts to the face, but Strickland boxed on even terms in the fifth.

The spectators booed the boys for their listless exhibition in the closing rounds.

In the last of the preliminary fights, Billy Miske Jr., St. Paul, 180 pounder, won a six round slugging match with Joe Lubin, Miske registered a nine count knockdown in the third round.

Davis Wins Again.

Verle Davis, Kankakee lightweight, scored his fourteenth straight triumph by hammering out a six round verdict over Nick Castiglione, of the Italo-American Youth organization. Castiglione was down twice in the first round for no counts.

Clarence Brown, south side heavyweight, was awarded a devision over Buff Mellinger, when Dr. Frank A. Lagorio of the Illinois Boxing commission refused to allow the Louisville slugger to come out for the fifth round because of a lacerated lip. The match was set for six rounds.

In the opener of four rounds, Al Globe, Los Angeles light heavyweight pounded out a victory in four rounds over Art Pavlis.

Fight Decisions

At New York—Henry Armstrong stopped Davey Day [12]; Joe Ionnotti stopped Tommy St. Angelo [4]; Larry Kellum beat Victor Dellicurti [6]; Milo Theodorescu beat Quentin Breese [8]; Johnny Bellus beat Yucatan Kid [8].

At Chicago Stadium—Bob Pastor beat Maurice Strickland [10]; Lem Franklin beat Abe Simon [10]; Billy Miske Jr. beat Joe Lubin [6]; Clarence Brown beat Buff Mellinger [5]; Verle Davis beat Nick Castiglione [6]; Al Globe beat Art Pavli [4].

At Minneapolis, Minn.—Gunnar Barlund knocked out Charles Neaves [2]; Solly Stark beat Henry Schaft [6]; Earl Peterson and Jerry Hayes drew [6].

At Memphis, Tenn.—Jack Marshall stopped Lloyd Montgomery [6].

At Worcester, Mass.—Pat [Pinky] Foley beat Eddie Zivic [10].

This Cost Armstrong a Round—but Not the Fight

WISCONSIN PUTS FIVE IN FINALS OF N. C. A. A. BOXING

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., March 31.—The University of Wisconsin is assured of the National Collegiate Athletic association boxing championship. Tonight as nearly 10,000 watched the semifinals of the 1939 college tournament, five battling Badgers reached the title round.

No other squad came near to duplicating Wisconsin's parade of victories. Louisiana State university, which had qualified six boxers for the semifinals, in comparison to Wisconsin's seven, faltered badly tonight and sent only three to the final bracket. Two of these will meet Badger boxers in tomorrow's matches.

Rankin Starts Parade.

Gene Rankin, popular Wiconsin lightweight whose two victories yesterday caught the crowd's fancy, won a close decision from Joe Falco of Temple to start the procession. Previously Art Walsh, co-captain of the team, had been beaten in the first semi-final in the 120 pound class. Ray Kramer, 165 pounds, later was eliminated in an indifferent match with Fred Stant of Catholic university. But Omar Crocker, Woody Swancutt, Truman Torgerson, and big Nick Lee followed Rankin's spirited lead. It's an even bet that a majority of these Badgers will be hailed national champions tomorrow night.

Crocker, a hard hitting 145 pounder, stopped Laurence Harmon of L. S. U. tonight. His exhibition of punching was duplicated by Lee in the final bout of the night when the former Milwaukee Golden Gloves champion stopped Larry Adams of Superior, Wis., Teachers.

Swancutt Beats Champion.

Woody Swancutt was awarded a close decision over Steve Wilkerson of Mississippi, the defending champion in the 155 pound class. Torgerson, the Badger light heavyweight, outlasted Al Passic of Idaho, in a grueling battle featured by Passic's body attack. In the closing round, however, Torgerson found the range and hurt Passic with sharp rights to the head.

There was a distinct Golden Gloves tinge to the march of victors. Ted Kara, representing Idaho, easily de-

Burke Shoots 69 to Lead Masters Golf; Jones Has 76

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Augusta, Ga., March 31.—Jerry, a Shetland sheep dog which is regarded as the smartest canine in golf, sat patiently in the dressing room of the Augusta National Golf club this afternoon for three hours. No amount of coaxing could lure him out of his place. Jerry was waiting for his master, Billy Burke, the Cleveland, O., professional who won the 1931 national open championship, to finish his first round in the sixth annual Masters' tournament.

At 6 o'clock, Jerry charged out of the room to greet Burke and the elegant card of 69 with which William took over the lead in golf's most exclusive party. That 69 was three under par and gave him a one shot lead over Samuel Jackson Snead, the West Virginia prodigy who last year collected more than $20,000 in tournament purses.

Reach Turn in 32.

Snead and Burke each reached the nine hole turn in 32, four shots under par, but Billy exercised more thrift on the home side, taking a 37 to Samuel's 38. These two, playing twenty minutes apart, made the gallery work overtime after it was satisfied it had done its stint for the day in pursuing two other fellows for eighteen holes.

This twosome included Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and a chubby Atlanta lawyer who registered as Robert Tyre Jones Jr. Lawyer Jones is the principal reason for the existence of the Masters' event, for it is the only show of the year in which the one-time boss of the game makes a competitive appearance.

The majority in the throng of 2,000 traipsed faithfully after Picard and Jones from the first tee, pursuing Picard because he won last year's tournament, and Jones because he is still Jones to the folks in these parts. Bobby didn't disappoint them, going around the first turn in 36, even par.

Runs Into Trouble.

Coming home, however, he ran smack into the four bogeys which revealed the fact that you don't go around busting 70 unless you have played the regular big league circuit. Jones settled for a 40 and a 76, which gave him a tie for 28th place. He three putted two greens and missed three birdie chances of less than four feet.

The best Jones has been able to do in the five previous tourneys was thirteenth in 1934 and sixteenth last year.

Burke's advantage this evening was popular with every one on the course, for Bill is one of the best liked men in the game. He won the 1931 open from George Von Elm after one of the longest playoffs in national competition, a 72 hole extra inning argument at Inverness.

Yates, Harbert Lead Amateurs.

Burke and Snead were well aware tonight, at the end of one of the best weather days the Masters' ever has enjoyed, that they still have some work to do in tomorrow's eighteen holes and Sunday's 36. Only a shot back of Samuel are three 71 shooters. These include Picard, who was holing putts from all over; Tommy Armour of Chicago with a fine back nine of 33 to join Burke in showing the younger lads the way, and Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., winner of the recent North and South.

Heading the amateurs in the field were Charley Yates of Atlanta, British title holder, and Melvin Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., the slim, black haired youth who set a world's medal play record in winning the Michigan open a couple of years ago. Each had a 74.

The cards for Burke and Snead:

CHICAGOAN PUTS UP COURAGEOUS BATTLE TO END

Champion Suffers Broken Hand.

BY STEWART OWEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 31.—Chicago's Davey Day cannot boast tonight that he is the world's welterweight champion, but for eleven furious rounds he gave Henry Armstrong, who is the champion, the greatest battle he has had since he dethroned Barney Ross eight months ago. Then in the twelfth Davey went the way of all flesh that is struck by the chocolate tornado.

Under a rain of left and right hand punches to the head and the body late in the twelfth round Davey wilted and dropped to the floor, while 10,028 screaming fans in Madison Square Garden, roared their acclaim, not to the victor, but to the loser.

There was no count, Referee Billy Cavanaugh stopping the bout as Day slumped under terrific rights to the body.

Day Shows His Courage.

Day's exhibition in the light of Armstrong's great record was amazing. Few thought he had a chance and so the few who came to the Garden to pay a meager total of $29,008 to see the battle were not surprised at the outcome. They were surprised, though, at the courage and tenacity with which Davey traded punches, almost on even terms with the champion, until the finish.

Armstrong, true to form, hit Davey with everything he had, landing punches indiscriminately from Day's knee caps to the top of his head, but he took almost as many blows in return as he dealt out. Although the champion lost the fifth and the eleventh rounds on fouls, he might just as easily have been penalized in four or five more, so regularly did he connect below Day's belt.

Armstrong bruised his right hand and broke a knuckle in his left hand in the fourth or fifth round.

Armstrong Never Stops.

Dr. Nardiello, after an x-ray examination, said the index finger of the left hand had been fractured. He will put the finger in a cast tomorrow for three weeks. Manager Eddie Mead said Armstrong would go through with plans for his British invasion and would meet Ernie Roderick, the British welter titlist, as scheduled, on May 22.

The furious pace the champion set at the clang of the opening bell was maintained right up to the finish when with only eleven seconds of the twelfth round remaining, Day crumpled under a sweeping right swing that caught him in the left side. Armstrong never abated that speed and neither did Day. But despite the savage fury with which the champion fought he seemed, paradoxically, to be taking Day apart with the cool detachment of a biologist dissecting a tadpole.

Both fighters rushed out at the start of the first round, lowered their heads and for three full minutes neither gave an inch, whaling away with rights and lefts that resounded throughout the arena. At the end of the round, Day's face and body already were splotched with red but they went through the second round with the same amazing speed.

Davey Begins to Waver.

It was the same way in the third, left, right, left, right, with no let up. Armstrong was still pushing at the same place in the fourth but Day backed up a little now, as Henry's punches began straying below the belt. They were at it the same way in the fifth, which the champion lost on a foul after landing a half dozen low punches.

Day changed his tactics in the sixth and shooting at long range appeared to have a little better of the exchanges, and again in the eighth when he cut Armstrong's eye severely.

Throughout the next two rounds, Davey worked on that cut, reopening it as fast as Armstrong's second could patch it. The damage seemed to give Day more confidence and he accelerated the pace a little.

Day was giving the champion as good as he sent and the crowd was clamoring for him to put Armstrong away, when Henry began swinging low again in the eleventh. Day was visibly hurt as that round ended.

Even Faster Than Ross Bout.

Armstrong swarmed all over Davey as he tried to cover up, pounding away furiously all over his anatomy until the referee halted the bout with Day resting in the middle of the ring on his hands and knees.

Barney Ross, Day's former stable mate, was in Day's corner, hoping for his protégé to bring back to Chicago the crown which he surrendered to Armstrong last year. Barney was critical of the referee's action in stopping the bout. Ringsiders who saw the Ross-Armstrong bout, however, said the pace of tonight's battle was even more furious.

Day weighed 136 pounds, one more pound than Armstrong.

After the Day-Armstrong weighing-in ceremonies in the New York boxing commission offices this afternoon, the commission approved the heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis and Tony Galento for June 28 in the Yankee stadium.

1,259 DOGGIEST POOCHES PANT AFTER RIBBONS

Kennel Show Opens with Elite Entries Today.

The tallest is the Irish wolfhound, thirty-six inches from ground to shoulder.

The dogs will eat two tons of dog biscuits today. Airedales and Welsh terriers of the Four in Hand kennel in El Monte, Cal., traveled the greatest distance to the show. Out of town exhibitors are estimated to have traveled 240,000 miles to bring their dogs.

Twenty-five per cent of the exhibitors are wealthy, able to maintain large kennels and import foreign dogs.

The rest have average incomes and are the most important factor of the dog fancier world, according to C. E. Harbison, show manager.

Forty per cent of the dogs in the show are from Illinois.

Handlers Get $10 a Dog.

Sixty per cent of the dogs will be shown in the judging ring by professional handlers. They get $10 a dog, and may show as many as 30. Owners put the others through their paces.

The nineteen judges will average $75 each for their work here. They come from as far away as New York and Vancouver.

One feature is the obedience test. Dogs must walk on leash without pulling, walk alongside their master with dignity, sit with other dogs without annoying them or being annoyed, and lie down with other dogs for three minutes. If they bark or rise before the time's up, it means points off their report cards.

The management will have $12,590 invested when the show opens at 10 a. m. today, $10 a dog. Exhibitors pay $3 to enter a dog in one class and $2 for each additional class. Ticket sales must pay a large part of the expense.

NORTHBROOK GIRL WINS

Miss Joan Little, 17, of Northbrook, Ill., defeated 18 other youthful entrants between the ages of 14 and 20 in the amateur judging contest which marked the unofficial opening of the 38th annual Chicago dog show yesterday.

Ann Pearsall, 16, of Elgin, was second and Helen Hinckley, 20, of Chicago, third, followed in order by Peggy Shannon, 17, Chicago; Roy Hughes, 17, Allenhurst, N. J., and Howard Littlejohn, 14, De Kalb, Ill.

Over 100 Champions.

More than 100 of the dogs entered in the show are recognized champions and are to survive preliminary tests in the judging rings and compete for the title of best dog in show.

The doors will open at 10 o'clock this morning, when all dogs will be on their benches. At 11 o'clock seven of the nineteen judges will start the job of picking breed winners and eliminating dogs from consideration for the big title. to be awarded tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Special Events on Schedule.

Sandwiched into the schedule of routine judging will be special events designed to interest the average dog owner who knows little about dog championships, judging standards, and dog classes—moving pictures, children's handling classes, obedience tests, and performances by trick dogs.

Sporting dogs will be judged this morning, with German shorthaired pointers, all retrievers, Clumber spaniels, and Irish water spaniels on the program.

Cocker spaniels and Boston terriers, America's two most popular breeds, will be judged this afternoon and evening, with separate sessions starting at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Amateur Judge Has Her Day

Bruins, Rangers Meet Tonight in Sixth Series Game

New York, March 31.—(AP)—The New York Rangers returned from Boston today, confident that their Stanley Cup hocky playoff series with the Boston Bruins is in the bag, even though they're still a game to the bad.

As he led his men home after they had scored their second straight 2 to 1 triumph over the Bruins, who had captured the first three games of the best of seven series, Manager Lester Patrick exulted:

"We have the psychological advantage now. The Rangers are hot and there is no stopping them. Every player is positive we can even the series here tomorrow night, then go right back to Boston and win the decisive game Sunday."

Ticket sales at Madison Square Garden today indicated a sellout crowd of about 16,000 will see tomorrow's game.

The Rangers will start the same team that won last night's overtime game. The only injury was a puck bruise on Dutch Hiller's ankle, but he is expected to be ready to play. It was learned, however, that Cecil Dillon, the veteran winger who hasn't played in the post season games, has no chance of getting back. An examination disclosed he had a torn knee ligament and the knee was put in a cast.

The Detroit Red Wings will meet the Toronto Maple Leafs at Toronto tomorrow in the deciding game of Series D. The winner will meet the winner of the Boston-New York Rangers game in the Stanley cup playoff finals.

Columbus, O., March 31.—[Special.]—The New York Athletic club's 400 yard free style relay team tonight set a new world's record in the second day's competition in the National A. A. U. indoor swimming meet in Ohio State university's natatorium.

Members of the team and their times in the 400 yard event are Tom McDermott, 54.5; James Reilly, 53.2; Walter Spence, 52.2, and Peter Fick, 51.1. The New York team took the lead at the start and never was headed, leading the Yale freshmen by about six yards.

Jack Medica, swimming for the New York A. C., dethroned Ralph Flanagan as champion in the 220 yard free style. Medica and Flanagan, who finished the race in that order, trailed the leaders for the first 150 yards, Quayle of Ohio State leading and then weakening. The time was 2:12.7.

R. R. Hough, Princeton's intercollegiate champion, won the 220 yard breast stroke, leading Johnny Higgins, Ohio State star, to the finish by a foot.

Medinah Awarded Kiefer.

Awarding of Adolph Kiefer, backstroke and medley star, to the Medinah club today enabled the Chicago entrant to take a temporary lead in the team race. Kiefer entered the meet with his affiliation undecided. He was claimed by both the Texas Aquatic club and Medinah. Summaries:

OXFORD CREW, CAMBRIDGE ROW 91ST RACE TODAY

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 31.—The Oxford crew ruled a decided favorite over Cambridge tonight as the eighteen young men who will start the long journey from Putney to Mortlake about 11 o'clock tomorrow morning closed their long months of training.

Despite the war clouds the question in the minds of a large part of London's population tonight was not whether Hitler would take Poland, but whether the slightly superior weight of the Oxford crew would prove as effective as is expected when the winning post looms up over the four miles from Putney bridge.

Tomorrow's race will provide a contrast—the strictly orthodox style, as exemplified by the Oxford eight, as against a crew which depends largely on leg drive and has little style.

Tomorrow's is the ninety-first race. Oxford, which two years ago stopped a Cambridge winning streak which had reached thirteen straight, has won forty-two and Cambridge forty-seven. One race ended in a dead heat.

Detroit Given 1940 A. B. C.; Elect Officers

Cleveland, O., March 31.—(AP)—The American Bowling congress tonight awarded its 1940 tournament to Detroit. The Michigan city polled 328 votes against 285 for St. Paul, Minn., its only competitor.

Frank J. Fitzpatrick, Oakland, Cal., was elected president of the congress, suceeding the late John E. Davies, Columbus, O. E. H. Baumgarten, Milwaukee, Wis., was reëlected secretary.

Elect Vice Presidents.

The following were elected vice presidents: Neil C. King, Indianapolis; George W. Klockson, Dayton, O.; John L. Rounds, St. Paul; Martin G. Unmacht, Dubuque, Ia.; Jerry C. Ameling, St. Louis; Elmer W. Irwin, San Francisco; Gerhard S. Germann, Utica, N. Y., and William N. Blau, Madison, Wis. All except Blau have been vice presidents before.

Bids were received from St. Louis and Indianapolis for the 1941 tournament, from Philadelphia for 1942, from Pittsburgh for 1943, and from Houston, Tex., for 1946.

Representing Detroit in the bid for next year's meet were Mayor Richard Reading and Frank B. Mitzel, chairman of the Detroit A. B. C. committee. Mayor William Fallond and Sherif Tommy Gibbons, former heavyweight boxer, spoke for St. Paul. Mayor Reading, rolling in the doubles, hit 366. His partner, Harry McCullough, scored 491 for a team score of 857.

Chicagoans Tie for Second.

The congress adopted an amendment to its constitution providing for rotation of its yearly tournament to different sections of the country. Under the plan the central district will have the meet three times in the next seven years, the eastern sections twice and the Mississippi and western sections once each. Upper Michigan and Wisconsin were moved to the central district.

Joe Hunter and Matt Kowalski, Chicago, rolled into a tie for second place in the doubles today with 1,307. Hunter had 691 and Kowalski 616. S. Shelley and L. Schmidt, of Wooster, O., continued to lead the division with 1,332, and Vic Maurer and Alex Graham of New Philadelphia, O., were tied with the Chicagoans.

RIGGS DEFEATS WAYNE SABIN IN EXHIBITION GAME

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, who inherited the amateur tennis crown when Don Budge abdicated last winter, defeated Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., national indoor title holder, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1, in Patten gymnasium last night. The match, sponsored by the Chicago Tennis association, attracted 3,000 spectators.

Riggs' steady play and accurate placements enabled him to win the first three games of the opening set. Sabin rallied to tie the score at 4-all, but Riggs broke Sabin's service to win the next game and won the set on his own service.

Sabin broke service twice to win the second set, 6-2. Each player won his own service in the first two games of the third set, but Riggs turned on the pressure to win four games in a row to clinch the match.

Gardner Larned of Morgan Park won a preliminary singles match from Jimmy Evert, national indoor boy title holder from Senn High school, 6-2, 6-2.

Riggs teamed with Frank Froehling, Northwestern university captain and Chicago indoor champion, to defeat Sabin and Johnny Shostrom, University of Chicago Big Ten individual champion, 7-5, 6-4.

Frostbite Dinghies Will Race for Mitchell Trophy

The Belmont harbor frostbite dinghy fleet will compete today and tomorrow in a series of ten to twelve races for the Leeds Mitchell Jr. trophy. Lockwood Pirie, secretary of the Chicago chapter of the North American Dinghy association, is to defend the trophy in his D class racer, Gemini.

REDS OVERCOME BROOKLYN LEAD TO TRIUMPH, 8-7

Six Runs in One Inning Fail to Save Dodgers.

Tampa, Fla., March 31.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers thought they had clinched a victory after a six run rally in the fourth inning today, but Cincinnati's Reds worked away at the deficit, climbed into a tie in the seventh, and went on to win, 8 to 7, with a run in the tenth.

The Dodgers took a 1 to 0 lead in the second on Dolph Camilli's home run, trailed, 2 to 1, as the Reds scored twice in the third, and then apparently put the game away with their fourth inning blast. But Cincinnati, getting one in the fourth and three in the sixth, tied it up on Jimmy Wilson's homer in the seventh and won out in the first extra inning as Bill Werber's long hit scored Billy Myers. TIGERS OPTION TWO.

Lakeland, Fla., March 31.—(AP)—The pruning process started in the Detroit Tiger camp today as Cletus Elwood Poffenberger, rotund young pitcher, and Frank Secory, rookie outfielder, were sent to the Toledo club of the American association on option.

At the same time General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed that Frank [Pinky] Higgins, veteran third sacker, would go to Beaumont, Tex., when the Tigers break camp to get in condition. Higgins, obtained from the Boston Red Sox in a trade, has been idle because of spike wounds and doctors say he will not be able to discard his crutches until next week.

PHILS, 4; BROWNS, 0.

San Antonio, Tex., March 31.—(AP) Claude Passeau and Hugh Mulcahy held the St. Louis Browns to six scattered hits today to give the Phillies a 4 to 0 victory. LAME SHOULDER SENDS HUBBELL BACK TO DOCTOR

Baton Rouge, La., March 31.—[Special.]—Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' ace pitcher, is a hospital patient again. Manager Bill Terry today said he would send Hubbell to Memphis Sunday night to be examined by Dr. J. S. Speed, who removed chipped bone from Carl's elbow last fall.

Hubbell complained of lameness in his left shoulder and the fact he was hit freely in today's practice game led to Terry's decision. The veteran southpaw fears a nerve in his pitching shoulder is the seat of the trouble. One theory is that the new trouble in the shoulder is the result of Hubbell favoring his elbow.

Cunningham Triumphs in Portland Mile Race

Portland, Ore., March 31.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham led a brilliant field to the tape in the Cunningham mile in the Hill relay carnival tonight. His time was 4 minutes 24.4 seconds. LYONS AND SOX FACE BRYANT AND CUBS IN PHOENIX

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Yuma, Ariz., March 31.—The Sox and Cubs, who came to town early this morning on separate trains instead of in family style as originally scheduled, were hooked together tonight for the ride over to Phoenix, where they'll exhibit their big league wares tomorrow and Sunday. Tomorrow's engagement will see Ted Lyons and Jack Knott serving for the American leaguers. Clay Bryant will make his spring debut for the Cubs and will remain in action for at least seven innings unless the Sox take too many liberties with his supposedly sore arm. If Bryant needs help, Vance Page will be summoned.

Marvin Owen was slightly indisposed today, so the Sox third basing was intrusted to Ollie Bejma. Owen complained of stomach misery and was granted a twenty-four hour vacation.

Contrary to the doctor's orders Earl Whitehill, former American league southpaw now with the Cubs, today removed the cast from the left ankle which was fractured several weeks ago at the Catalina training camp. After shedding the cast he slipped into a uniform and took a light workout.

The great Diz Dean, who gave his bum arm its first serious bit of exercise yesterday at Los Angeles, took another turn at throwing in batting practice today. Diz's claim that everything is fine will sound better after he proves he can bear down without bringing on a recurrence.

Shortstop Dickie Bartell, the Cubs' other important invalid, also put on a uniform so as to soak up his share of the broiling sun. He moved around in practice but only in a mild fashion. His trick ankle still was swollen as the result of the exercise taken yesterday at Los Angeles.

The big league variety of baseball was in use today for the first time, a matter of great relief for the pitchers. They don't have to worry now about the hazards involved in throwing the Pacific Coast league antelope ball which was in service during the five games of the series played at Los Angeles.

A foul ball and a set of spikes gave Norm Schlueter, the Sox' kid catcher, a painful going over in the eighth inning. The foul off Steve Mesner's bat plunked him above the right knee and he dropped to the ground. On the next pitch Mesner bounced to Luke Appling, who threw to the plate to head off Joe Marty. Marty's spikes ripped a gash in the spot bruised a moment earlier by the foul. The latter mishap forced the two-time victim to retire for repairs.

GUS MORELAND LEADS IN MIDWEST AMATEUR GOLF

French Lick, Ind., March 31.—[Special.]—Gus Moreland of Peoria, shot 71, one under par on the French Lick Springs hill course today and led the opening round in the eighth annual midwest amateur golf tournament.

Wilfred Wehrle of Racine, Wis., former western amateur champion, was second with 72, one over par on the valley course. M. J. McCarthy Jr., of Cincinnati had 73 on the hill course. John McGuire of Indianapolis, W. J. Tewksbury of La Grange, and A. Minkley of Aurora, Ill., needed 73 strokes on the valley course.

Sid Richardson, Big Ten champion, went one over par on each nine on the valley course for a 73. Jack Hoerner, the defending champion, found the going tough. With his short game showing the lack of practice, he staggered around the first nine in 41. Hoerner lost only two to par on the incoming nine and finished with 41—38—79.

Gus Novotny of La Grange, Ill., started strong with an even par 36 on the hill course, but needed a 38 to finish the second nine for 74.

Wisconsin Routs De Kalb in First Baseball Game

De Kalb, Ill., March 31.—[Special.]—The University of Wisconsin opened its baseball season today by defeating De Kalb Teachers, 19 to 3. De Kalb remained in the running until the eighth inning. The same two teams meet in a double-header tomorrow. Score:

Wisconsin ....201 001 078—19 19 1
De Kalb............002 001 000— 3 5 5

Batteries—Henrichs, Fjelstead and Bietila, Coyne, Appler, Edwards, Stowe, Ryan, Young, Smith and Tellman, Jarvi, Littlejohn.

trying to steal second. In the third Hack fanned and Herman singled to center for the third hit off Rigney. Galan flied to Steinbacher and Leiber forced Herman.

Sox Waste Two Singles.

Bejma, Walker, and Steinbacher supplied infield outs in the fourth inning. Appling fanned to start the fifth and Krevich flied to Leiber. Kuhel then made the third Sox hit off Lillard, a single to center, and went to third on McNair's single to left.

A slick defensive play then went awry because of an error by Hack. McNair broke for second and when Mancuso threw toward second Kuhel broke for home. Lillard, however, cut off Mancuso's throw and had Kuhel trapped between third and home on a throw to Hack. Hack threw to Mancuso, but dropped Gus' return, Kuhel getting back to third and McNair reaching second. The break went for naught, however, for Schleuter struck out to end the inning. Lillard completed the second three inning cluster of scoreless defense by retiring Pinch Batter Thompson, Bejma and Walker.

Leiber Starts Winning Rally.

The Cubs were hitless against Rigney in the fourth and fifth, but got to Whitehead on his arrival in the sixth, which Leiber opened with a double to center and held second while Marty flied to Steinbacher. Cavarretta reached first and Leiber third when Appling fumbled Cavarretta's grounder. Mancusco singled to center, scoring Leiber, but Cavarretta was out trying to reach third. Mesner walked and Lillard struck out.

Lillard seemed to be getting stronger as he extended his stint. In the seventh Herman threw out Steinbacher, Appling flied to Marty, and Kreevich fanned. After Hack, Herman, and Galan had executed infield outs in the seventh, Lillard came out in the eighth for another one-two-three act. Kuhel flied to Marty, McNair fouled to Hack, and Schlueter again fanner.

A Spectator Helps Sox.

The Cubs' scoring in the eighth was held down by a spectator interference ruling. Leiber and Marty walked. Cavarretta bunted and Whitehead threw the ball into left field, where it was grabbed by a fan. The umpires ruled Leiber had scored, but sent Marty back to third and Cavarretta to second. Baker flied to Steinbacher. Marty was out at the plate on Mesner's grounder, and Lillard bounced to Kuhel. Lillard again bowled the Sox in order in the ninth.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Strength developed in the market for hogs yesterday as selling of fall pigs, which had been running about 30 per cent heavier than a year ago, slackened at all leading packing centers.

Most classes of hogs sold readily at steady to strong prices in the Chicago stock yards, with some spots 5 cents higher. The top moved up 5 cents to $7.45, the first gain in eight days.

A decline of 10 to 15 cents in fat lambs brought prices to the lowest levels since the middle of last week.

Half of the 1,000 cattle received yesterday were billed direct to packers, leaving only 500 on the open market. This was not enough to put prices to a test. Scattered sales were made at steady prices.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

Day by Day on the Farm

By BOB BECKER

Lilac Bushes Budding.

LILAC bushes in the farm yards are leading the parade of shrubs that are starting to bud. Green foliage is breaking through the opening buds on many bushes. Soft maple trees, flowering currant, and white bridal wreath bushes also are starting to bud.

Warm weather a week ago hastened this budding and the farm hopes unseasonable warmth will not recur.

Last year the weather played a mean trick on the cherry trees, the thornapples, wild grapes, wild crab trees, and other vines and shrubs that bear fruits or berries in the fall. Reacting to the stimulus of unseasonably warm weather the vegetation spurted ahead of its usual growth schedule. Then came cold weather in April which nipped them. As a result fruit bearing shrubs and trees produced practically no fruit last fall.

A Raccoon Remembers.

The unusual behavior of a pet raccoon owned by a neighboring farmer aroused considerable interest this week. This coon, which was tamed and made a pet, had just returned to the farmer's yard after an absence of three years, thus demonstrating that it has a remarkable memory.

The raccoon was caught about three years ago. The farmer took it home, fed it, and eventually tamed it. Later he put a dog collar around the coon's neck. The pet stayed near the house for several months. Then it disappeared. When it returned this week it still wore its collar.

Inclement weather couldn't keep the song birds quiet this week. The meadowlarks, cardinals, bluebirds, song sparrows, and other migrants and permanent bird residents continued to sing their spring melodies even on days that were anything but balmy. The bluebird, one of the first birds to move in to Chicagoland each spring, is the most brightly colored of all the feathered visitors from the south.

The First Bluebirds.

By standing immobile against an oak tree we saw a pair, male and female, last week and heard their singing at its best. Our sharp high pitched whistles caught their attention. The female, inconspicuous compared with the vivid blue plumage of the male, was intrigued by our whistling. She came within ten feet of us. But the male, a little more cautious, stayed back about fifteen feet, cocked his head, sounded an alarm note telling his mate to hustle, and away they flew to another part of the farm. It's fortunate for farmers that bluebirds will take nesting boxes, especially those placed in orchards. A pair or two of these beautiful birds will destroy thousands of insects that prey on fruit trees.

CHICAGO BANKS' LOANS RISE 13 MILLION IN 1939

Deposit Total Falls Below 1938 Peak.

Bank loans increased 13 million dollars in Chicago in the first three months of 1939. This was disclosed in March 29 statements of conditions issued yesterday by the banks in response to calls made by the national controler of the currency and the state auditor.

Total deposits in the city's banks were lower than the record level reached at the close of 1938, but savings deposits, which have been rising steadily for several years, reached the highest figure since 1931.

Loans and discounts of the 57 reporting banks aggregated $632,901,000 on March 29. The total was $619,676,000 on Dec. 31, 1938. The present total is about 50 million dollars less than the amount outstanding a year ago.

Deposits Fall 300 Millions.

Deposits fell about $300,000,000 from the Dec. 31 level, totaling $3,089,735,000 on March 29. The deposits of $3,385,453,000 at the close of 1938 were the largest in the history of the city's banks.

The decline in deposits was almost entirely accounted for by the withdrawal of funds in the last few days in anticipation of the April 1 tax assessment on personal property. Annually money moves out of the state as the tax date approaches, returning later as out of state corporations build up their balances again and individuals cash in their temporary investments in short term tax exempt securities.

Doubled Since 1932.

Savings deposits on March 29 totaled $581,373,000, an increase of approximately $7,000,000 from the end of last year. Savings deposits have doubled since 1932. In September, 1932, the aggregate savings deposits of Chicago banks were $282,000,000.

Bank investments in government securities declined in the first quarter of the year but still represented a large part of total loans and investments. A total of $1,192,976,000 of government securities was owned by the banks on March 29, compared with holdings of $1,209,100,000 on Dec. 31, 1938. More than a third of the deposits are invested in government securities.

Big Banks' Loans Rise.

Most of the big downtown banks reported an expansion in loans during the quarter. Exceptions were the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the Harris Trust and Savings bank. The Continental's loans and discounts on March 31 amounted to $163,350,000 compared with $166,296,000 a year earlier. Harris' total loans and discounts fell to $52,321,000 from $54,200,000 at the end of 1938.

Loans and discounts of the First National Bank rose to $229,354,000 from $221,077,000. The Northern Trust company reported an increase to $36,871,000 from $32,881,000. The City National Bank and Trust company and the American National Bank and Trust company also reported upturns in loans and discounts.

GRAIN MARKETS CONTINUE RISE ON WAR THREAT

Grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade moved up small fractions of a cent a bushel yesterday. Buying was induced by war threats in Europe and a continued decline in securities.

Closing trades on wheat futures were ⅛ to ¼ cent higher. Trading was fairly active within a range of ⅝ to ½ cent. Large selling orders were encountered at 68 cents and over for the May delivery, which checked the upturn. Corn was unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

Oats finished unchanged to ⅛ cent lower. May oats closed ⅛ cent above the price prevailing a year ago. No. 1 white oats sold in the sample market at 34 cents a bushel, a new high since April, 1938.

Europe showed the first evidence yesterday of being anxious to secure supplies of North American cash wheat for forward shipment. Sales of Canadian grain were estimated at 1,000,000 bushels, the largest day's business in more than two months. An undisclosed amount of domestic wheat was reported sold from the Pacific coast and Gulf of Mexico ports.

Oklahoma Man to Seek Banker Association Post

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Henry W. Koeneke, president of the Security bank of Ponca City, Okla., has consented to stand for election to the second vice presidency of the American Bankers association at its convention in Seattle, Wash., next September. This was announced today by Harry A. Bryant, chairman of the executive committee of the state bank division of the association.

American Firms Increase War Marine Insurance

New York, March 31.—(AP)—Leading American marine insurance underwriters decided today to increase certain unannounced war risk rates. The increases will go into effect next Monday, just one week after the latest rise in war risk rates. One underwriting official said a formal announcement of the new rates probably would be made tomorrow.

Two Brokers Suspended by N.Y. Exchange

New York, March 31.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange announced tonight the suspension of Stephen Paine for three years and Frank R. Hope for six months. Both men are partners of the big stock exchange firm of Paine, Webber & Co., which has offices in nineteen cities.

S. Leo Solomont indicted on trust charges.

Hope is a member of the exchange. Paine is amenable to the exchange's disciplinary action under a rule classing all partners in stock exchange firms as "allied members."

The suspensions were based on charges that the two men did not exercise diligence in certain transactions involving the control of investment trusts. No allegations involving dishonesty were made against either individual or the firm.

Loans Cause Complaint.

The charges were an outgrowth of complaints made a year ago concerning "certain advances or loans by the firm of Paine, Webber & Co. for the account of certain individuals which were for the purchase of control" of several investment trusts.

The exchange charge against Paine was "that he had been guilty of conduct or proceedings inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade . . . in that he should have prevented certain advances or loans . . . used for the purchase of control of Continental Securities corporation, Insuranshares Corporation of Delaware, and Burco, Inc., investment trusts. Securities from the portfolios of these investment trusts were used as collateral to secure such advances or loans and later sold in order to liquidate such advances or loans."

"Aware of Circumstances."

A second specification was that Paine was "aware of circumstances which in the exercise of ordinary diligence demanded an investigation, and failed to make a proper investigation."

The charge against Hope was that he knew facts "in the light of which should have prevented a loan . . . for the purchase of control of Burco, Inc."

Five individuals and a Canadian holding company they created—Northern Fiscal corporation, Ltd.—were indicted today for mail fraud and conspiracy in a scheme by which the government claims $1,425,000 was abstracted from three investment trusts they acquired. This figure was given by Hugh A. Fulton and Morris E. Spector, assistants to United States Attorney John T. Cahill.

Names of Indicted Men.

Those billed were Ralph H. Robb, Thomas W. Morris, and S. Leo Solomont, all Boston lawyers; William A. Gutekunst, former manager of Bond and Share Trading corporation, and Howard F. Hansell Jr. of Canada.

Robb, Morris and Solomont specifically were accused of having obtained from Paine, Webber & Co. $650,000 in loans to enable them to acquire Insuranshares corporation of Delaware and Burco, Inc., and of repaying the money through the sale of securities taken from the portfolios of those trusts.

New York Bank Clearings Total Falls in Last Week

The New York Clearing House association reported yesterday that clearings in the week ended March 31 totaled $3,048,574,229, a decline from $3,242,240,597 in the preceding week.

INTEREST, DIVIDEND PAYMENTS FOR APRIL PUT AT $475,858,000

New York, March 31.—[Special.]—Interest and dividend payments in April will total $475,858,000, according to an estimate made today by the Journal of Commerce. Payments in the same month last year were $485,817,000.

The summary placed dividends payments for the coming month at $247,230,000. Of this total $108,035,000 is from the industrial group, $88,283,000 from the utilities, $36,288,000 financial firms, and $14,624 from the railroads.

Interest payment in April are expected to total $228,628,000, compared with $217,733,000 a year ago. Utilities will again lead the interest paying group with payments of $47,340,000. Rails are expected to disburse $34,814,000 and the industrials $19,614,000. Interest on foreign bonds will be $30,420,000, on state and municipal issues $42,440,000, and on obligations of the federal government $53,000,000.

The revised dividend figure for March was $248,392,000.

TAXES EAT UP $1 OF EACH $6 TAKEN IN BY BIG UTILITY

Taxes consumed $1 of each $6 in revenues of the Louisville Gas and Electric company in 1938, T. B. Wilson, president, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders. Since 1933, there has been an increase of 70 per cent in the company's annual tax bill.

The 1938 total was $1,688,176, compared with $957,945 in 1933. Federal taxes made the largest proportionate advance, rising from $315,214 in 1933 to $661,530 last year.

The 1938 pamphlet report showed net income of $1,197,005 after all charges, including subsidiaries' preferred dividends, compared with $1,178,452 in 1937. The same figures were shown in a preliminary report published previously.

U. S. Ties Up Nazi Credits to Collect Tax

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 31.—The United States treasury today took action to impound credits of the German Reichsbank held in the New York Federal Reserve bank in order to force settlement of income tax claims against the Nazi central bank.

Officials insisted that the action was a routine matter and had no diplomatic significance. A treasury spokesman said that it was not intended as a "sequel" to recent actions taken against the Nazi government, such as the imposition of an added 25 per cent in penalty duties against imports from Germany and her newly acquired territory.

"Commercial Tax Claim."

"The Reichsbank is a commercial institution and this is strictly a commercial tax claim," the official said. "It has no governmental aspects whatever."

However, it was difficult to deny that the action was timely in view of growing resentment against German aggression and the increased gold stocks of the Nazi government resulting from seizures in her new domains.

The treasury said that the bureau of internal revenue filed a lien on March 15 in the federal court against German balances and that the action was taken to enforce collection of income tax claims against the Reichsbank.

$144,454 Is Involved.

The treasury said that the Reichsbank owed this government taxes on income from commercial transactions in the United States from 1924-'27 inclusive. The federal government originally claimed $125,000, but accrued interest raised the sum to $144,454.

The controversy has been under negotiation for some time, officials explained, but the bureau decided to file a lien now to prevent the case from being outlawed by the statute of limitations.

Trend of Chicago Business Improves During February

Business indices turned upward in February, reversing the trend of January, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday in its monthly analysis of economic trends. Most of the figures showed advances both over January, 1939, and February, 1939.

Sharpest gains were recorded in new building projects, which gained about 133 per cent by comparison with January; in bank clearings, pig iron production, and postal receipts. The association termed significant a boost in less-than-carlot shipments of railway freight, and an upturn in electric power production.

Almost 25 per cent more new automobiles were purchased in Cook county during February than in the corresponding 1938 month. Declines were shown in live stock slaughtered at the Chicago stockyards, airplane trafic, department store sales, and factory pay rolls.

The association added a new feature to its summary—a compilation of tax payments on retail purchases, which showed a reduction of 3½ per cent from February, 1938. The number of families on relief in Cook county increased, but there were fewer relief families in other Illinois counties.

BIG COMPANIES REPORT POORER RESULTS IN '38

Earnings Lower or Losses Incurred.

Stockholders were given bad news yesterday in the annual reports of a number of large companies. Losses were shown for 1938 by the Hudson Motor Car company, the Boeing Airplane company, and the Interlake Iron corporation. The Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting company reported sharply reduced profits, and two of the three copper companies issuing reports revealed losses.

Hudson Motor Car and subsidiary companies operated in 1938 at a net loss of $4,670,004, contrasted with net profits in 1937 of $670,716. The report listed the year's taxes at $2,211,335.

Boeing Airplane Has Loss.

Boeing Airplane and subsidiaries reported a net loss of $554,958 for 1938, after charges which included provision of $488,068 for reserve on flying boat inventory. The company, whose principal manufacturing plant is at Seattle, Wash., had net income of $311,683 in 1937, equal to 45 cents a share.

BROKERS CALLED TO REREGISTER UNDER STATE LAW

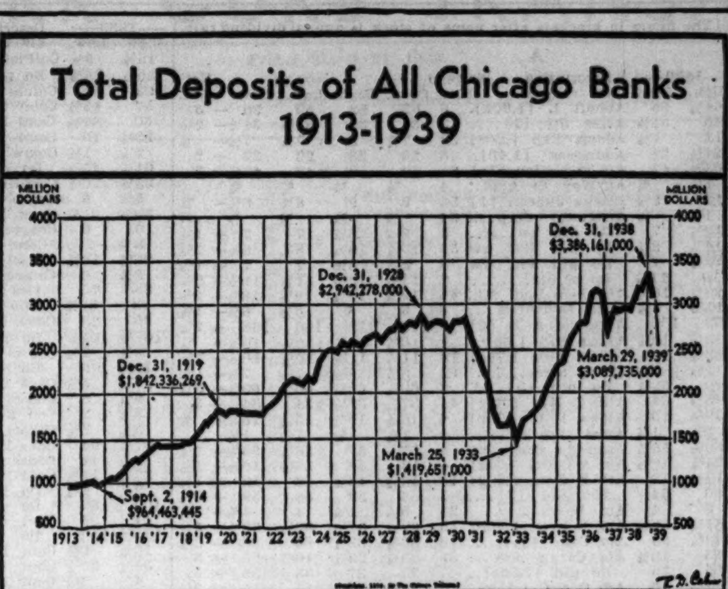
Application forms have been sent to more than 500 Illinois brokers and investment dealers for reregistration under provisions of the state securities law, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced yesterday. The applications must be approved by July 1.

Members of the Springfield office staf will be available next Thursday and Friday at the secretary's Chicago headquarters, 10 South La Salle street, for assistance in filling out Chicagoans' forms.

Hughes pointed out that Illinois pioneered in requiring independently audited statements of registrants. Requirements for reregistration are virtually the same as those of last year, he said.

Inland Steel Stockholders Approve Wilson Purchase

Inland Steel company stockholders at a special meeting in Chicago yesterday approved a plan to acquire the Wilson & Bennett Manufacturing company, Chicago. They approved an issue of 50,000 shares of Inland stock of which 45,000 shares will be used to exchange for all the issued shares of Wilson & Bennett, manufacturer of steel drums, barrels and pails.



Influx of Gold Is 116 Million in Last 2 Days

Foreign gold estimated at $116,000,000 has arrived at the port of New York in the last two days. This is believed to be an all-time record for any similar period. This flight of capital to America for safe keeping was attributed in financial circles to fears of war in Europe.

About $32,000,000 arrived in the strong rooms of the liner Aquitania and an additional $700,000 aboard the Black Osprey yesterday. The liner Manhattan unloaded an estimated $56,500,000 yesterday to set a new record for a single vessel. The French liner Normandie hauled $26,000,000. The previous record was set in 1934 when the North German Lloyd's Europa brought $55,000,000 on a single trip.

Much of Metal "Stored."

A large part of the gold arriving in New York has been "earmarked" [stored] at the Federal Reserve bank to be held there for foreign owners, presumably central banks The huge shipments, traders say, have been carried out principally by central banks in Europe for the purpose of maintaining a cash position for emergency purchases of foodstuffs and raw materials in the event of war. The New York Federal Reserve bank announced the engagement of $612,000 more gold in England for shipment to this country.

Stevedores took four hours to unload the Manhattan's cargo. It was carried in armored trucks escorted by police radio cars and automobiles filled with armed detectives to the United States assay office. Each truck carried about $4,000,000. These carloads form part of the $2,000,000,000 which has been sent to this country since the war crisis last September touched off the largest movement of gold in history.

Another "50 Million Week."

The commerce department in Washington announced that gold imports in the week ended March 24 amounted to $53,009,263. This was the third consecutive week in which more than $50,000,000 gold was received.

The commerce department's report showed that $630 of gold from Czecho-Slovakia came to this country during the week. The shipment, however, probably started before Chancellor Hitler confiscated the Czech gold reserve.

Foreign exchange trading at New York was almost at a standstill yesterday. The British pound declined ⅛ cent to $4.68⅛. The French franc was unchanged at 2.64⅝ cents. Swiss currency, which touched a low for the year on Wednesday, recovered 0.01 cent at 22.43 cents. The belga dipped slightly. The Dutch guilder was narrowly higher.

WEEK'S BUSINESS OF DEPARTMENT STORES EXPANDS

National sales of department stores in the week ended March 25 rose 2 per cent from those in the same 1938 week, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. In the preceding week sales gained 5 per cent.

In the four weeks ended March 25, store trade was 4 per cent ahead of that in the corresponding 1938 period.

Sales in the 7th federal reserve district [Chicago area] improved 1.6 per cent. Stores in Chicago proper registered a gain of 3.7 per cent.

Indianapolis trade rose 13.5 per cent and Detroit 2.2 per cent. Milwaukee sales slumped 17.4 per cent.

Automobile Output Falls; Still Exceeds Year Ago

Automobile production this week dropped to 85,890 units from 89,400 units last week, Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., said yesterday. The decline was attributed to manufacturer's balancing schedules against orders and stocks in the field. In the like 1938 week 57,500 units were produced.

BUSINESS BITS

James F. Slack, former manager of the home office agency of the Continental Assurance company, has been appointed manager of the life department of Moore, Case. Lyman & Hubbard.

Jason Hurley, national field sales manager of the Electric Household Utilities corporation, has been elected a vice president of the company.

Joseph J. Gross, formerly associated with the Armored Express corporation, has been elected assistant to the president of the Central National bank.

Claude J. Jackson, vice president, and Charles D. Andrest have been added to the board of the Chicago, South Shore, and South Bend railroad.

THREE RAILROADERS, WITH TOTAL SERVICE OF 135 YEARS, RETIRE

Three railroaders whose total service amounts to 135 years retired yesterday in Chicago, Aurora, and Blue Island.

A. C. Hagensick of Milwaukee, who has commuted to Chicago each weekday for ten years, completed his work as assistant secretary of the Milwaukee road. He is 78 years old and had been with the road for forty years. Since 1929, when his offices were moved from Milwaukee to the Union station here, he estimates he has traveled half a million miles to and from work. He never missed a day, and was late only once. Forgot to wind his watch.

August C. Kistner. John Kurns. A. C. Hagensick.

John Kurns of Aurora, 70, wound up fifty years with the Burlington railway by making his last official run from Chicago to Savanna. He returned to Chicago in the cab on the afternoon Zephyr, with his wife at his side and his family elsewhere in the train. Kurns became a fireman on Nov. 1, 1889 and was promoted to engineer on Oct. 15, 1898. He became a Zephyr pilot in 1935.

August C. Kistner, 65, of Blue Island was kept busy yesterday saying good-by to and getting gifts from passenger friends he has made during his forty-five years as conductor with the Rock Island on the Chicago run. His home is at 2057 Grove street, Blue Island, and he has lived in the suburb for fifty-eight years.

COAL PAY PACT EXPIRES; RESUME PARLEYS TODAY

New York, April 1 [Saturday].—(AP)—The labor contract covering 338,000 Appalachian soft coal miners producing 70 per cent of the nation's supply expired at midnight last night. Mine operators and United Mine Workers' union officials adjourned their conference over a new contract at 12:45 this morning without comment. The meeting will be resumed at 11 o'clock this morning.

The miners will not return to work Monday without some kind of contract, union officials have said, but no immediate public effect was expected from the possible stoppage because soft coal is used principally in industry, which has a seven weeks supply.

No statement came from the conferees as the deadline passed. Earlier in the evening they had separated into their respective groups for private discussions, returning later to the joint meeting.

Mines will be closed today in observance of the advent of the shorter work day, an annual miners' holiday.

NO CLOSING IN ILLINOIS.

Although their contracts with coal operators expired at midnight last night, the 40,000 union coal miners of Illinois will continue operations under extensions of contracts previously agreed upon, it was announced yesterday. M. F. Peltier, president, and Fred S. Wilkey, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, reached an accord with the United Mine Workers of America. Another group of operators extended their expiring agreement with the Progressive Mine Workers.

STOCKS PLUNGE AS WAR FRIGHT GRIPS TRADERS

Market Is Swept by Selling Waves.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 31.—The stock market cracked wide open today under an onslaught of foreign and domestic selling as the result of fears that the European situation was nearing an acute stage.

With trading more active than it has been in many days, prices of standard issues dropped 2 to 6 points, while some of the more volatile issues slumped as much as 10 points. Many new lows for the year or longer were recorded as the list dropped to its lowest level since the "Munich crisis" last September.

Transactions totaled 2,888,390 shares. The trading list broadened to 997 issues, of which 892 declined, a mere 30 advanced, and 75 closed unchanged.

Stocks Firmer Early in Day.

Stocks opened fractions to around a point higher under the lead of firmer European markets. For the next hour, issues made further small gains in quiet trading.

Thereafter several heavy selling attacks hit the market. In short order all previous gains were wiped out and losses substituted.

The developments regarded as the chief unsettling factors were:

1. The decision of England and France to fight Germany if she attacks Poland.
2. Reports from Berlin that Chancellor Hitler will have "plenty to say" regarding the Anglo-French decision.
3. Reports that President Roosevelt had informed friends that German seizures indicated a desire to dominate the world.

How Active Stocks Fared.

The day's most active stocks, with net price changes and total turnover, were as follows:

	Volume.	Close.	Net chge.
General Motors	67,500	41¼	— 2⅛
U. S. Steel	60,000	50	— 2⅛
U. S. Rubber	59,800	36⅝	— 2⅝
Chrysler	46,400	67½	— 3⅛
N. Y. Central	44,600	14¼	— 1⅛
Com. and Sou.	41,500	1¼	— ⅛
Radio Corporation	40,500	6	— ¼
Anaconda Copper	32,500	23¼	— 2
General Electric	31,800	34¼	— 2¼
Bethlehem Steel	31,600	59¼	— 2⅝
Columbia G. and E.	31,300	6	— ¼
Republic Steel	29,900	15⅝	— 1⅜

All classes of stocks were affected by the selling. Railroad and utility issues followed the industrials downward, and their average prices at the close were the lowest of the year. Big losers included Douglas Aircraft, off 4⅛ points; Texas corporation, 2⅝ points; Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward, each off more than 2 points; American Smelting, 4 points; Sperry, United Aircraft and Boeing, each off more than 2 points.

Railway Leaders Slump.

Union Pacific was off 4 points; Santa Fe, off 2¼; Southern Railway, 2¼; Southern Pacific, off 1¼; Consolidated Edison, 1¼; North American company, 1½, and Engineers Public Service, 1⅛.

Among volatile and high priced issues, Wright Aero lost 10⅞ points; United States Gypsum slumped 8; Johns Manville, 6; American Telephone and Telegraph, 3⅞; Allied Chemical, 2¼; Du Pont, 4½; Case, 5, and American Can, 2¾ points.

Measured by the Dow-Jones averages, the industrial section gave up 4.85 points, to 131.84. The rail group lost 2.23 to 26.38. The utility section closed at 21.70 for a loss of 1.38 points.

Two memberships in the New York Stock exchange sold today, each successively, at a record low price for the year. A morning transfer was made at $58,000, a drop of $2,000 from the preceding transaction, and a later sale was effected at $55,000.

San Francisco Market Lower.

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—(AP)—Stock prices followed the New York trend in the year's most active trading here today but the decline stopped abruptly after the Wall street close. Final prices here differed only negligently from those in New York.

Foreign Markets Rally.

LONDON, March 31.—[Special.]—Prime Minister Chamberlain's pledge to aid Poland in case of aggression brought a rally to the declining stock market today. Trans-Atlantic issues gained sharply.

The Paris bourse turned strong near the close in quick reaction to the British move against aggressor nations.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, March 31.—(AP)—The week's retreat in bond prices continued today at accelerated tempo as nervous selling came into all sections of the list.

Transactions totaled $10,276,850 face value, the largest for several months in a declining market. Yesterday's dealings came to $6,377,000.

Sellers seemed to take alarm from the stock market's pessimistic interpretation of European events, and fears of trouble deepened with pronounced weakness of bonds of Italy and Poland, and the Yugoslav Bank 7s. Rails were squarely in the selling path.

United States government bonds also declined after moving ahead recently in the face of weakness in corporate liens. Treasuries finished 1-32 to 14-32 point lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks weakened in the wave of selling which swept all security markets yesterday. Bendix Aviation fell 2 points, Great Lakes Dredge lost nearly as much, and Marshall Field declined 1¼.

Commonwealth Edison, most active issue on the list, declined 1¼ points to 26½ on sales of 6,500 shares. Middle West, second in point of volume, dipped ¾. Zenith was well supported following Thursday's announcement of increased operations and closed unchanged.

Trading volume increased to 76,000 shares and involved 174 issues, of which 143 declined, 24 closed unchanged, and only 7 advanced. The Chicago Tribune average of leading issues closed at 9.76, compared with 10.51 on Thursday.

Trading on the exchange during March totaled 754,000 shares, compared with 486,000 in February and 693,000 in March, 1938. For the first three months of 1939 volume increased to 2,026,000 shares from 1,695,000 in 1938.

Bank Stocks.

A flurry of trading in Continental Illinois shares yesterday reduced the closing bids $2. American National and Northern Trust shares declined $5; First National, $3, and Chicago Title and City National, $1.

Commodities

Commodity markets were able to show some resistance to the selling which lowered security prices yesterday, but the majority of staples declined in value. Sugar was an exception, holding firm to slightly higher on trade and Cuban buying.

Wool tops, silk, and cocoa showed a mixed trend, closing prices representing both modest gains and losses by comparison with Thursday's final rates. Rubber fell 0.04 to 0.09 cent, cottonseed oil 0.03 to 0.08 cent, and coffee 0.03 to 0.07 cent.

The membership of the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange passed the new coffee "A" contract, which will replace the present Rio contract.

The Asosciated Press commodity average fell to a new low for the year at 65.53 per cent of the 1926 average, off 0.10 from Thursday. The Dow-Jones average was down 0.12 to 47.40.

COTTON

Cotton futures declined in early trading yesterday in sympathy with Liverpool and securities, but rallied later on mill and commission house buying. Liverpool and Bombay sold early. Closing trades were unchanged to .07 cent a pound higher.

The department of agriculture may attempt to sell some of the government loan cotton today with the assistance of a subsidy it was rumored. Liverpool cables said it was understood the Egyptian and Indian governments were contemplating retaliatory action if the United States subsidized exports of cotton.

Spot cotton closed .03 to .07 cent higher with New York, 8.83 cents; New Orleans, 8.59 cents; Houston, 8.35 cents and Galveston at 8.33 cents a pound prices follow:

VAN SWERINGEN UNITS RUN INTO NEW TROUBLES

C. & O. Is Sued; Alleghany Reports 1938 Loss.

Cleveland, O., March 31.—[Special.]—Properties of the former Van Sweringen railroad system produced two adverse news items today. A stockholder's suit was filed against the Chesapeake and Ohio, most lucrative line of the former system, and Alleghany corporation reported a 1938 net loss. Alleghany corporation is nominally the system's top holding company.

The stockholder's suit asks an accounting and restitution of losses allegedly entailed in Chesapeake and Ohio's purchase of control of the Erie and Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroads. The suit is filled against the Chesapeake and Ohio and 18 of its present and former directors.

Alleghany corporation reported a 1938 net loss of $1,994,861, which compared with a net profit of $9,780,560 in 1937.

Investments Shrink Sharply.

Indicated Dec. 31, 1938, market value of the corporation's securities held as investments was $70,716,125. Their cost was $166,749,076. This is exclusive of those securities held by Alleghany's subsidiary, Terminal Shares, Inc.

Alleghany's 1938 total income was $2,428,129, against $13,953,006 in 1937, when the company received a dividend of 255,600 shares of Chesapeake and Ohio common stock on its holdings of 1,278,000 shares. The stock dividend was carried at $9,776,700.

In 1938, the company also had a loss of $29,612,125 on its sale of Erie Railroad and Nickel Plate shares to the Chesapeake and Ohio under an option exercised last Jan. 29. This was not included in the consolidated income account, but was carried separately in its earned surplus account.

Charges Illegal Stock Purchase.

Irving D. Karpas, New York, filed the common pleas court suit against the Chesapeake and Ohio. He said he held 730 Chesapeake and Ohio common shares. Attorneys said a similar suit was filed in New York city today.

Karpas contended that purchase of more than 10 per cent control of a railroad was illegal at the time Chesapeake and Ohio bought Erie and Chicago and Eastern Illinois without interstate commerce commission authority, and that the purchases made through a holding company, thus also were illegal.

Both Erie and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois are in reorganization. Chesapeake and Ohio acquired voting control of Erie in 1925, and of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois several years later through an option contract which Karpas contended was a subterfuge to cloak Chesapeake and Ohio's interest.

"TRADING ON EQUITY."

Investors' Guide: Can you tell me what is meant by the expression "trading on equity"? I am told that one reason so many railroads are in financial difficulties is that they have traded so heavily on their equity, but it is not clear to me just how this works. The expression refers to the type of financing used by a company, doesn't it?—H. K. T.

Answer: Trading on equity really means the borrowing of money, usually by the sale of bonds. The "equity" is the common stock, which serves as a cushion or protection to those who lend to the company by buying bonds. A hypothetical case will explain the method.

Suppose that stockholders have invested 10 million dollars in a corporation that has been fortunate enough to average a profit of $800,000 a year or a return of 8 per cent on invested capital. No bonds have been issued.

The directors believe, moreover, that if 5 million dollars more were invested in the business, profits would increase correspondingly, that is by 50 per cent to a total of $1,200,000 a year. If this 5 million dollars more of capital stock is sold, the rate of return to stockholders will still be 8 per cent, based on the directors' estimates.

The company can, however, borrow 5 million dollars by selling 5 per cent bonds. Then it would pay $250,000 in bond interest and the remaining $150,000 gain in profits resulting from the new capital would go to the old stockholders. The rate of return to stockholders would thus be increased from 8 to 9.5 per cent by trading on equity. This sounds good for the shareholders. Also they are able to retain their proportionate "equity" without investing more money.

But of course, if profits go down, trading on equity has an unfortunate result for stockholders. For example, depressions or other factors might upset the directors' predictions and the company, in spite of the new capital investment, might have income of only $550,000 before paying interest. Then, the bondholders would get their 5 per cent return of $250,000, but stockholders would have only $300,000 or a 3 per cent return.

Many railroads, as you say, have traded heavily on their equities by financing with large bond issues. The resulting "fixed charges" for interest have recently been too heavy in many cases for the reduced earning power of the roads.

Some carriers have not had enough income to pay the bond interest, much less net a return for shareholders. Others have paid the fixed charges, but had little or nothing left for the owners, or stockholders.

RAIL EARNINGS, TRAFIC BETTER THAN YEAR AGO

Several Roads Report Gains Recently.

The nation's railroads have fared better recently, it was indicated yesterday in statements issued at Washington by the heads of a number of systems.

Gross revenues of the Pennsylvania in the first half of March were about 15 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year, according to M. W. Clement, president. For the first two months of 1939, the system had net income of $943,713, against a net loss of $3,689,620 in the first two months of last year.

Union Pacific Earns More.

Net income of the Union Pacific amounted to $492,416 in the first two months of the year, against $356,144 in the same period of 1938.

H. A. Scandrett, trustee of the Milwaukee road, said the company's March gross revenues exceeded last year's by 7 or 8 per cent.

J. B. Hill, president of the Louisville & Nashville, asserted the road's first quarter earnings will be "decidedly better" than those of last year, and added March car loadings were up around 15 per cent. Better operations were also reported for the Erie, Lehigh Valley, Boston & Maine, and St. Louis-Southwestern systems.
